The International League is now an established fact. Bay, City-Saginaw were reluctant about posting their guarantee but had their money on hand all the same. Representative Reynolds stated that it was with considerable hesitation and difficulty they had entered the league and they understood that a guarantee from them would not be required. However, they were finally convinced that it would not be money wasted and handed over $1000 to Secretary White. The Messrs Ryan posted their guarantee without any hesitation.

without any hesitation.

It was not until 10 p.m. that the delegates convened to receive the report of the Schedule Committee. The difficulty of compiling this document was on account of the six clubs, necessitating much more difficult jumps than in an eight-club circuit. The schedule was then not considered complete and the meeting decided to adjourn until to-day. All the representatives were satisfied with the outcome and so expressed satisfied with the outcome and so expressed themselves. It was with considerable doubt that President Mills' statement was received

The Bay City - Saginaw delegation were four in number, united and full of enthusiasm. These places are only sixteen miles apart and keen rivals in everything, from a match at marbles to a horse race; from competition in milling, etc., to making straw hats. But on baseball they are united. Mr. W. A. Pettapiece, the president of the club, belongs to Bay City and holds an important municipal offic there. Messrs. King and Reynolds are prominent citizens of Saginaw and members of the Baseball Board. Half of the games will be played in one and half in the other city. Saginaw has one of the best grounds in the country while Bay City's will be much improved this season. These places have great reputations in diamond affairs. It was Bay City that discovered the talents of the renowned John G. Clarkson. Saginaw was twice champion of the Northwestern League and last year
