Style as a Business Asset in Suits

THERE isn't any question about style being a business asset—it's one of those admitted truths. But style isn't the only asset that suits should provide.

WE believe, and back our belief with our stocks, that good suits should be as smart in pattern as in style, as serviceable and sensible as they are handsome, as good in value as possible—Hickey suits are all those things.

FAIR AT COOKSVILLE HAD MANY EXHIBITS

Show of Horses Perhaps Best in History of Association and Cattle Rank High.

COOKSVILLE, Oct. 6.—The fair here today was attended about as usual, but with a larger exhibit. The show of horses was perhaps the best in its history. Cattle fully up to the standard, and women's work, roots, vegetables good. The dairy exhibits were extra large. A special train from Toronto had about 300 passengers.

The great interest taken in the awards of the various classes of horses was quite noticeable by the loud clapping of hands when a popular exhibitor landed the coveted red ribbon.

The single road class had a good field of seven. W. H. Rutledge, Port Credit, who has a grand mare, and many times a winner this fall, landed first, with Dr. Rutledge, Freeman, second, and W. Armstrong, Brampton, third.

Ayrshires: Ross Bros., Streetsville.
Holsteins: A. Clarkson.
Jersey: H. Coulter, Humber.
Grade cattle: W. Steen.

When the announcement of women drivers was made the crowd gathered from all quarters of the fair grounds, this being always one of the big attractions. The best drivers taking part in the contest, this year being no exception. Miss Speers of Elmbank, a popular lady the recipient of many previous red ribbons, received quite an ovation when she again ran first, with Mrs. Tilt second and Miss Hornby, Mt. Charles, third.

For girls under 18, Miss Steen was first; Miss Sherwood, Dixie, second.

Miss Lennox, Spencer avenue, Toronto, received first for lady rider and Miss Steen second.

The judging of Mr. J. S. Rutherford, Brampton, and W. I. Limbeer, Caledon, was very satisfactory.

NEW VIEWS OF THE WAR IN 8 PAGES

EVERY EBB, every flow, of the tide of war presents a new side to the struggle. Words are incapable of giving us a vivid, realistic impression of the constant change, the everlasting newness of the war.

Pictures alone convey to the mind the war's realities, its clear-cut human angle. The Sunday World appreciates this fact, and is, therefore, glad to be able to announce that additions to mechanical equipment make possible a return to the former eight-page size Illustrated Section.

The pictures that mark the change in size, which begins with the coming Sunday World, are a particularly striking selection.
