are becoming more popular every year, largely owing to the increased transportation facilities and modern, luxurious equipment, making the journey to California, Florida and other resorts a pleasure instead of a hardship. With one change of cars, you can travel from almost any point on the main line of the Grand Trunk Railway to your destination in the Sunny South, where the flowers bloom and warm, balmy breezes blow. Meals served in dining cars make it unnecessary to leave the train en route. Travel is an education, and it is delightful to get away from the everyday grind, the monotonous or strenuous life to mingle with successful, happy people, and, besides, it pays. Round-trip tickets are issued by the Grand Trunk Railway at exceptionally low fares, giving choice of all the best routes, via Chicago, Detroit or Buffalo. Fast trains are run daily from Hamilton, carrying electric lighted Pullman sleeping cars, dining and parlor-lounge cars and modern first-class coaches, making connections with through trains for the south, etc.

Before deciding on your trip, call at city ticket office "Clock Copper" for full particulars, or telephone 56, R. E. Ruse, C. P. and T. A.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES

Evangelist Belcher Celebrates Double Birthday.

The completion of eighteen years of work in connection with the York Street Mission by Evangelist T. L. Belcher and his wife, Mrs. Belcher, was celebrated last evening by a special service in the mission hall, at which Rev. Dr. Chas. R. Planders, pastor of the First Methodist Church, was the preacher. Mr. Belcher mentioned that for him this was a double anniversary, as the day fell exactly on his 68th birthday. The occasion was marked by special singing by the choir, which almost all the members of the mission sang.

Rev. Dr. Planders took as the basis for his sermon the story as told by St. Mark in the 4th verse of the 8th chapter, of Christ's walking on the water, from the Sea of Galilee. He pointed out that the disciples had put out in their boat earlier in the night in obedience to Jesus' command, and that the very fact of their obedience to him had led them into the danger of the great storm which sprang up, and which threatened them with destruction.

Often, he said, obedience to Jesus Christ brought his followers into circumstances of apparent adversity. In olden days men had been killed for proclaiming Christ, and even in the present day, sometimes resistance to the teaching of the gospel has resulted in such adversity as only seeming. A loving Providence always was watching over strugglers to bring them into the light of the kingdom of God. At the close of the service Mr. Belcher spoke of the work which had been accomplished by the mission, declaring that men who were preaching the gospel in Portland, Me., Winnipeg, South Africa, and many other near and distant parts of the world had been converted there, and that the mission was the only one of its kind in the city.

DETROIT PREACHER HERE

Rev. S. E. Grigg at Talbot Street Baptist Church.

Rev. S. E. Grigg, of Detroit, spoke on the relationship of Christ and the individual who believed in him, in Talbot Street Baptist Church Sunday morning, occupying the pulpit in the absence of Rev. H. B. Bingham. He took for his text, "My beloved is mine and I am his."

The preacher stated that the text was a verse wonderfully suggestive of the expression of a loving heart, and that it suggested union between Jesus and the believer. "Christ says, 'Ye are in me and I am in you,'" said Mr. Grigg. "This is the great truth of the New Testament. This union is based on love. If you will go back to the source of the relationship between Christ and the believer, you will find that the chief and eternal foundation stone is love, that made him give himself for us. Blazing through culture, and intelligence, we must have love."

"This relationship is an eternal love, we can see this without going outside the text. The only reason we can be saved is because he loved us. The personal note enters into our text. 'My beloved is mine and I am his.' It is not what you know that he is your savior. The poorest saint that can say, 'Jesus is mine,' is far richer than the millionaire who knows him is not. The far greater truth than the first part of the text, Jesus belongs to me, is a wonderful thought, but to belong to Jesus is a thousand times better. Let the glow of the first part of the text come into our lives, so that we will be able to work out the last part."

A THRILLING ESCAPE

Miss Florence Egglestone Tells of Flight From Germany.

Miss Florence Egglestone, 202 Hamilton road, who was in Berlin, Germany, when war was declared on August 1st, and who escaped several weeks later to England, through hostile country where the conflict was often very close to her, began a series of talks on her experiences to the Dundas Centre Methodist Sunday School yesterday.

Miss Egglestone went to Germany to study music. She left London, England, on July 29, with not the slightest warning that the nations would be at war in ten days. Miss Egglestone arrived in Saint Peter, a village near the Danish frontier, where she stayed with her music teacher until July 27, when the party left for Berlin. Four days later Germany declared war on England, and Miss Egglestone, with thousands of Americans and English, were virtually prisoners in the German capital. Many of them were able to reach the French or Dutch frontiers in time to escape to England. Among these was Miss Egglestone. Next Sunday she will relate the situation in Berlin, when war was declared, and tell of her escape to England and her arrival home.

REJECTED ARMY HORSES

The sale of rejected army horses at the Union Stockyards, Toronto, will be continued Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. Last week's sale showed some rare bargains in good, tidy horses, just off the specifications and rejected by the army inspectors. These horses are a good lot; some under five years old, and some not within height standards of army. They make excellent farm horses, and are a good buy at a speculation even if not needed for work at once.

WESTERN HEMISPHERE IS FAR AHEAD OF EAST

Rev. Hugh McFarlane Says Eastern Philosophy Is Retrogressive.

"Western initiative, backed by the Spirit of Christ, can produce a man like the Apostle Paul, while Western initiative, severed from Christ, produces a man like Kaiser Wilhelm," said Rev. H. McFarlane, in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church last night.

Mr. McFarlane spoke on the subject "The West Projected Into the East." In his sermon, the speaker contrasted the civilization of the West and the East. In less than 200 years, he prophesied, Western initiative will have conquered the East, but he added, unless the initiative of the West were backed up by a strong wall of Christianity, the resulting state of the Orient would be diabolically terrible in character.

"Western philosophy teaches that man can dominate nature, as is proven in the inventions of the telephone, telegraph, steam engines, and vessels. In the East, there is a blind submission to fate, said the speaker, in contrast to the two civilizations. "In the East," he said, "the man is born into a social structure that is dead." The Koran, he declared, was responsible to a great extent for this, because its laws, formulated 1,200 years ago, are holding good in the East. "The idea of the Chinaman is to live in the past. A Chinese never dreams of peering into the future."

The speaker explained the Chinese ancestral tablets, which almost all Chinamen hold sacred. They are the histories of the ancestors of the men who possess them, and every day the lives of these men of the past are devoutly read by their descendants. This custom, the speaker said, was a characteristic of the Eastern teaching and philosophy. "Throughout the whole Eastern world we find society static and dead," he declared.

The East, however, is no longer cold to the West. We are carrying into the East our ideas of civilization, in Government and education. Even the caste system is being broken down. The Western railroad man knows the price of caste, and anyone who pays the price of transportation is treated equally well with the rest, which is one of the reasons for less class distinction. "Throughout the whole Eastern world we find society static and dead," he declared.

PRACTICAL LECTURES FOR CITY COLLEGIATE

Interesting Series Will Be Started This Winter.

In an address to the Dundas Centre Men's League yesterday morning, E. R. Dennis outlined a system of practical lectures which will probably be introduced into the Collegiate Institute curriculum this winter. Talks on architecture, railroading, banking, salesmanship, and the law, will be given at the school by men who are experts in their own line. The work of formulating a program and securing the speakers will be undertaken by the city industrial bureau in conjunction with the board of education.

"The School As a Social Centre," was the subject of Mr. Dennis' address. He pointed out how the new system of a more directly vocational education makes for the development of the student's special talents while he is also receiving a general education. "Under the old system a boy had to start and learn all over again when he left school," the speaker said.

Mr. Dennis recommended more playgrounds in and around the city, not for those who had left school, but for the school boy who is at the mischiefous age. Physical culture was another feature which is entering into the school training. Two years ago the public schools' physical instructor stated that 75 per cent of London's children were below proper physical standards, the speaker said, urging that more time be given to this part of the student's training.

Manual training, physical exercises, games and vocational training were religious training in the broad sense of the word, Mr. Dennis said, helping to make the school boy a better member of society when he left school. "The school regulations give to ministers and religious bodies the opportunity to address scholars in school on religious topics," the speaker said, "but they have no advantage of the opportunity." In spite of this, he said, ministers are continually criticizing the school board for the lack of religious teaching in the public schools.

TURKISH COAL MINES PUT OUT OF BUSINESS

Bombardment Places Serious Handicap in Enemy's Navy and Railways.

[Canadian Press.]
LONDON, Nov. 15.—2:32 a.m. —The Morning Post's Athens correspondent says the Turkish coal mines at Sogukdas, on the southern shore of the Black Sea, about 150 miles east of Constantinople, have been rendered unworkable by a Russian bombardment.

"This," says the correspondent, "is a serious matter for the Turkish navy and railways, as the Sogukdas are the only coal mines owned by Turkey."

WESTMINSTER LOSES LIFELONG RESIDENT

Besides his wife he leaves one daughter, Mrs. Fred Manning, of London, and seven sons, Fred and David, of London, Lewis, of Westminster, and four residing at home, Mrs. Porter, of Adrian, Ont., Mrs. McGuire, of Chatham, and Mrs. John Coram, of Idaho, are sisters and John, Hastings, Michigan, Mark and Amos of Belmont, are brothers. The funeral will be held on Tuesday at Dorchester Cemetery.

FORMING "ORANGE" MILITIA UNITS

London Orangemen Ready To Join Three "Solid Orange" Sections.

'E' COMPANY THE NUCLEUS

Major Spittal Consents To Make Up Regimental Division.

London Orangemen are forming three "solid Orange" militia units. Their development and organization is ready under way, and in the course of the next few weeks it is expected that these units will be made up entirely of Orangemen, led by Orange officers. One of the three will be 'E' Company of the Seventh Regiment, another will be one of the sections of the Army Medical Corps (Fifteenth Ambulance), and the third will be one, and possibly two of the sections of the Seventh Field Company Canadian Engineers.

The decision to form these units was made at a representative meeting of local Orange lodges, held in Orange Hall, Market Lane, Sunday afternoon. Every one of these present endorsed the idea to form the Orange companies, and nearly three-quarters of those present, exclusive of the members of militia units, signed the resolutions of joining at once, by signing the enlistment lists.

'E' Company is Nucleus.
The decision to form the Seventh Regiment Company of Orangemen already exists. 'E' Company has a number of Orangemen in its ranks, and Major William Spittal, commanding officer of the unit, has given his consent to the formation of the company as "all Orange." Before the meeting was over practically half a section of Engineers had been recruited, and a number of others signed the enlistment list.

There could be no mistake in the sentiment of the Orangemen present. Those who, by virtue of their age, were barred from joining the ranks, made an earnest appeal to the young men to affiliate with the militia at once, and gain the benefit of military training. In the struggle they could play their parts in the struggle that is now confronting the empire.

Rev. G. F. Assiter Makes Appeal.
Rev. G. F. Assiter, pastor of the Dundas Centre Methodist Church, made a stirring appeal for the young men to join. He declared that Jehovah was a God of war, and that it behooved every young man to join the colors. Only his age and his physical condition prevented him from joining the active overseas contingent.

"I could leave my loved ones with the assurance that God and my country would look after them," he declared, earnestly.

The address was one that made a deep impression on his fellow Orangemen. When it was over, a hearty vote of thanks was moved by Bro. H. J. Bennett, and seconded by Bro. W. A. Langford.

Major F. W. Farncomb, commanding officer of the Seventh Field Company, Canadian Engineers, was the next to speak. He was present by invitation, and explained the branch of the service the Engineers represented. He offered to allow the Orange Order to form its own section in his company.

Many Speakers.
Sergeant-Major Marshall, of the Army Medical Corps, spoke on behalf of that organization, while Capt. J. G. Mercer and Sergeant William Elliott, of the Tenth, represented that regiment. Lieut. Wood, of the Twenty-Sixth; Sergeant Morrison, of the Engineers; All Burwell, a South African veteran; and one of the men behind the project to form the all Orange companies; W. J. Nash; Bro. J. E. Hill, W. G. Ford, W. M. City Lodge; Bro. Langford and Bro. H. J. Bennett, spoke also.

TRAVELLERS' BENEFIT

Gripmen Put On Another Splendid Entertainment For Belgians.

A splendid gathering of local and outside talent provided pleasing entertainment at the Travellers' Club aid of the destitute Belgians, Saturday night. The speaker-concert was the second of a series of similar and was more largely attended than the previous one. Another concert will be given under the auspices of the club on Friday, Nov. 27.

The guest of honor of the evening was Lawrence D'Oraay, noted English actor, who entertained the clubmen and their friends with clever stories, in his inimitable English style.

AWARDED CERTIFICATE

William Loveday, St. John's Ambulance Association Secretary, Honored.

William Loveday, secretary of the St. John's Ambulance Association of this city, will tonight be presented with an illuminated parchment certificate of membership from the Royal Branch of the St. John's Ambulance Association of London, England, of which King George V. is the president. The presentation will be made at the public meeting of the city council.

Mayor Graham received the certificate from the Duke of Connaught, governor-general, to whom it was forwarded from England. It is given to Mr. Loveday in recognition of his work for the association in this district.

Full particulars of the presentation will be sent to the Governor-General and will in turn be forwarded to the royal branch.

MAJOR-GENERAL HUGHES TO SPEAK IN LONDON

Minister Will Address Mass Meeting On Nov. 25, On War and Enlistment.

Major-General Sam Hughes, minister of militia and defence, will address a public mass meeting in London on Nov. 25, on "The War and the Necessity for Enlistment." This announcement was made by Mayor Graham on Saturday night by Col. Davidson, of Toronto. The colonel called the mayor on long-distance telephone, and requested him to make arrangements for the meeting.

Major Graham notified Major Thomas, M. E. P., of the Canadian Legion, P. Major William Spittal, commanding officer of the Seventh Regiment, and Col. W. E. Hodgins, divisional commander, of the Canadian Legion, P.

While arrangements are not yet complete, it is expected that the Grand Opera House will be secured.

HEARS FROM SON AT CAMP

Young Londoner Writes Father From Salisbury Plain.

Dr. Ainley Thompson, 156 Elmwood avenue, received a letter Sunday afternoon from his son, Gordon, who left this city with the local Army Service Corps volunteers. The letter was written from Salisbury Plain. Young Thompson states that he is with the mechanical transports.

The journey across the Atlantic was made on the Adam Beck, M. P. P. Major William Spittal, commanding officer of the Seventh Regiment, and Col. W. E. Hodgins, divisional commander, of the Canadian Legion, P.

HURT, OR AFTER LODGING?

Russian Gets Free "Hay" for Night.

Claiming to have been hurt in a row in a hotel bar-room, a Russian appealed to Acting Police Sgt. William McCullough on Park avenue, Saturday night, to even medical work over him. The man, who was named as Ivan, was injured, and seemed to be in pain. He was taken into the office of Dr. Harry Kingsmill at Queens and Park avenues, but examination failed to disclose any injuries. When again on the street, the man persisted that he was injured.

Accordingly a call was sent in for the motor patrol, and he was taken to police headquarters, where he was lodged for the night. He was released Sunday morning, but at the time of his release the man wanted a free night's lodging and made use of a ruse to get it.

No longer do we gaze with admiration at the woman who tells us that the things she had in her house came from more than half the civilized countries in the world. It's all very well for the hunter to point to the heads on the walls of his den and tell you that he shot them in nine provinces, or on three continents, in the land of almost eternal snow and lands of tropical heat, on mountain, moor and plain over a whole atlas of maps. It's very interesting to listen to him, but it's not so interesting to see how many flags he gathered his great mugs and shelds and illuminated addresses.

It's a thrill into us nowadays is the man or woman who can take us over the house and demonstrate that from garret to cellar, from front veranda to the steps at the back kitchen door, and even out into the woodshed, the things which make that house a home were made in Canada, the land of home and order one day, the Union Jack. And there be in every home a "Made-in-Canada" society whose business it is to increase the number of things in that home made in Canada. Some may call it patriotism. It isn't. It's only common sense and the best kind of selfishness.

HAD DYSPEPSIA

So Bad Could Not Take a Drink of Water Without Suffering.

Dyspepsia is one of the most difficult diseases of the stomach there is to cure. You eat too much. Drink too much. Use too much tobacco. You make the stomach work overday. You make it perform more than it should be called on to do. The natural result is that it is going to rebel against the amount of work put on it. It is only a matter of a short time before dyspepsia follows.

That old, 9-year-old remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters, will cure the dyspepsia and will cure it to stay, and as we can prove by the thousands of testimonials we have received from time to time.

Miss Sarah McRae, Newfield, Ont., writes: "I write to say that I have used your Burdock Blood Bitters, and have found it the best remedy I have ever used for dyspepsia. Two years ago I had stomach trouble. Two years ago I could not even take a drink of water without suffering. I took six bottles of B.B.B. and have been entirely cured, and can now eat anything without any bad after effects. Burdock Blood Bitters is an old and well-tried remedy, but on account of the many substitutes we would ask you to make sure that our name appears on both the label and wrapper, as this preparation is manufactured only by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont."

TO CONSIDER PETITIONS AT SPECIAL SESSION

License Reduction Lists Will Not Come Up Before the Council Tonight.

The fact that the petition for license reduction in the city will not be ready for the regular meeting of the city council tonight, will make no difference in the arrangements for a campaign, which have been made by the temperance workers. Professor J. H. Bowman interviewed the city clerk on the matter of the petition on Saturday.

and was told that a special meeting of the council would be called to deal with it, probably about the 20th or 21st of this month. In the meantime the workers will go ahead with their campaign work, as originally planned.

A meeting of delegates from all the churches and temperance organizations in the city has been called for next Thursday night and the final arrangements for this will be completed at a meeting of the executive committee this evening. Many of the delegates to the general meeting were appointed by the various churches yesterday.
