A Booklet on Nfld.

Our congratulations are extended to Mr. P. H. Cowan, operator of the Nfld. Sales Counter at Wembley, on the production of a very attractive souvenir booklet of Newfoundland, a copy of which we received by last mail. Its 56 pages are profusely illustrated by photographic reproductions, and contains a number of splendid articles on our resources and tourist attractions. Mr. H. W. LeMessurier gives a clear cut account of Newfoundland and its status as Britain's Oldest Colony; data on the Sealing Industry is given by Mr. Levi Chafe, who is regarded as the foremost authority here on this subject; Judge Morris writes entertainingly on Trout and Salmon Fishing; Sir Patrick McGrath gives a review of Newfoundland's Part in the World's Progress, and Newfoundland at Wembley by Mr. D. Jas. Davies, Exhibition Commissioner, and Beaumont Hamel Memorial are also attractively set forth. A poem, Song of Avalon by R. G. MacDonald completes the list of contributions.

In a covering letter which we received with the magazine the author says: "We are doing our best to boost Newfoundland on this side of the water, and hope things are going well with our friends at home." There is no doubt but that such productions as Mr. Cowan's souvenir book will be of material help in this direction.

Message from Departing Visitors.

On the eve of the departure of the Imperial Parliamentary Delegation from Newfoundland, the Prime Minister received the following message from Captain Douglas King, the Chairman:—

PORT AUX BASQUES, Sept. 8. To Premier Monroe.

"On leaving the shores of Newfoundland the British Delegates tender their heartfelt thanks for all the kindness and hospitality shown to them, and hope their visit may tend to strengthen the bonds of Empire by mutual understanding and personal friendships."

DOUGLAS KING.

The Re-opening of the Schools.

To-day the various schools re-open after the long vacation, long, that is, as measured in days and weeks and as compared with other holidays in the school year, but by no means regarded as of interminable length by those who have been enjoying a rest from their labours. We are convinced, however, that even the students, loath as they may feel to bring to a conclusion the pleasures and delights of the summer relaxation, find in the reunion a great deal of pleasure and happy anticipation. To-day school life has little of the dread and arouses none of the misgiving that was associated with it in former days. Even the child making its first entry into this new world looks forward to it with eagerness, although perhaps with a certain amount of trepidity, and for the more experienced students it means reunion with friends, an exchange of experiences, the assuming of a position of greater importance in their respective spheres, and an opportunity to reach the aims of their ambitions.

There is no question that the work that lies in front of the diligent student is hard, harder in fact than it was in the days of students of our generation, but there are also many compensating advantages which we did not enjoy and many rewards that were not available then, and of the system which is followed in the schools of the city this much can be said with certainty, that nothing is left undone by the capable staffs in charge not only to develop a high mental physical standard of fitness, but to inculcate into the students the loftiest ideals of virtue and citizenship.

In welcoming both teachers and pupils back, we wish them god-speed in the work in which they are engaged.

Re-Opening of Church of England Colleges.

This morning at 9.15 Bishop Field College re-opened after the Summer vacation and the attendance for the first day was unusually large.

The pupils and staff having assembled in the Hall, Rev. Canon Bolt who was present with a large number of the other Directors recited prayers and afterwards delivered a short address. In welcoming the school back, he expressed his regret at the absence of the Bishop who was visiting another part of the Diocese, and spoke a few words of sound practical advice to the students. The Principal, Mr. R. R. Wood, B.A., then gave a brief summary of the examination results which showed that the school had been remarkably successful in the various grades. He extended a warm welcome to Mr. Chawood, the new Physics and Mathematical Master, and referred to the retirement of Mr. I. J. Samson, after 25 years of faithful service.

Dr. W. W. Blackall, Supt. of Education, and Dr. Pacey, the Secretary of the Board of Directors, also spoke a word of welcome and congratulated the pupils and staff on the successful year's work.

At the conclusion Rev. Canon Bolt announced that as soon as the preliminary arrangements for starting work had been made, the school would be dismissed until tomorrow.

SPENCER COLLEGE.

The Directors then proceeded to Spencer College, where they were received by Miss Cherrington, the Principal. The students then filed into the assembly hall from the various class rooms under the direction of the different teachers and prayers were read by Rev. Canon Bolt. Having warmly welcomed both the pupils and staff he requested Miss Cherrington to read her report of the work of the past year and the examination results, both of which showed the high standard of excellence which had been attained. Miss Cherrington announced that the following had been appointed to the staff: Miss C. Gould, B.A.; Miss Thomas, Physical Culture Diploma; Miss Carmichael, M.A.; and Miss Collins, Certificated Teacher; she heartily welcomed them to Spencer. She also thanked the Spencer Ladies' Association who were present in large numbers, for the valuable assistance they had given to the College and spoke in particular of the decorative work which had been done throughout the College during the holidays.

Both Canon Bolt and Dr. Blackall also paid a high tribute to the Association and warmly complimented the Principal, the staff and the pupils on the excellence of the report which had been presented. The visitors, following the dismissal of the pupils to their class rooms, inspected the building and expressed themselves as delighted with the beautiful appearance of the building, the system, of which there were visible indications everywhere, and the arrangements which had been made for the care and comfort of the students.

PEPPYS BEHIND THE SCENES

Sept. 7th.—This day my wife again on the subject of new clothes for the fall, nor may I avoid the discussion, being in the act of trimming my face, and was but finishing my lathering. Indeed, the wretch do know full well how to strike when opportunity offers, and so am compelled to listen to a catalogue of requirements that would indeed, so it seems, clothe the wives of a Turk for a decade. To stop her tongue I did promise her a cheque tomorrow, albeit I may ill afford it and needs satisfy myself with but 2 new suits and a top coat for myself this fall, to my great discontent. Yet methinks 'tis always the fate of a married man that he must ever sacrifice his own needs to the fad-rals that his wife but thinks she needs.

Anon abroad and to my barber's, to have my hair cut, and meeting there Canon Jervis he asks me if I am in search of ideas, to which I did make answer that I use only those ideas which come to me and if they do not come, then I do without them. At this, he asks me if I am conscious of quoting Douglas Jerrold on the same subject, which I was not, yet promises me to think that I did think of the same answer as so able a writer.

Do learn this day how Mr. Judson of the Furness Line, comes here on the "Sachem" and his business to make arrangements in connection with the tourist traffic for next year, which do seem a proof that we like to have a great influx of visitors, which methinks, will be to the great advantage of the country.

Obituary

VICTOR R. PILL.

News of the passing of Mr. Victor R. Pill, at Birmingham, Alabama, U.S.A., on August 29th, was received by mail yesterday. The deceased came to this country with his father who was a Cornish mining engineer, and received his education at the Methodist College. Subsequently he made his home in Alabama, U.S.A., where his wife died about five years ago. Returning to Newfoundland he was, in 1921, appointed as Auditor under the first railway commission. He continued in the employ of the Government during the second railway agreement, as controller of expenditure. Ill health compelled him to resign and seek his health abroad. He leaves many friends in the city who will regret to learn of his passing.

Escaped Prisoner Captured

The prisoner named Young, who made his escape from the penitentiary about three weeks ago, was captured yesterday at Tickle Harbour by Detective Bennett and Constable Seaward, and was brought to the city by train last night. It is reported that while the prisoner was at large, he stole a dory at Holyrood and rowed across the Bay into Trinity Bay. Nothing further had been heard of his movements until Friday last when the police received information that a man answering to Young's description had broken into a shop at Tickle Harbour and robbed a pair of boots. The police acting on the above information left town by train 1 o'clock Saturday, and after a brief search they were successful in rounding up their man.

Bungalow Auctioned

The Colonial design bungalow, on Waterford Bridge Road, owned by Mrs. J. Andrews, which was auctioned at noon to-day by Messrs. Dowden and Edwards, brought $7,200. The location is one of the best in the suburbs and the auction attracted a large number of interested parties.

FROM OUR FYLES of Thirty Years Ago.

Intelligence was received to-day of the seizure by a Canadian arrived schooner in charge of Capt. Wm. Howard of several Nfld. vessels, viz: the Telegram, belonging to J. Udell and the Canford, belonging to Penney of Carboneau. The seizures were made in the vicinity of Blanc Sablon. To-day's public dispatch does not throw much light on the matter further than saying, "Newfoundland fishermen were not seized on the Labrador, but were merely warned against violating the law." It may be added that for some time past there has been a small illicit trade carried on between Nfld. and Canadian fishermen in the locality referred to.

Partridge berries sold for 10c. per gallon to-day at M. A. Bastow's. Several naval officers were on Randall's wharf this forenoon taking observations of the sun, and engaged in elaborate calculations. They found the sun alright, so it appeared.
