"Were it the last drop in the well, As I gazed upon the brink, Ere my fainting spirit fell, 'Tis to thee that I would drink."

In that water as this wine The libation I would pour, 'Tis to thee that I would drink, And a health to thee, Tom Moore."

(Cheers.) When at last, in the churchyard of Bromham in '52, the grave closed over the remains of the poet of the people of Ireland, there passed away an illustrious, a brilliant intellect from the world—a man who added grace to every circle in which he moved, animation to the gay and sentiment to the refined. If England holds his remains, old Ireland is heirless to his fame and her sons show their gratitude by this public testimony of their homage to the genius that has given another lustre to her name. He has baptised the traditions of a faithful people by immortal verse, and by the divine combination of poetry and music. His heart was moulded from the same true Irish gold that shone so brilliantly in Erin's sons in the paths of literature, in the arena of politics, and on the battle-fields of Europe, and his humble voice and thoughts to-night find (I almost fear) their echo in the hearts of those around me, in the affections and memory of his countrymen. Men are, alas! too often forgetful of the merits, ungrateful for the services of the dead; but the hearts of Irishmen must cease to beat, their souls have fled, ere the fidelity of Moore be forgotten, or the fragrance of his memory be lost, not only in his fatherland, but wherever a child of Erin has made his home. He must live in his works and his Irish melodies for ever, and in his own expressive language, we may say:—

"Even should his memory now die away, 'Twill be caught up again in some happier day."

And the hearts and the voices of Erin prolong, Through the answering future his name and his song."

Loud and prolonged applause greeted the conclusion of Mr. Monk's very able and interesting address. The second part of the programme included a song by Mrs. Ludovica Ste. Marie, "Believe me all those endearing young charms," an air by Mr. S. Sheridan, "The Yagabond" by Mr. Delahunt, and concluded with the grand chorus, "Let Erin remember the days of old," after which, the audience dispersed.

The facts fully justify every claim put forth in behalf of Thomas' Electric Oil. Testimony of the most convincing nature, to which publicity has been frequently and widely given, and which can easily be verified, places beyond all reasonable doubt the fact that it fully deserves the confidence which the people place in it as an inward and outward remedy for coughs, colds, catarrhs, sore throat, incipient bronchitis, and other disorders of the respiratory organs, as a means of removing pain, swelling and contraction of the muscles and joints, rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney disorders, excoriation and inflammation of the nipples, burns, scalds, bruises, corns, and a variety of other diseases and hurts, and of abnormal conditions of the cuticle. It is inexpensive and safe, as well as prompt and thorough. Its merits have met with the recognition of physicians of repute, and veterinary surgeons, horse owners and stock raisers administer and apply it for colic, galls, affections of the hoof, sweeny, garget and troubles incident to horses or to cattle. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price, 25c.

MONEY AND COMMERCE.

FINANCIAL.

THE WITNESS OFFICE, Tuesday, June 3. The local money market has continued dull, with an easy feeling during the past week. The demand for accommodation has continued exceedingly light, and rates for good commercial paper remain unchanged at 7 per cent. The great question which puzzles capitalists now-a-days more than ever is how to invest money profitably. Real estate is out of favor; there is apparently no money to be made by investing in bank stocks, and speculators have long ceased to operate. Sterling Exchange is firmer this week, but dull at 91 to 92 premium. Money banks and 9, and the counter. Documentary and produce bills are purchased at 9 to 10 premium. Gold drafts on New York ready at 1 premium. The local stock market continues dull, and closes weaker. The event of the week has been the suspension of the Mechanics' Bank, full particulars of which appears on another page. The Monetary Times, alluding to the disaster says:—"The most of its liability due other banks was to the Citizens' Bank, to whose refusal any longer to honor its drafts the cause of the called bank attributes its sudden stoppage. It will probably be agreed, however, that when a petty bank gets into the position shown by the figures of this one in the April return, and is forced to depend upon the favor of any one institution, it is at least as well out of existence. It is beginning to be generally understood that many banks of this small and weak class, so long as our banks show their present readiness to discount six months paper, so long will our wholesale merchants sell merchandise on six months."

WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE CITY WHOLESALE TRADE.

On the whole, trade in this market has continued quiet during the past week. A temporary improvement in the demand for dry goods and groceries was caused by the presence of a number of western buyers, who visited the city to witness the grand celebration of Her Majesty's birthday, and remained over a day or two to inspect goods. It should be noticed that, while the increased activity of trade is very gradual, and slower of course in some than others, each succeeding week seems to develop a healthier condition of affairs than the one previous. Importers now state that dealers generally will most likely enter upon the fall trade with lighter stocks than has been known for many years, if indeed ever before; this will arise mainly from the system now followed by the country merchants of buying often and only for immediate wants, instead of purchasing large stocks semi-annually as formerly. FLOUR AND MEAL.—Stocks of flour in store here yesterday, 66,858 barrels, against 51,431 barrels on the 15th May, and 62,518 barrels on like date of last year. Receipts flour to-day, 1,450 barrels. The market has ruled dull all week, owing to the absence of demand, and prices were, therefore, in buyers' favor. Holders of large quantities of Spring Extra, who have been disappointed in the results of their investments, are now pressing their stocks on the market. Yesterday the market was rather more active, and the following sales were made: 100 barrels Superior Extra at $3 85; 150 Superfine Extra at $4 45; 100 Spring Extra at $4 20; 100 Medium Bakers' at $4 32; and 200 Ontario Bags at $2 10. CORNMEAL.—Stocks in store yesterday, 170 barrels, against 209 barrels on the 15th May, and 319 barrels on like date last year. The market has continued inactive at $2 90 to $2 60 per barrel. OATMEAL.—Stocks in store yesterday 383 bbls, against 410 bbls on the 15th May, and 937 against on like date last year. A few small sales have been reported during the week at $4 25. Following are the current prices to-day: Superior Extra.....$4 61 4 70 Extra Superfine.....4 45 4 50 Fancy.....4 31 4 35 Spring Extra.....3 90 3 95 Superior.....3 80 3 85 Strong Bakers.....4 40 4 40 Fine.....3 91 3 94 Middle.....3 10 3 10 Pollards.....2 60 2 60 Ontario Bags (per 100 lbs.).....2 12 2 17 City Bags (delivered).....2 25 2 27 Oatmeal.....2 25 2 25 Cornmeal.....2 50 2 60 GRAIN.—Wheat.—Stocks in store yesterday, 123,734 bushels, against 108,652 bush on the 15th May, and 298,450 bushels on the 1st June, 1878. Receipts to-day, 57,700 bushels. The market has remained quiet and easy. On Saturday two cars of white winter wheat changed hands at $1.03. Spring wheat was quoted at $1.00 to 1.05, according to sample; and red winter at $1.10. PEAS.—Stocks in store yesterday, 4,662 bushels, against 15,260 bushels on like date last year. Receipts to-day, 18,808 bushels. One lot of 5,000 bushels changed hands on Saturday at 80c, which sale could not be repeated, for 80c was bid and refused for another lot of 3,000 bush; 80c was firmly asked. OATS.—Stocks in store yesterday, 15,074 bushels, against 15,465 bushels on like date last year. The nominal value is 31c on track; no recent sales reported. BARLEY.—Stocks in store yesterday, 33,765 bushels, against 20,393 bushels on like date last year. The nominal rates are 45c to 60c, as to quality, but there is an entire absence of demand, and no business has been reported all week. CORN.—Stocks in store yesterday, 42,300 bushels, against 180,511 bushels on like date last year. Receipts yesterday, 56,107 bushels. The market ruled dull at 45c in bond.

BOOTS AND SHOES.—Dealers report business in this branch moderately active during the past week, at steady but unchanged prices. There are a good many small sorting-up orders for summer goods still being placed, and the volume of trade done so far this season shows a considerable improvement on that for the same period of last year. It is reported that a few of our manufacturing houses have already sent out their travellers with samples of Fall goods, but it is too early yet, and we are glad to see that such practice, which tends to encourage the mercantile credit system, by dating goods forward, more than anything else perhaps, is discontinued by all the leading and most reliable firms. Remittances reported rather slow.

PROVISIONS.—Have been rather active in this market during the past week, but the demand has slightly fallen off the last couple of days. Mess Pork—Canada short cut was in good request to-day at $14, at which figures several sales were made. Chicago Mess brings $13 50 to $13 75. Hams are firm at 11c for uncovered, and 12c to 12c for covered. One lot of Cincinnati hams were sold this morning at 12c. Eggs rule quiet, and it is generally believed in the trade that prices will be lower; they are now quoted at 10c to 10c, the outside rate being only for deliveries on former contracts. The top price paid to-day was 10c. Canada Turb sold to-day in 25-pail lots at 9c to 9c, and Chicago at 9c to 10c. Butter is less active than a few days ago, and prices show a drooping tendency, in sympathy with the leading English and American markets. For tub dairy, 15c is about the highest obtainable price, and creameries are quoted from 17c to 18c. Choice Townships are worth 14c to 14c for shipping lots, and 10c to 13c for medium to good. Cheese is quieter, the excitement having subsided. Prices range from 7c to 7c, and supplies of new make are as yet not large in this market.
