

CONTENTS

xiii

Peter Porcupine —His enjoyment of his notoriety—Founds Porcupine's Gazette —Dr. Benjamin Rush and Cobbett's attack on him—Rush wins a libel action against Cobbett—Cobbett, in New York, starts the Rushlight —His farewell to the United States—He returns to England . . .	PAGE 81-116
---	----------------

CHAPTER V

COBBETT RETURNS TO ENGLAND (1800-1801)

Cobbett leaves New York for Halifax—And returns thence to England—Arrival at Falmouth, July 1800—John Wright—Cobbett already well known in England—Comes to London—Welcomed by the Tories—Dines with William Windham—Meets Pitt, Canning, and other leaders of the party—Offered and declined the proprietorship of a Government organ—His determination to be independent—Revives the Porcupine —Trouble with the post-office—Makes a formal complaint to Lord Auckland—Antagonistic attitude towards the Peace of Amiens—Letters on the subject to William Windham—Refuses to illuminate—His windows smashed by the mob— Letters to Lord Hawkesbury —Correspondence with William Windham—Sets up as bookseller and publisher—Issue of the Works of Peter Porcupine and other volumes . . .	117-142
---	---------

CHAPTER VI

COBBETT'S "POLITICAL REGISTER" (1802)

Cobbett breaks with the Tories—He justifies his action—Letter to Pitt—William Windham and Dr. Laurence assist him to start a weekly paper—The Political Register —An independent critic—Correspondence with Windham—Robson and Tierney—The Peace of Amiens—Bull-baiting—Windham at Norwich—St. Domingo—Windham rejected by the Norwich electors—Duane—Lutz—The English and French navies—Cobbett's appreciation of Windham . . .	143-174
---	---------

CHAPTER VII

COBBETT'S CORRESPONDENCE (1803) . . .	175-201
---------------------------------------	---------

CHAPTER VIII

COBBETT'S CORRESPONDENCE (1804) . . .	202-239
---------------------------------------	---------