tion with interest no steps had yet been taken by him to bring the matter before the board of railway commissioners.

"When the government appointed this board, I understood it was out of our hands. The board needs urging we may join with The World in calling attention to the present disregard of the law," he said.

Asked for his personal views on the matter, he said:

"The view I take is this: We cannot expect business men to place their money in an enterprise like the Metropolitan Railway and then dictate to them afterwards what we should pay for using their line. Such roads must be dividend-earners, and if we pass too stringent legislation we simply discourage the placing of capital in enterprises of this kind. There ought to be a way of striking a happy medium as to the rates that should be charged. The rates on the Metropolitan are higher than those charged on electric roads across the line."

"I think we ought to be careful and have a conference and appoint some representatives from the county to confer with representatives of the railway and go into the whole question."

"But it isn't a matter for conference, it is simply a question of enforcing the law of the province," was suggested.

"Well, yes," replied the warden. "And it appears to me that if the railway commission have the power of the Dominion commissioners then they should enforce it."

Mr. Johnston said that he expected a meeting of the county commissioners (Councilors Pingle, Bogue and himself) would be held within a few days, when the matter would be talked over with Mr. Lennox, the solicitor.

Law Is Enforced.

T. H. Lennox, M.L.A., was shown the communication from the Toronto and York Radial Co., in which they claim that a two-cent fare is now effective for round-trip tickets.

"That has nothing to do with the case," he answered. "They are not entitled to charge more than one cent a mile or a fraction thereof to any passenger where the distance to be traveled is more than three miles."

But apart from that it is untrue that they are giving a two-cent rate for round trips. From Toronto to Aurora (Queen's Hotel) is 21.5 miles. The round trip would be 43 miles. At two cents per mile the round trip should be 86 cents, yet their published rate is 70 cents single fare and for the round trip not 86 cents, but $1.05.

From Toronto to Newmarket the distance is 25 miles yet the round trip is $1.20, not one dollar and single fare is 30 cents.

"There is no reason," he continued, "why this road cannot charge the legal rate. Years ago it obtained permission to extend its lines through Ontario, Peel and Simcoe counties and the act provides for a two-cent fare. When the Jackson extension is completed, we will have a three-cent fare for York County, and a two-cent fare for any other county traversed."

Mr. Lennox admitted that as counsel for the county council of York he had not called the attention of the warden and the council to the course of the Metropolitan, nor had he, as the representative of North York, as a citizen of that district, made any representations to the attorney-general or to the railway and municipal board.

"Nevertheless," he insisted, "I am in favor of what The World is doing and will co-operate in any and every way that is possible. The two-cent fare was a plank in my platform at the general election of 1904 and I will do all that I can to bring it about."

Mr. Lennox explained that he had been away, and although in the city at present, he is quite busy respecting some railroad arbitration. This led to the inquiry.

"Are you retained in any way by the Toronto and York Radial?"

"Am not," said Mr. Lennox. "Please say emphatically that I am under no obligations to that company, although I have no desire to be unfriendly to it or any other company."

At 6:15 yesterday morning a Newmarket car was halted by a World reporter at the Eglinton Postoffice. His desire was to journey to the town line (York and Markham).

"Fare," shouted the conductor at York.

"How much is a single fare to Steele's?"

"Twenty-five cents."

"How many miles is it to Steele's Corner?"

"Don't know, and less do I care." The reporter ventured to say that the distance is less than six miles, and consequently, the legal fare should be only twelve cents.

"Twenty-five cents, or get off," was the peremptory order of the conductor. Now, twenty-five cents for less than six miles' travel, one way only, is to the ordinary student of arithmetic, four cents per mile.

When arriving at Steele's Corner, the only other passenger on the car got off, and notes were compared. The passenger was Adam Peterman of Forest Hill, a well-known wholesale butcher. He boarded the car at Eglinton-avenue and held a return ticket, for which he had paid 35 cents. From Eglinton-avenue to Steele's Corner is exactly five concession lines, 6.1-1.4 miles. Dividing 5.1-1.4 into 35, and the result will show that the cost for every mile, round trip, cost 5.6 cents; or every single mile would cost the traveler 2.8 cents, instead of two cents.

Mayor Cane Indefinite.

Ex-Mayor Cane, president of the Liberal Association of North York, was asked to declare himself upon the two-cent-a-mile proposition, and also for his opinion respecting the position of his member of parliament (Hon. J. A. Aylesworth), who is retained by the Toronto and York Radial Co. He was not inclined to take any definite stand on the matter.

"I never figured in politics," he said, "except when Herb Lennox declared for the two-cent fare in 1903. Mr. Aylesworth never referred to it. Personally, I take but little interest in the agitation. Business men get special rates by buying commutation tickets."

W. C. Widdifield of Newmarket is taking a keen interest in The World's propaganda.

"I can assist in bringing about the two-cent fare," he said.

Asked if he would assist in the pending litigation, Mr. Widdifield said:

"There is no reason why I should not do so, if it is desired by The World's solicitors."

Something was said about the attitude of the members from North York. Hon. Mr. Aylesworth and T. H. Lennox, M.L.A., were mentioned.

"I am sure," said Mr. Widdifield, "that Mr. Aylesworth will do anything he can to enforce a law that is in the interests of the people, although in this particular case, no doubt, he may be embarrassed by the firm of Barwick, Radcliffe, Wright & Moss holding a reverter from the Toronto and York Radial Co. But I would naturally expect Mr. Lennox to take an active part in this matter for he made in the last campaign, a prominent issue in the two-cent fare."

Mr. Lennox yesterday assured The World that he would do anything that he could to bring about legal fares on the Metropolitan.

C. A. Jones, solicitor for Oshawa, and Thomas Morris, the town clerk, appeared before the board and municipal board yesterday to ask an order of the board to be issued for the extension of the town waterworks.

The board received an application from the Canadian Niagara Power Co., requesting that the plans of their transmission lines from Niagara to Eglinton, which had been submitted with a book of reference, should be duly certified. With some trifling exceptions, the right of way for the lines has been acquired by the company. The board has the matter under consideration.

To-morrow morning at 11 o'clock R. S. Hayes, barrister, Seaforth, will appear before the board on behalf of the Township of McKillop, Huron County. The municipality is applying to have a bylaw sanctioned, which will prohibit the use of part of the municipal loan fund for the construction of a bridge.

Surely Not!

Editor World: Speaking of Hon. A. B. Aylesworth and the York Radial reminds me of the night of his victory in North York, when he came down to the Toronto in a special train.

The direction of the chief counsel, under the company. He had the solid support of the railway in the contest. The farmers of North York are beginning to get wise as to their two-cent fare, and are beginning to think that they are sleeping in the same bed.

LONGLEGS.

Would Have to Swim for It.

"And what are you doing now?" enquired a clergyman of an ex-parishoner he had not seen for an year or two. "Am natter down," "A what?" "Natter down. As nall the deed folks down in the water, Am natter down."

"Oh, I see; rather a strange occupation," said the clergyman, with a shudder. "Aye, aye, have a queer class."

"What was that?" "The corpse had half a sovereign gripped in its hand. 'Oh, that's nothing to be afraid of,' said the clergyman. 'It's simply an old superstition, a ferryman who roves there in the Dark River.' 'Dye tell me, then, Am natter down?'"

Why Some People Go to Swim.

A milliner says that one day a woman came into her shop very much excited, and told her the trimming on her new hat had changed. She said the hat had been trimmed on the wrong side. The milliner said the saleswoman, "the trimming on the left side. That is where it ought to be."

"It doesn't make any difference whether it ought to be on the left or right or left, it's got to be on the left side. 'Church side,' gasped the astonished girl. 'The whole congregation is next the wall in the church, and I'm not going to have all that trimming next the wall. I want it on the other side for the whole congregation to see.' The trimming was promptly placed on the 'church' side of the hat."

NEW INSURANCE CREATED BY S.O.E. SUPREME LODGE

Juvenile Members Must Be of Protestant Parents—I.O.F. High Court Meetings.

Chatham, Aug. 15.—(Special.)—Supreme lodge trustees and their constitutional position were discussed by the supreme lodge of the Sons of England this morning. The extension of direct committee control over investments was not sanctioned and a notice of motion for the next supreme lodge to abolish the office as unnecessary in a co-operation was presented.

A second insurance department or class was created, whereby additional insurance, to the extent of $1000, can be taken by members of the existing beneficiary department, but provision is made for the new class to be self-sustaining and in no way dependent upon funds of the present beneficiary or other departments.

A boy, only one of whose parents is Protestant, cannot be admitted to a juvenile lodge, legislation seeking that privilege being refused by the supreme lodge.

It was enacted that only when a subordinate lodge has at least $1000 in funds could it invest 50 per cent. of its funds in debentures, etc.

The return of a member to his own lodge after rejection as a clearance candidate will not depend upon the ballot. The supreme lodge declined to legislate away the right of non-members of the beneficiary to vote on beneficiary matters in the supreme lodge.

A cablegram from Rev. Dr. Iken, the order's grand representative in South Africa, announced the institution of a day of an eastern South African grand lodge at Durban, and assurance of loyalty and devotion to the Canadian supreme lodge.

Lodge London, Juveniles, Toronto, telegraphed similar assurances. Suitable replies were made.

The supreme lodge declined to sanction a change whereby delegates' expenses to the supreme lodge would be met by special levy of 15 cents per head on the membership at large.

EASTERN ONTARIO I.O.F.

Brookville, Aug. 15.—(Special.)—The Independent Order of Foresters of the High Court of Eastern Ontario opened a two-day session to-day. Unusually large numbers of delegates and representatives of subordinate courts are present. The supreme court is represented by Hon. O. G. Stevenson, S.C., and Dr. C. Day Clark, assistant supreme physician.

Mayor A. Stevenson delivered the civic address of welcome, while D. Derbyshire, M.P., also extended a welcome on behalf of the Brookville courts. The high court was reported by the officers to be numerically and financially flourishing. The receipts were $9551.45, and disbursements $5743.53. The members on the roll on June 30 were 13,465, a net increase of 263 over deaths, lapses and removal from the jurisdiction. The receipts for the year ending March 31 were $10,000. The number of members on the roll on June 30 were 13,465, a net increase of 263 over deaths, lapses and removal from the jurisdiction.

Accepted applications for membership numbered 148. The companion courts are growing in number, numbering 15, with a membership of 823. The subordinate courts total 229.

The following officers were elected: committee the mileage and per diem allowance was made the same as last year, $1.50 per day and 5 cents per mile one way.

A telegram of greeting from Dr. Oronohayekha, S.H.R., at present in Montreal, was read.

CENTRAL ONTARIO I.O.F.

Orangeville, Aug. 15.—At the high court of Independent Foresters of Central Ontario, Rev. Mr. McGillivray, P. H.C.R., presented the high court with a gavel which he purchased in Bethlehem, Palestine. It is made of olive wood, grown on the Mount of Olives. H.C.R. gratefully accepted the sacred gift.

A recommendation was made to the supreme executive that Bro. F. S. Gordon sat mute, and was decorated with the grand cross of the order and Jewels of the order.

The following officers were elected: H.C.R., Alex. Cowan, Barrie; H.C.R., J. T. Scott, Caledon; high secretary, Dr. H. J. Niddie, Orono; high treasurer, Alex. Stevenson, Toronto; high physician, Dr. Murphy, Shelburne; H. Conellor and Andrew Smith, Millbrook; and auditors, Wm. A. Robinson of Camlinston and W. J. Galbraith of Brampton.

The second Tuesday in August, 1907, was the date selected to meet at Midland.

HIBERNIANS AT PETERBORO.

Peterboro, Aug. 15.—(Special.)—At the biennial session of the provincial convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, W. A. Wilsie, provincial insurance secretary-treasurer, reported that the finances were in an excellent condition. After paying all claims and debts on insurance there is a surplus of $8,200.

The matter of increasing the present insurance rate elicited a lively discussion, but no definite decision was reached to-day.

The convention concludes to-morrow.

KILLS NEIGHBOR.

Regina, Sask., Aug. 15.—With his left jaw shot away from the discharge of a gun in the hands of Joseph Gilbert, a farmer living six of the order and Jewels of the order.

Butte, Barrett Henderson, a wealthy cattle dealer from Charlottetown, P.E.I., died this afternoon in Regina Hospital, while undergoing an operation for his injuries. received this morning from the former's farm, and Gilbert is killing.

The dead man owned a section adjacent to that of Gilbert and recently bought the latter's farm. According to the story, Henderson went over to the farm this morning after some supplies, and while Gilbert was getting his gun out from the barn to shoot a grouper he accidentally discharged, shattering Henderson's face. The injured man ran to the house and was found by his wife, who called for a doctor. He had been murdered, and Gilbert ran after him flourishing the weapon.

The dead man, Josiah, has the reputation of being something of a crank, and it is alleged that he bitterly repented the sale he had made to Henderson of the family homestead.

AFTER ENGINEER MOORE.

Water Commissioner Makes Charges Which are Not Defended.

London, Aug. 15.—(Special.)—At the last meeting of the water commissioners, a motion was made by Commissioner Saunders that the resignation of Engineer Moore be asked for, on the ground that he had not exhibited the proper amount of energy in the direction of improving the water supply, which is very low at present.

The resolution failed to receive a second, as it was surprising to Mr. Saunders that the fact that neither of the city dailies has made the slightest reference to the subject. As a matter of fact, the other members of the commission sat mute, neither attempting to defend the superintendent or give any reason why his services should not be dispensed with.
