

He thinks such papers are very quarrelsome and on the whole do about as much harm as good to the Church.

Correspondence

WESLEYAN METHODISM AND THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND. The former a total departure from the principles and system of Methodism adopted, and established by the late Rev. John Wesley, A.M.

the very year of his decease. To guard against the recurrence of such a spirit operating amongst us is one principal design of the present publication.

THE CHURCH

at the gates of God's sanctuary at the appointed hour for prayer, and afterwards they repeat and go; that their entrance might be effected with less disturbance and interruption to others who present themselves in due time;

After the dinner the usual toasts were proposed, that of the Queen being received with the acclamation of enthusiasm, were also the names of The Chancellor of the Exchequer, and of the Lord Bishop of the Diocese.

THE CHURCH

On Thursday last (June 25th) the annual dinner was given in the college hall; the company consisting of the Lord Bishop of Toronto, G. W. Alford, Esq., J. H. Hagarty, Esq., the Rev. J. Gwyn, Professors Hodgkin, Badgley, Hallowell, Philbrick and Russell, of the medical faculty, H. Y. Hind Esq., professor of Chemistry, G. W. Strathy, Esq., professor of music, and Charles Magrath, Esq. Bursar.

On their first page will be found an article on "Modern Spiritualism," taken from the Church Review (New Haven), a publication we often take delight in copying from, and which we would most gladly think was much more widely circulated than it is.

THE CHURCH

On Thursday last (June 25th) the annual dinner was given in the college hall; the company consisting of the Lord Bishop of Toronto, G. W. Alford, Esq., J. H. Hagarty, Esq., the Rev. J. Gwyn, Professors Hodgkin, Badgley, Hallowell, Philbrick and Russell, of the medical faculty, H. Y. Hind Esq., professor of Chemistry, G. W. Strathy, Esq., professor of music, and Charles Magrath, Esq. Bursar.

On their first page will be found an article on "Modern Spiritualism," taken from the Church Review (New Haven), a publication we often take delight in copying from, and which we would most gladly think was much more widely circulated than it is.

THE CHURCH

On Thursday last (June 25th) the annual dinner was given in the college hall; the company consisting of the Lord Bishop of Toronto, G. W. Alford, Esq., J. H. Hagarty, Esq., the Rev. J. Gwyn, Professors Hodgkin, Badgley, Hallowell, Philbrick and Russell, of the medical faculty, H. Y. Hind Esq., professor of Chemistry, G. W. Strathy, Esq., professor of music, and Charles Magrath, Esq. Bursar.

On their first page will be found an article on "Modern Spiritualism," taken from the Church Review (New Haven), a publication we often take delight in copying from, and which we would most gladly think was much more widely circulated than it is.

THE CHURCH

On Thursday last (June 25th) the annual dinner was given in the college hall; the company consisting of the Lord Bishop of Toronto, G. W. Alford, Esq., J. H. Hagarty, Esq., the Rev. J. Gwyn, Professors Hodgkin, Badgley, Hallowell, Philbrick and Russell, of the medical faculty, H. Y. Hind Esq., professor of Chemistry, G. W. Strathy, Esq., professor of music, and Charles Magrath, Esq. Bursar.

On their first page will be found an article on "Modern Spiritualism," taken from the Church Review (New Haven), a publication we often take delight in copying from, and which we would most gladly think was much more widely circulated than it is.

THE CHURCH

On Thursday last (June 25th) the annual dinner was given in the college hall; the company consisting of the Lord Bishop of Toronto, G. W. Alford, Esq., J. H. Hagarty, Esq., the Rev. J. Gwyn, Professors Hodgkin, Badgley, Hallowell, Philbrick and Russell, of the medical faculty, H. Y. Hind Esq., professor of Chemistry, G. W. Strathy, Esq., professor of music, and Charles Magrath, Esq. Bursar.