FOR LONDON'S NEW INDUSTRIAL BOARD

New Name Is Chamber of Great Enthusiasm Shown by Both Men and Women, Latter Commerce.

FOURTEEN ARE ELECTED

Seven of These Are For Two Years and Seven For One Year.

The members of the new London Chamber of Commerce have elected by ballot fourteen men to manage and direct the affairs of their organization. The result of the election is taken to prove how leadership may be discovered and arrived at by the choice of a democratic majority. There were 588 votes cast in the final election for a board of directors and a very close count resulted. The election committee announces the election of the following members:

Two-Year Term.

George H. Belton.

James Grav James Gray.
Frank G. Jewell.
George M. Reid.
A. E. Silverwood.
C. R. Somerville.
One-Year Term.
Sir Adam Beck.
Dr. E. E. Braithwaite.
John Bridge.
Col, W. M. Gartshore.
Ray Lawson.
E. S. Little.

E. S. Little. J. K. McDermid.

J. K. McDermid.

The bylaws of the organization state that the seven members receiving the highest number of votes in the election, shall be declared elected for a term of two years; the seven receiving the next shall be declared elected for a term of two years; the seven receiving the next highest vote shall be elected for one year. It took 267 votes and more to obtain a position on the board.

Again, according to the bylaws, no officer or director shall be eligible for nomination or election to succeed himself consecutively. This means that the membership will expect the members thus honored to give to the organization and L/2.don their whole-hearted support and the best that is in them in service while on the board.

while on the board.

Some Could Not Act.

Several of the mominees on the final ballot publicly announced that, for good reasons, they could not serve on the board if elected. It is a fact that Major Hume Cronyn, M. P., A. T. Little, Geo. S. Gibbons and perhaps several others made this known to their friends.

Now that the Chamber of Commerce has elected its board of directors the completion of the organization will proceed without delay. Permanent quarters will be selected, and the members will launch out upon the activities of the year. With a total membership of 822, the new organization will represent the grants force in the city for the promotion and accomplishment of a better and greater London.

New Name Chosen.

The selection of a name for the organization proved very interesting. The final referendum vote resulted in an overwhelming najority in favor of the London Chamber of Commerce, which name received 399 votes. The name, London Board of Trade, received 163 votes. members, counted the returns in a very business-like manner. Following are the names of the committee:

DELEGATES FLOCK TO CITY TO TAKE PART IN LAURIER CONFERENCE

Enjoying New Experience -Many Old Liberal Standard-Bearers Present To Greet Sir Wilfrid.

One of the most enthusiastic Liberal gatherings held in London in a number of years is in progress today, a convention of Western Ontario Liberals for the purpose of conference with the honored chieftain, Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The fact that Liberalism is very much alive is evidenced by the large quota of delegates who have come in from each constituency.

This convention is unique in the history of political conventions in this province, from the fact that the democratic and just principles of Liberalism is province, from the fact that the democratic and just principles of Liberalism have been manifested in an equal representation of men and women, three men and three women from each constituency.

The executive of the London Women's Liberal Association acted as a reception committee to welcome the women delegates, who, on their arrival, were directed to the drawing-room on the second floor.

The rotunda and adjoining rooms rapidly filled up with men who exchanged greetings in the old-time manner before the entrance of women to the political arena.

Women Rejoice.

So far as the women delegates are concerned, their enthusiasm and interest is unbounded and they are rejoicing in the privileges of being present at the first convention after the war to hear Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

"They will have to close down for certain periods of the day," said E. V. Buchanan, when he was asked if he had any response to his request that the munitions manufacturers close off their power between the hours of 4 and 6 in the afternoons.

"How will you compel them to accede to the request?" he was asked.
"Why, we will simply throw the switch open," he replied.
"Have you the authority to do this?"
"We have the authority to throw off any circuit if the power is being used in excess of our allowance. Cause for Thankfulness.

"There are reasons without number why we should be thankful. Not much more than four years ago, unexpectedly, the horrors of war were let loose upon mankind. For our plighted words and for our interest we were obliged to take our part in the world war. Have we not more than once stood on the verge of defeat? Who held the foe in the dark days of September. 1914, at the tragic battle of Mons? Who opposed the enemy, who tried to break the line at the first battle of Ypres? Who prevented disaster to our fifth army at Cambrai last spring? Who was it that stopped the enemy as he came on, four, five, six, and seven miles a day?

"I have no intention of detracting in the least degree from the heroic actions of our army when I say that He who stopped the foe at the tragic battle of Mons is the great God to whom we ought to give thanks this morning."

Bishop Fallon declared that the kaiser called on the God of Might. "Arthur Currle, in his addresses to the Canadian corps, and Ferdinand Foch, who offered prayers every night, spoke not to the God of might and power.

To consider the grievances of the firemen, the special committee that was appointed to deal with the situation is meeting this afternoon at the city hall. A delegaton from the firemen is also present to give that side of the case. It is thought that there may yet be some interesting developments arising out of the situation.

It was possibly because of the fact that the committee ing out of the situation.

It was possibly because of the fact that the committee had been appointed that the question of the Tozer charges was brought up at the meeting of the council last night.

Controller C. H. Merryfield, who is one of the members of this committee, says that it is clearly up to T. Tozer to make any charges of theft he may wish against any of the firemen, but it is not the duty of the council to back up the charges in order to have them investigated under oath.
