FOUND DEAD IN BED.

Henry Spencer Passed Away Without Warning-Was Discovered Sunday Morning.

The bearders at the home of Henry Pollard, 72 Albert-street, were startled about 8 o'clock yesterday morning by the report that one of their number, Henry Spencer, had been found dead in bed. Frederick Barker noticed the ghastly form in the room while passing the door, and he juickly alarmed the household. Dr. Garratt of Hay-street was called in and he gave it as his opinion that Spencer had been dead some hours. In turn Coroner Aikins was notified of the facts surrounding the death, and it is probable no inquest will be held. Spencer for some years past has suffered from an affection of the throat, which at time made breathing almost impossible. He had a severe attack about a year ago, and was discovered just in time to secure medical attendance by William McBride, a fellow-boarder. It is thought he was attacked by the throat trouble immediately after entering his room on Saturday night, for his clothes had not been removed when found.

The deceased was 56 years of age. He was a tinsmith by trade, and worked for Messrs. A. B. Ormsby & Co. at 126 East Queen-street for over a very with Drs. 8 o'clock yesterday morning by the report

Wildsor, Ont., Oct. 29.—Yesterday John Curry and William McGregor, M.P., purchased from S. McCutcheon of Detroit, executor of the estate of the late Hiram Walker, 3000 acres of land in Colchester, North Township, known as the Marshfield property. The price was in the neighborhood of 75,000. It was in connection with this property that Hiram Walker made the only serious business failure in his life. He bought the land with the intention of going extensively into the growing of cranberries. He put up expensive buildings, and graveiled 100 acres, on which he endeavored to grow cranberries, watering the plants from a big reservoir, covering 60 acres. But the berries would not grow. The experiment is said to have cost $250,000. The new owners will divide the property into small farms, which will be put on the market.
