Then he began to recount the story, every day making his recital more lengthy, adding each time new pro testations and new reasons, with the most solemn conjurations he could think of, which he composed beforehand in his hours of solitude, his whole soul bent on this story of the

He fell away visibly day by day. Humorists meanwhile would encourage him to tell "the piece of string" that they might have a good laugh, just as one hears a lively story to be amused.

The Toronto World CHILDREN'S -HUMANE LEAGUE

The winner of this week's competition is Miss Irene Corney of the Centre Chapter of the League. For a child of 8 years, the letter below is uncommonly creditable. The writing was neat, punctuation correct, and, except for the use of capital letters a couple of times where they weren't needed, the spelling was perfect.

For next week's competition, we give the subject, "In the Garden." Preferably, we would like to hear of the doings of birds and insects, which have been observed. The children may, if they wish, however, draw on their imaginations for a sketch of an ideal garden, with birds and pets. The letters must not be longer than two hundred words and must be plainly signed with name and address of the writer. Only members of the League can compete. If you are not a member, fill out the blank beneath and send with your letter.

The prize is an enamel pin, with wreath, and the legend, "T. W. H. L."

CANADIAN WILD FLOWERS.

I love to roam thru the woods in springtime, and hunt amongst the shady nooks for the sweet-scented violets. How pleased we are to bring home a bunch of these beautiful little flowers to mama! Later comes the Golden Rod, with its tall, stately blossom and rich color, attracting every lover of wild flowers. And I have noticed dozens of people coming home from their outing with later bunches of them. So I think they must be a great favorite with our people

The Buttercup, I am told, is a great favorite with the cows. My grandma says, "It always makes the butter rich."

The Daffodil, bending its graceful head in the sun, is also a favorite. The Honeysuckle, with its long, clinging vine and its curiously shaped flower, white, tipped with gold, makes a lovely wreath, with which we often play May Queen? And last, but not least, come the Wild Roses; only we prick our fingers so often that sometimes we are almost tempted to leave them alone. Irene Corney,
