

The method of working is as follows: The hen enters the nest and as she steps in her back lifts the door free from the trigger. The trigger is immediately released and falls upon the stop-block, while the door swings to the front and hits

Single-compartment trap-nest, with detailed dimensions.