Mr. LONGLEY. I move that the motion be amended by adding the words suggested by the hon. leader of the Government: "and that strangers be excluded from the precincts of the House."

Some hon. MEMBERS. Order, order.

Mr. SPEAKER. I think the hon. gentleman has the right to move that the words be added to the motion as adopted.

Mr. LONGLEY. I hope the right hon. leader of the Government will allow me to put his name on the motion as seconder.

Sir JOHN A. MACDONALD. I do not think the hon. gentleman can move it. He cannot move an amendment against his own motion.

Mr. LANGEVIN. The hon. member for Annapolis has already spoken on the motion, and has no right to speak again.

Mr. LONGLEY. As I understand, Mr. Speaker has decided that I am in order.

Mr. SPEAKER. An amendment adding words to the original motion may be moved; but, upon reflection, I do not think the hon. gentleman can move it.

An hon. MEMBER. Somebody else can.

Mr. LONGLEY. I wish to say a few words—

Some hon. MEMBERS. Question, question.

Mr. LONGLEY. After the motion to amend has been passed, I think I have a right to speak—

Mr. BLAKE. As I understand, we are now on the main motion as amended, and I think, the hon. gentleman is at liberty to speak upon that question.

Mr. SPEAKER. Does the hon. gentleman intend to speak to the main motion as amended.

Mr. LONGLEY. Certainly. I wish to show the leader of the Government that deference which I desire always to show to him, and that is the reason why I am desirous to add the words he suggested. I do not think we would then have anything to complain of, and I think the House will be disposed unanimously to accept the suggestion of the Premier. As a matter of course, I do not wish to enter into a discussion of the general question, but I think it would be a great advantage to preclude strangers from the precincts of the House in the sense in which we have been speaking. It has been conceded by nearly everybody who has spoken, that the presence of strangers downstairs is a most objectionable feature.

Mr. BURPEE (Sunbury). I move in amendment that the following words be added to the motion as amended: "and that strangers be excluded from the refreshment saloon of the House of Commons."

Mr. WHITE (Cardwell). I move in amendment to the amendment that the words "unless accompanied by a member," be inserted after the words "House of Commons."

Mr. BURPEE (Sunbury). I think it is the general feeling that the amendment to the amendment should be accepted in lieu of the amendment. I, at any rate, am willing to accept it.

Amendment to the amendment agreed to.

Motion as amended agreed to.
