

ART CLUB REOPENS
FOR WINTER'S WORKAnnual Meeting Last Evening—
W. S. Fisher Again Elected
President

At the annual meeting of the St. John Art Club held last evening officers for the coming year were elected with W. S. Fisher again as president. A musical programme was given and refreshments were served.

The election of officers for the coming year resulted in the selection of the following: President, W. S. Fisher; 1st vice-president, T. H. Estabrooks; 2nd vice-president, E. T. Sturdee; 3rd vice-president, M. V. Faddock; acting secretary, Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor; assistant secretary, Mrs. R. G. Murray; treasurer, R. G. Murray; curator, C. H. Fawcett; council, Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor, Mrs. W. Edmund Raymond, Miss C. O. McGivern, William Boudie, T. O'Brien and Dr. James Manning.

Reports submitted dealt with the activities of the previous season and plans for the winter. Mention was made of original book illustrations presented by Miss Helen Lett. Read now of Cambridge, Mass., the arrival of the Medal prints from England and the painting by Miss MacNichol purchased at the patriotic exhibition of the loan of manikins by F. C. Miles for models and an old spinning wheel secured for the classes. The art school will reopen when Mr. Faddock returns to the city.

Miss Amelia Green was heard in a reading "Life in London," the election being inspired by one of the drawings presented to the club by Miss Reed, who is also the author of the reading. The musical programme consisted of a vocal solo, in the "Time of Roses," by F. J. Hardiman; a vocal solo, "The Valley of Laughter," by Miss Valde Fenton, and a duet by Miss Fenton and Mr. Hardiman, Harry Dunlop acting as accompanist. Encores were demanded and generously given.

Miss Sadie Cohen, who won a prize at the local art school last spring has been awarded a scholarship in competition in Halifax.

51 YEARS AS THIEF

Klinger Declares After Half Century, "Nothing in It"

New York, Oct. 15.—This is a story of a criminal, who, after fifty-one years of thieving, has decided that there is "nothing in it."

His narrative is "Tiny Smith," sometimes known as "Blackie," and much less frequently by his real name, William Klinger. He is fifty-eight years old and has spent twenty-six of those in prison. Klinger was released this week from the penitentiary, where he had been serving thirteen months for larceny, but was brought to the Times to await the disposition of two other cases against him. On one of them Judge Crain may adjudge him an habitual criminal. The other is a case of forgery pending in New Jersey.

"I hope they don't send me over to Jersey. Before I die I'd like to have my freedom just once more. If I could get a chance to work I'd try to live straight."

Most striking of his statements was one that his fifty-one years of crime had netted him a total profit of only about $500. The goods he stole were worth many times that amount, but the "fences" were avaricious.

Out of a bank robbery many years ago in Harrison, N. J., he got nothing, as he was "outside man," and his confederates, who got several thousand dollars, "double-crossed" him.

"You ask me if I'd go straight if I got out now?" he asked. "That depends on conditions. Suppose I was turned out today. I haven't a cent. I've no friends, no one has the slightest confidence in me. I couldn't even get out of the city without help. If I was turned on the streets in this condition what could I do but steal?"

"But I'd be willing to work if I could get a job. I can work. I learned the painter's trade in prison, and Warden Murtha of the penitentiary will tell you I'm a good painter."

"There is nothing to this crime business. I'm glad to talk about it now, because what I say might help some other men to keep straight. They can see by what has become of me that being a crook doesn't pay.

"When I was seven years old my mother died and my father took to drinking. I didn't get cared for at home, so I went away and began selling newspapers. I used to sleep on a wall almost across the street from here. When I looked I went to a lodging house. Sometimes I had enough to eat, sometimes I didn't."

"I know Big Tim Sullivan. He was a ne'er-do-well like myself. Many is the black eye I've given him and he gave me five or six. Then I was taken up by the Whys and their leader, Driscoll, who was got afterward for a killing."

"I was caught stealing a roll of cloth from H. B. Clafin &amp; Co., and they sent me to the House of Refuge. I followed that with a term in Elmira for another robbery. As soon as I got out, me and a chap named German started in to do the same thing, and the next year saw me going to the pen for a year."

"I'd hardly got out before I stole a $25 watch from a woman and pawned it and they gave me two and a half years in Sing Sing. For two years after I got out I was making all kinds of money picking pockets and holding up men who had too much booze aboard."

"But in 1894 I got in with another crowd and we robbed a gimball of about $1,000 worth of whisky. We had a little influence in that case and all I got was six months. When I got out I went to Boston. There they got me on two charges and gave me from eight to fourteen years."

John Stevenson, farmhand at Hutchinson, Kan., saw motion pictures of the navy which proved to be so realistic that they made him seasick. There were views of moving boats patrolling the high seas which reminded Stevenson of his trip across the Atlantic.

No "rubbing in" is necessary with Mennen's

SHAVING is a daily nuisance. Why make it worse by abusing your face? Because of its particular properties Mennen's Shaving Cream softens the beard without the objectionable "rubbing in."

"Rubbing in" lather with your fingers is messy and disagreeable, and if your soap contains free caustic, the rubbing works it into your skin, causing smarting, burning, soreness, skin eruptions, etc.

Mennen's Shaving Cream is put up in sanitary airtight tubes with handy hexagon screw tops. Just try it, on your own face, then you will realize what a relief and benefit it is.

MENNEN'S SHAVING CREAM

DELIGHTFUL after shaving—natural tint—invisible—antiseptic and protective. Retains all the high standards of Mennen quality. Has a distinctive perfume and package make a hit with the masculine.

FOR THE LONE SOLDIER

At a meeting of Loyalist Chapter, I. O. D. E., on Tuesday evening, it was decided to hold a "Lone Soldier" day on Nov. 1. On this day members of the chapter will be at the Dufferin hotel sample rooms, King square, to receive donations, their object being to provide Christmas gifts for the soldiers at the front who have no relations to remember them.

Those who wish to contribute may find some suggestions for articles appreciated by the men in the following list: Tobacco, cigars, pipes, cigarettes, handkerchiefs, footlockers, matches, socks, towels, note paper, pencils, hard candy, nuts, raisins, chewing gum, soaps, shaving soap, tooth brushes, and tooth paste, foot-cases and insect powder, toilet paper, bachelor buttons, games, playing cards, baseballs and bats, reading matter.

The list is somewhat different from the one usually drawn up with so much forethought when planning the Yuletide gifts for one's friends, but, in the trenches, gifts to be appreciated must be strictly utilitarian, and it is the sentiment which the soldiers will feel behind the gifts, as well as their usefulness, which will ensure their warm welcome.

The donations will be packed by Loyalist Chapter, I. O. D. E., and sent through the Soldiers' Comfort Association.

The chapter suggests that citizens wishing to send Christmas gifts will pack them in small tin boxes to ensure their safe delivery.

LOOKING FOR WORK

Everywhere men complain about work; even boys and girls in school or business find work tedious and irksome, but it isn't the work half so much as their own lack of physical strength that makes it hard.

Rich blood, strong lungs and healthy digestion make work pleasurable in business, in school or even housework, and if those who are easily tired—who are not sick, but weak and nervous—would just take Scott's Emulsion for one month and let its pure concentrated food create richer blood to pulsate through every artery and vein—let it build a structure of healthy tissue and give you vigorous strength—you would find work easy and would look for more.

Insist on Scott's.

Simple Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.
