

and as it died slowly from her face, she closed her eyes, and her spirit passed into eternal peace.

As soon as I realized that she was gone, I whispered to Mrs. Perry and hurried out of the room to find Karl there. He had come for news. He read it in my face and by the tears in my eyes, and he put his arm about me and led me away.

THE END