

Pull Up a Chair

How would you like to pop into a nice steel bed? Amisco of L'Islet, Quebec, has beds for poppers of all lengths and ages, cradles, bunk beds and queen-size. It also has chairs, tables, bookcases and other furniture, all made of metal tubing (some steel, some brass) and canvas, all handsome and long-lasting. Everything comes in a variety of Quebec colors, including vert, bleu, rouge, brun, jaune, sometimes with pois (polka dots). They are sold at a great many places in New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia. Bed prices range from $70 (U.S.) for a single bed to $240 for a queen-size canopy. For more information write or call Amisco Industries Ltd., BP 250, L'Islet, Quebec G0R 2C0, (418) 247-5025.

The Trojan Hoist

The company says it's the Ultimate Portable Hoist and it probably is. It can lift up a car or truck six-and-a-half feet in the air and tilt it 25 degrees.

This allows a six-foot mechanic to work without straining his neck. It has been tested up to 20,000 pounds, more than three times its recommended capacity.

It can pick up a $\frac{3}{4}$ ton truck without even trying.

It is powered by a twelve-volt battery and can be moved easily, which means it can be set up indoors or out, as long as there's an available space at least 12 feet wide, 15 feet long and 13 feet high.

It has a single, totally enclosed, self-lubricating cylinder and, despite its name, nothing to hide.

You can buy one for $4995.00 from your nearest dealer or from Antec International Equipment Inc., P.O. Box 3687, Regina, Saskatchewan S4P 3N8.
