PRIZE FIGHTERS HEAVILY INSURED.

SOUTH BEND, Oct. 5.—Signed articles held by a local syndicate to stage a heavyweight championship fight between Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills somewhere in the United States, some time in 1926, regarded with levity by eastern fight promoters, to-day were lent additional substance.

Matchmaker Floyd Fitzsimmons made application for life and accident insurance policies on the two principals in the total amount of $300,000 and had Wills examined for his insurance. Dempsey will be examined in Chicago Sunday. The six members of the syndicate had nothing more to say regarding their plans for time, place and referee, nor would they indicate the percentage basis upon which the services of the fighters were obtained.

ENGLISH FLAT RACING SEASON.

LONDON, Eng., Oct. 10.—(C.P.) Public interest is centered on the popular autumn "double" that will virtually bring to a close the English flat racing season of 1925. The historic Cesarewitch Stakes is to be run next Wednesday, Oct. 14, and the Cambridgehire on Oct. 28th, both at Turf headquarters. These two are the chief of the important autumn handicaps that close the season. Racing continues until the end of November, but there are only two or three races of any importance after the Cambridgehire has been decided.

James A. de Rothschild's four-year-old Vionnet, by Lorenz Viorne, and Lord Derby's four-year-old Mandelien, are outstanding contestants in the Cesarewitch. Vionnet was sixth in the race last year. They are not by any means heavily weighted, Vionnet being set to carry 11 lbs. and Mandelien 110. The official handicapper allotted top weight of 12 lbs. to both. Somerville Tattersall's four-year-old Hurstwood, by Gay Crusader-Bleasdale, and James White's four-year-old Cloudbank, by Nimbus-Berengere.

Cloudbank was given an extra ten pounds to carry as a result of his victory in the Prince Edward Handicap early last month.

Other outstanding horses, whose entries have to be considered in looking for a Cesarewitch winner, are J. Sherrard's Winalot, Somerville Tattersall's Baton Rouge, S. Cohen's Confirmation, Frank Curzon's Bellman and the Aga Khan's Jaldi. The three-year-old Zamboni, owned by H. H. Aga Khan, who has achieved a reputation for speed on the turf this season, will test his staying abilities in the race, one of the turf's most gruelling, over a course of two miles and a quarter.

In the Cambridgehire Twelve Pounder, the winner last year, and owned by the Duke of Westminster, has been given top weight of 13 pounds. Lord Derby's Pharois, and Sol Joel's Polyphontes are second and third in the table of weights, with 12 and 12 lbs. respectively. Fourth, with 12 lbs. is Lord Derby's Sansovino, winner of last year's Derby, who was withdrawn at the last moment from the Cesarewitch, indicating that his owner is concentrating on the later and shorter race. The Cambridgehire is a mile and a furlong race. Names of thoroughbreds that stand out in the list of entries for the Cambridgehire are those of Lady Nunburnholme's Amethystine, Mrs. J. Boncroft's Purple Shade, Charlie Howard's Priory Park, Lord Coventry's Verdict and J. Whitlock's Conductor.

The French invasion for the Cesarewitch dissolved into thin air with publication of the acceptance recently, when it was made known that six good French horses had been withdrawn. One of the six left in, Catalin, owned by M. K. Ekmayan, is perhaps the best. The French-trained Rose Prince won the event in 1923. Last year's winner was the Aga Khan's Charley's Mount, who died recently.

French competition for the Cambridgehire is more serious with Le Capucin, the highest of French-bred horses in the table of weights. Entered are Irismond, Premontre, Masked Marvel, and Conductor, besides others. Tapin, the most prominent of the French-trained entrants, and winner of the Lincolnshire, has, however, been withdrawn.

Bookmakers offer fabulous prizes to those lucky enough to pick the winner of both races which constitutes the "double." As for one horse winning both events in the same year, such a thing is almost unheard of, though it is always being attempted. Plaisanterie, in 1885, won both races, however, while Hackler's Pride won the Cambridgehire in 1903 and 1904, and Christmas Daisy in 1909 and 1910.

The Cesarewitch, one of the most coveted of the turf's trophies, even as it is one of the hardest to win, was established in 1839 by the then heir to the Russian throne, and was named after its founder.

It has been run continuously since then. The Cesarewitch is a handicap of 25 sovereigns each, with 1,000 sovereigns added and last year it had a value to the winner of £2,015.

MOUNT ALLISON BEATS MONCTON TEAM 12-0.

SACKVILLE, N.B., Oct. 3.—Mt. Allison opened the football season on home grounds this afternoon, scoring four unconverted tries over the Moncton team, while the boys from the hub of the Maritimes were unable to cross the collegians' line. Mt. Allison kicked off in a drizzling rain, which increased towards the end of the game. After considerable bucking by rival forwards the garnet and gold got the ball within striking distance of the Moncton line and after six minutes of play Mel Rice scored the first try of the game on a pass from Max Morris. Play zig-zagged from the Moncton's yard line to the midfield and twelve minutes from the whistle Hutcheson scored after receiving the ball from "Shorty" Stewart. The same player scored a few minutes later after a nice piece of half-line work. Play in the second period was somewhat ragged, although some good individual plays were carried out. The rain which had been steadily increasing made the ball somewhat slippery.

TITLE BOUT HINGES ON INDIANA LAW.

Governor Jackson May Place Liberal Interpretation On Dempsey.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 5.—Now that Dempsey and Wills have signed for a 10-round contest, in Michigan City next year, the construction of the Indiana boxing law by State officials becomes the paramount question.

The State law permits boxing contests while it prohibits prize fights. It falls, however to give a specific definition of either and in the past such definition has been left to the State Attorney General.

The no-decision contest between Dempsey and Bill Brennan, scheduled for Michigan City about three years ago was cancelled after Warren T. McCray, then Governor, threatened prosecution. The State Attorney General ruled that the contest would resolve itself into a prize fight, if, in the opinion of the State agents at the ringside is assumed a brutal aspect.

On the other hand the bout at Michigan City between Tommy Gibbons and Georges Carpentier was witnessed by a number of State officials and no effort was made to intervene. Whether Governor Jackson will take a liberal interpretation of the law is to be determined.

BASEBALL LEADERS CROWNED AS THE CURTAIN FALLS.

Hornshy, Hellman, Mostil, Carey, Meusel, Coveleskie, Sherdel, Bottomley and Cuyler New Champs.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The regular major league season has ended with the Senators and Pirates, now preparing for the post-season classic, in front of their respective packs by eight and one-half games each.

Three frames in each league were played as the curtain fell yesterday. So far as the standing was concerned, the only result was the Cubs drop into the cellar of the National League through a defeat by the Cardinals.

On the heels of the Senators and Mackmen, the St. Louis Browns and Detroit Tigers finished in order in the American League and will share in the world series spoils as well as the Red sand Cardinals, who trailed the Pirates and Giants in the first division of the National circuit.

Rogers Hornshy of the Cardinals led the National batting parade for the sixth successive year. His mark, .403, also made him one of the only three men to hit over .400 for three seasons. The others were Jesse Burkett and Ty Cobb.

Harry Hellman, Detroit outfielder, won the batting crown in the American League for the third time, with an average of .393.

Johnny Mostil, of the White Sox, captured the piffling honors in the American with 42 stolen bases. Max Carey of the Pirates led the senior circuit with 43 thefts.

Hornshy was crowned king of the home-run hitters in the majors with 39 blows, three less than his own National League record. Bob Meusel of the Yankees led in the American with 33 homers, while Babe, one time "Home Run King," finished in a dead-lock for second honors in his league with Ken Williams of the Browns, each having 25.

Stanley Coveleskie, of Washington, led the American League pitching with 20 victories and five defeats. Dazzy Vance, of Brooklyn, was beaten by Bill Sherdel, of the Cardinals, for honors in the National. Sherdel won 16 and lost 6, while Vance won 22 and lost 9.

Bottomley, of the Cardinals, collected the most hits in the National League, 227; while Al Simmons, of the Mackmen, rolled up 250 in his circuit. Cuyler, of the Pirates, led the run scorers, with 144, while Simmons accounted for 121.

THE TRAINS.—Thursday express arrived Port aux Basques 5.55 a.m. The express reached the city at 1.15 p.m.

TERRIFYING ORDEAL FOR SERVANT GIRL—RATES FOR COMPANIONS IN UTTER DARKNESS.

Astounding adventures of a Milanese domestic servant have stirred the imagination of all Italy. Virginia Goli, 30, had for eight years served the family of Signor Meyer, of Milan, and won the appreciation and affection of her employers. But, latterly, she had been afflicted with neurasthenia, and very early one morning, leaving a pathetic word of farewell in her room, she went out to seek death in the waters of the Naviglio, or Milan canal, into which she threw herself from the so-called Stross Bridge. Down this canal the woman was carried some way until a watchman espied her and attempted a rescue. He called two other bystanders, but none of the three could swim, and their efforts to throw ropes and sticks to the young woman were unavailing. To their horror they then saw she was being sucked towards the entrance of an underground channel system, into which she swiftly disappeared, calling frantically for help. At first the authorities were very sceptical of the chance of rescue, but after two days the woman's employer succeeded in overriding the objections of the engineers and the salvage brigade, and seven men of the latter corps were told to organise a search with the aid of a special drain expert. The scene of the search was an arched conduit some two miles in length while debouches at one end or to the Naviglio; at the other into marshy tracts outside the Porta Vittoria. The arch is about 6 ft. high and the water 2 ft. deep. The first efforts to advance were in vain owing to the force of the current and the Slimy Surface of the Floor.

Further authorities had to be invoked to secure the partial damming of the aperture. Slowly and painfully the salvagers advanced, causing consternation to legions of frogs, water-rats, and other more repugnant vermin crawling about the steps which flank the corridor. Contact was kept with another squadron overhead, to which signals from time to time communicated. At one point the frurpation of a natural stream threatened to render progress impossible, but with a skilful use of stout ropes the passage was effected. Shortly afterwards the waters bifurcated just before issuing into the open air. At this point a huddled form was perceived seated on the steps, with feet dangling in the water, and breath faintly pulsating. In response to shouts and efforts to bring her to reason, Virginia Goli replied with a low cry. She was carried to a point where she could be hoisted into the street through an aperture. The amazing thing, says the "Manchester Guardian," is that while all experts had declared that the victim must have been beaten to unconciousness by the terrible two-mile underground journey she was found almost unharmed, with even her clothes in tolerable order. The doctors suppose that she was rendered unconscious by fear, and was carried safely up to the point of frurpation of the natural stream. After that point the current is weaker, and the woman, suddenly awaking, was able to drag herself to the steps, where for 48 hours she sat in complete darkness above the slimy stream.

Battle With a Bear

BUTEDALE, B.C., Sept. 30.—A logger armed with a double-bitted axe engaged in fierce battle with a huge grizzly bear near the Bully mine camp and won only after narrowly escaping death.

The logger was leading an Indian pack train over the mining trail when he separated two cubs from the polar bear. She immediately started after the man, and when the bear was in touching distance, he swung the axe, wounding the animal. Rearing on her hind legs, she resumed the attack. A second blow brought the bear to the ground and a bullet from a gun carried by another member of the party finished the job. The cubs, almost fully grown, escaped.

The district has been visited by many big game hunters this season. Dr. F. J. Leavitt, of Los Angeles, left here recently with a grizzly skin measuring 10 ft. 10½ in.

NOTICE.—The Regular Quarterly Meeting of the Bricklayers and Masons' Union will be held on Monday night, at 8 o'clock sharp. A full attendance is requested. By order JAMES J. SPRATT, Secretary.—Oct10/25

Barbara LaMarr with Bert Lytell, in

"SANDRA"

From the world-famous Novel by Ethel Doles Bell—Startling — Surprising.

BY DAY—A beautiful wife—accepting a husband's humble love, his humble home, his humble pleasures.

BY NIGHT—A glittering butterfly yearning for the wine of life, tossing all to the winds when the glamor of romance calls. The temptress—the woman who toys with hearts.

It is fascinating Barbara's Screen Hit. Sandra takes you from the slums of New York to Paris, Beauville, to Monte Carlo. It's a picture that will enthrall you.
