Opens Her Home For FeteSt. James' Church Garden Party 'Attracts Throngs of Patrons—
Gypsy Camp Is An Attractive Feature.

The lovely grounds surrounding the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Stephens, the Base Line, with masses of peonies and roses in bloom, made an ideal setting for the garden party given yesterday under the auspices of the Women's Guild of St. James' Church, South London.

Throughout the afternoon and evening, hundreds of guests kept arriving, the lovely lawns approaching the house being turned into regular parking grounds for scores of automobiles, which bore their pleasure-seeking passengers. Chief among the guests of last evening was Miss Isabel Armstrong, the Liberal candidate, who was received with interest wherever she went.

Such a success from the point of view of numbers attending, was the garden party, that messengers had to be despatched post haste for more ice cream to feed the merry crowd.

The gracious hostess, Mrs. Stephens, was assisted in welcoming the many guests by Mrs. C. B. Edwards, president of the guild, and Mrs. W. L. Armitage. Tea was served at little tables on the lawns, with Mrs. Hardie in charge. Mrs. Emery presided over the tea table, decked with summer blooms.

A picturesque spot was the gypsy camp arranged about a camp fire. Here the future was foretold by gypsy maidens in fancy garb, they were Miss Macheth, Miss Pennington, Miss Elsie Green and Miss Babbie Chisholm. Another novel feature was a small pony drawing a cart, from which ice cream and cold drinks were sold.

The Salvation Army band provided excellent music and the attractive booths, adorned with flowers, were looked after by the following ladies: ice cream booth, Mrs. A. O. Hunt; candy, Mrs. Steer; flowers, Mrs. Clifford; and soft drinks, Mrs. Clifton.

GIRL GUIDES DEMONSTRATE FIRE BUILDING.

A peep into the Provincial Girl Guide training camp, which is being conducted in the Huron College grounds, found the girls busily engaged in practical work. Here is a small group caught by The Advertiser photographer as they were practicing for the fire-building test. To build a fire in the open is a difficult task, but it is one of the first accomplishments of an efficient guide. Several of the 15 tents erected on the

GRANT-FOX.

A quiet wedding took place at First Presbyterian Manse, Chatham, Tuesday afternoon, when Dwight J. Grant, son of Mr. James Grant of St. Clair street, and Miss Louise Evangeline Fox, only daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Fox of Dresden, were united in marriage. Rev. D. H. Marshall performed the ceremony. After a short honeymoon trip to Buffalo, Niagara Falls and other points, the bride and groom will reside on McKeehouse avenue, city.

TURNER-TALBOT.

One of the prettiest wedding ceremonies of the bridal month was that performed at Cronyn Memorial Church on Wednesday, June 20, when Laura, daughter of Mrs. S. E. Talbot, late of Clapham, London, England, became the bride of Herbert Turner, of this city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Quinton Warner. The bride, who was given away by her mother, looked charming in a gown of white crepe de chine, embroidered with Flemish lace and pearls. She carried a bouquet of orange blossoms and roses. Mrs. Talbot, mother of the bride, was dressed in a pale mauve silk crepe dress, trimmed with pearls, with hat and veil to match. Miss Irene Whittle, bridesmaid, wore a pretty dress of pale pink and a large picture hat. Gladys and Barbara Talbot, sisters of the bride, acted as flower girls, carrying bouquets of roses and carnations, and were dressed in pale blue organdy, set off by Juliet cap. Renee Biggs also acted as flower girl. The groom wore a dark suit, man, supporting Mr. Turner. Adair, assisted at the organ, and during the service rendered several suitable selections. A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, following the ceremony, at which the bride cake, prepared by Mrs. Talbot, was cut with the usual formalities. Tony Adair and Miss Grant played and sang during the reception. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to Niagara and other eastern points. The bride traveled in a brown canton crepe dress with velvet cape and hat, and the groom in a dark suit. The bride made her home in Detroit.

of white georgette daintily trimmed with ruffles of white satin ribbon and garlands of orange blossoms and roses, attached to an Egyptian head-dress of pearls and orange blossoms completed the costume. She carried a bouquet of orange blossoms and lilies-of-the-valley, and wore the groom's gift, a bracelet of platinum and diamonds. The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond ring, set with aquamarine and pearls, and to the flower girl a signet ring. After the ceremony a dainty breakfast was served by two of the bride's friends, Miss Sarah Clemens and Miss Mary Robertson, after which Mr. and Mrs. Blow left for a honeymoon trip to Buffalo, Toronto and other eastern points. The bride traveled in a brown canton crepe dress with velvet cape and hat, and the groom in a dark suit. The bride made her home in Detroit.

The bride was one of Blenheim's accomplished musicians, having been organist at the Methodist Church at one time.

Had Bad Pains
In Her Heart

Nerves Were Very Bad

Mrs. John Case, R. R. No. 4, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "I wish to say that I have been bothered very much with my heart and nerves. I doctored with two different doctors, but did not find much relief. I would have such bad pains in my heart, at times, I would be almost afraid to move or breathe, and at night I could not sleep. If the pains in my heart were gone, my nerves would be so bad I could not lie still and would only get a little sleep by being tired. My stomach was also very bad and I could eat but very little, and then only certain things or I would have so much distress which always made me feel worse.

I had been suffering for nearly two years until one day I was talking to our druggist about the way I felt. He advised me to give Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a fair trial. I have now taken five boxes and am feeling so much better. I am able to do my own work, and can eat anything I wish. I cannot praise

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills too highly."

RUTH CHAPTER GUESSES
ON WINNING CANDIDATE

The members of the Ruth Chapter, O. E. S., are turning the coming provincial election into a game of chance. At their picnic held yesterday at Springbank, the members made their guess as to who would be the successful candidate in the city and what the majority of that candidate would be. The guesses have all been sealed away in a box, which will not be opened until Tuesday. The member who comes nearest to the majority of the successful candidate will receive a five-pound box of chocolates.

Yesterday's picnic was an outstanding success from the point of view of sports. The race results follow:

Girls, 13 to 15—Hilda Burns, Emma Rowley.
Boys 13 to 15—Will Hogg, Jack Bowman and A. Treleven.

Ladies' race—Miss Minnie Malone, Mrs. Reid.
Balloon race—Mrs. S. Taylor, Mrs. Frank McKay.

Relay race—Miss Minnie Malone and J. Malone.
Miss Mildred Pollick and Roy Malone.

Pine race—Miss Gooderham.
Consolation girls' race—Geraldine Eifer.

RIVERVIEW STAFF DINES
GIRLS' SOFTBALL TEAM

The girls of the winning soft ball team of the Riverview school were entertained by the teaching staff of that school at Wagon's Café last night. The Riverview girls are the proud possessors of the trophy cup carried off in the year's championship games. The cup was presented last evening by Dr. Bryant, chairman of the sports committee of the city schools. Miss Pearl Fortner, manager of the team, replied to Dr. Bryant on behalf of the players. This year, won last year the Talbot street team, has been held before by the Riverview team.

Rose peonies and purple iris, carrying out the school colors, decked the supper table, while streamers of rose and purple were stretched above the diners.

Principal F. J. Newhouse acted as toastmaster, while brief speeches were delivered by M. M. Campbell, assistant principal, and Dr. Giffen, the school dentist. Other members of the staff present were: Miss Mary Mitchell, Miss Edith Plevins, Miss Lillian Jackson, Miss Isabel Carr, Miss Olive Wood and F. White. Mrs. Newhouse was also a guest of the occasion.

The girls' team includes: Hazel Daniels, captain; Edna Longman, first base; Edna McCormick, second base; Daisy Fisher, third base; Margaret Avey, right shortstop; Irene Graham, left shortstop; Betty Rigney.

Zona Gale Says

"Some Day the Whole World Will Be a Christmas World."

Whenever two businessmen sit in an office or in a lobby discussing a transaction, the spirit either of yesterday or of tomorrow is upon them. Either the spirit of the cave, the law of hoof and fang, of the old "caveat emptor" of me-first-and-you-forgetten; or the spirit of equal opportunity, of co-operation, of need, of shall we say—courtesy.

Will the laws of the most ordinary social courtesy ever hold in the business world?

Will two men ever offer each other first place there as naturally as they would in a ballroom?

Will the standards of ordinary social intercourse ever hold in business?

Will the spirit which animates a man when he gives away a fortune ever animate him when he is actually earning the fortune?

Already you hear: "I could have got the best of that fellow, but he has a sick wife." Or, "I could have come out better in that deal only $500 and $50 has two kids ready for college." Or, "He ought not to have so large a commission, but he and I came from the same town."

Not a businessman worthy of the name is without recollection of some such exception in his own experience, and he declares himself against all other gangs. These individualist or gang-games many men call business. The later condition of teamwork has not reached the whole business world, the only civilized world in which the good manners of giving precedence to another are not yet recognized.

"I see a future," said George Washington, "in which men will be striving every one to benefit his neighbor."

Not yet! But what days of adventure such days will be when they come! To go forth in the morning with eyes not narrowed by self-seeking.

Whatever the Weather.

Long ago my children learned that bad weather can't be helped, so it should be disregarded. They are never allowed to make cloudy skies an excuse for staying home when duty calls them out. They pay no attention to bad weather except to prepare for it in the way of donning raincoat and rubbers, and saunter forth cheerfully in all kinds of weather, feeling the natural joy of opposing winds and bracing cold, and the tang of raindrops on the face.

The Hotpoint

Water Heater will give you a continuous supply of hot water

THE new Hotpoint Water Heater may be attached to any domestic tank, and the controlling switch located in any convenient part of the house.

The element, which is almost indestructible, is totally immersed in the water. This means that 100 per cent of the heat is utilized.

Owing to its patented element, the Hotpoint Water Heater is the quickest and most economical electric water heater manufactured. It can be supplied in two types. The circulation type, as illustrated, will give you hot water almost as soon as the current is turned on, or the immersion type, which is designed for continuous operation.

Ask your electrical dealer for further particulars.

Not to justice, not to force one's way to a ticket window, not to occupy two seats on a train, not to take the best portion are perfectly ordinary acts in everyday routine. Why are the corresponding deferences unknown to business?

The moment money enters the transaction another set of values appears. Why?

Because many men are still playing the crude games of their childhood with me-first for a goal; or at best they are organized into gangs of their own, declaring themselves against all other gangs. These individualist or gang-games many men call business. The later condition of teamwork has not reached the whole business world, the only civilized world in which the good manners of giving precedence to another are not yet recognized.

WEDDINGS

WALLACE-GARSDIE.

A pretty wedding took place Thursday, June 14, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garsdie, when their eldest daughter, Eleanor Elizabeth, was married to Arthur B. Wallace. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a pretty frock of white canton crepe, trimmed with pearls. Her veil was arranged with a coronet of pearls and orange blossoms. Miss Mary Hueston acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. L. Ridley attended the groom. The wedding march was played by Miss Ester Herling.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served. Mrs. J. Orrell and Miss Myrtle Farley of St. Thomas, cousins of the bride, and Thomas, cousin of the bride, of Toronto assisted in serving. Out-of-town guests were present from Toronto, Hamilton and St. Thomas.

FORSYTH-WILLIAMS

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, Kingsmill, Ontario, at high noon, when their eldest daughter, Jessie Pamela, was united in marriage to Mr. Morley Forsyth, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Forsyth of Delaware. The Rev. John D. Stephens, pastor of the Disciple Church, Mapleton, officiated.

The bride took her place beneath a white canopy, where the groom awaited her. She was wearing in mid-eight blue old-time crepe, and carried a bouquet of white roses and maidenhair fern. After the ceremony the wedding party and immediate relatives repaired to the dining-room, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. The couple's gift to the bride was a diamond ring, set with aquamarine and pearls, and to the flower girl a signet ring. After a short trip to Detroit and other points the happy couple will take up their residence in London. Out-of-town guests were present from Aylmer, St. Williams, London and Thamesford.

STEVENS-HUSTON.

One of the prettiest of the June weddings took place yesterday, at 1:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, in Beattie avenue, when Rachel W. Huston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Huston, was married to George F. Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stevens, Queen's avenue. Rev. L. W. Reid performed the ceremony.

Palms and ferns were banked with daisies in the living-room, making a pretty setting for the ceremony. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a graceful gown of white crepe de chine, with pearl trimmings and a graceful drape, fell at the left side and was caught with a pearl ornament. Her hair was styled in a white crepe de chine, with a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Stevens also received wearing a becoming gown. A buffet luncheon was served from a table adorned with pink roses and pink

An arch with pink and white roses and streamers entwined, banked with beautiful ferns, made a pretty background for the bridal party. Miss Ella Taylor, an intimate friend of the bride, played Lohengrin's wedding march. She wore a gown of pale green georgette. Little Helen Everett, cousin of the bride, was the winsome flower girl, frocked in pink organdy. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked lovely in a gown
