ADDRESS AND PURSE PRESENTED TO PRIEST

St. Joachim's Church Congregation Bid Farewell to Rev. A. J. O'Neill

The congregation of St. Joachim's church at Silver Falls yesterday took an opportunity of bidding farewell to their beloved pastor, Rev. A. J. O'Neill, who is to take charge of the Church of the Assumption in West St. John this week, succeeding the late Rev. J. J. O'Donovan. At the conclusion of 10 o'clock mass, Jeremiah M. Donovan of Coldbrook, on behalf of the members of the congregation, delivered the following farewell address:

To Rev. A. J. O'Neill, pastor of St. Joachim's church—Reverend and Dear Father:

We are assembled today for the purpose of bidding you farewell as pastor of St. Joachim's church and also to offer you our congratulations on your well merited promotion to a larger field of labor.

In saying adieu we are conscious of the great loss we are sustaining by the departure of one who, for the last sixteen years, has so ably guided and nurtured us for our spiritual and temporal welfare. The success you achieved by your efforts will be written indelibly on the memory of every one of your congregation; and whilst you go to labor in another vineyard, your example by word and deed will live fresh and green with us, nurtured by the thought that the work of your future efforts is near enough that you may still take a kindly interest in our welfare.

And whilst we regret your going, we wish to impress upon you, Reverend Father, that we glory in the fact that your marked ability and constant and devoted application to your calling has been so recognized by His Lordship as to summon you to assume the responsibility of so important a parish as The Assumption, and in a similar manner, we realize, will be the means of continuing the work so ably performed by your esteemed predecessor, the late Rev. J. J. O'Donovan, and win the hearts and co-operation of the faithful in the West Side parish.

In leaving you carry away the best wishes of an appreciative people, who are imbued with the knowledge that for sixteen years your every act, decided thought and his untiring efforts and results obtained won for him well merited promotion. While many friends in this city will regret to learn that he is leaving they will all unite in wishing him success in his new field and there also will be good wishes for his successor.

CAPT. JOHN BLACK AT '97

In the pages devoted to biographical bits about "Regular People," the Evening Star of recent date presents a picture of a resident of New Brunswick with the following remarks:

"The year before Captain John Black was born near Lepreau, New Brunswick, the first steamship crossed the Atlantic; and when he was a lad of eight he heard his elders scoffing at the first steam railway for passengers—even ladies. Now he is ninety-seven and he has seen more marvelous changes still. But nothing surprises Captain Black. "Everything you need to know is written in the Good Book," says he. And he should know, for he has read it through hundreds of times. Not a day has passed for eighty years without the captain reading a few more pages of the Bible, which he always carries with him."

SPRING SEEDING ALONG THE RIVER

Peas Already Above Ground in Some Gardens at Public Landing—Notes of a Week-End

Saturday and Sunday were ideal spring days at Public Landing. One could easily perceive the change from Friday night until this morning. The leaves are already out on the alders and crab-apple trees, the red buds adorn the maples, the willows are clothed in green, the violets, dandelions and adder-tongues are in blossom, and everywhere the brown of the woods and fields is giving place to living green.

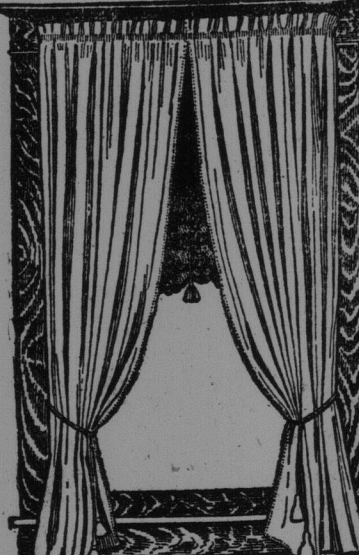

The river is still at freshet height, with the low wharves covered. The first raft of logs for the season passed the Landing yesterday. In a cove across the river a schooner is taking a load of firewood and at night her lights send a friendly gleam across the water. A large schooner with coal cargo passed up the river on Saturday. The various river steamers go up and down, and soon the pleasures of the summer will be enjoyed by increasing numbers of visitors.

The farmers are at work, and the land is in excellent condition for cultivation. In one field peas are already above ground. One summer dweller who went up on Friday night was able on Saturday to plant many potatoes, peas, beans, carrots, parsnips, beets, radishes, onions, lettuce and cucumbers, and doubtless the like was done to some extent by summer people at many points along the C. P. R. and C. G. R. within easy reach of the city.

There are fewer young men at the Landing than there were a year ago. The selective draft has brought the Class A men to the depot battalion in St. John, and labor will be scarce this year. It will be a handicap in Valley Railway work, as well as work on the highways and on the farms. Great progress has been made at the Nerepis all over bridges, and one can easily see now the ugly gash the railway has made through beautiful Woodman's Point.

Rev. C. W. Nichols, rector of Westfield, has returned from the southern trip for the benefit of his health, and conducted service in the church at the Landing yesterday morning. His health is much improved, and he hopes to take up his duties with much of his former vigor. Believing it to be a universal duty, Mr. Nichols will plant a garden before entering vigorously into his parochial work. In his sermon yesterday he laid emphasis upon the fact that the war is placing new emphasis upon three of the great laws of life—obedience, sharing and saving. The country lays its hand upon the young men, and they must subject themselves to danger. The common danger prompts all people to share with each other; and the threat of famine teaches the lesson of saving, and avoiding the wastefulness that marked long years of prosperity. Out of the war, despite its horrors, God will bring peace to the nations.

The Ocean, fresh with new paint, brought city people down this morning from the Landing along the river, including the Landing, Carter's, Belyea's and Sand Point. Capt. Flewelling and Capt. Layport, but neither rather light as yet. The farmers are feeding their potatoes because of the high price of other food. W. T. L. In the New Jerusalem came down this morning with a quantity of choice maple syrup, much of which was purchased by passengers. There were heavy greetings as people met who had perhaps seen little of each other since the close of the summer season last year. The river has called them back again to the old haunts.
