UNTENABLE, IS MAYOR'S COMMENT

His Worship Discusses Council's Position in the C.P.R. Transfer Matter

PUTS IT TERSELY

"Dispute Over Sewers Standing in the Way of the Development of the Harbor of St. John"—The Next Steps

The apparent deadlock between the city and the C. P. R. over the agreement for the transfer of the west side harbor lots as a result of changes made by the council yesterday afternoon is being generally discussed about the streets today. The entire matter seems now to be hung up over the question of the maintenance of the sewers.

His Worship the mayor in speaking of this matter this morning, said that F. R. Taylor, the representative of the C. P. R., had stated at the meeting that there was no use considering the matter further, if the council insisted on the maintenance of the sewers.

Reviewing the negotiations between the city and the railway company for the transfer of the property, the mayor, called attention to the fact that the company had refused at first to consider the fact that they should have anything to do with the building of the sewers. Later, however, through the offices of the minister of public works, it had been arranged that the company and the dominion government should jointly bear the expense of construction. They agreed to do the work in accordance with plans approved by the city engineer, the engineer of the department of public works and the railway commission. This would provide for any kind of material in construction that these officials decided upon.

Now, he said, the council steps in and says to the company, you must maintain these sewers. He thought the ground taken was untenable and that after two years occupied in dealing with the matter the affair should be definitely settled. It was a case of a dispute over sewers standing in the way of the development of the harbor of St. John.

Recorder Baxter will prepare a memorandum of the changes proposed in the agreement, and hand it to Mr. Taylor, who will then submit it to the officers of the company in Montreal. In the meantime the final draft of the document will remain in abeyance until a reply is received from the railway company.

MR. LIKELY GETS MORE PROPERTY

Completes Purchase of Barker Estate Portion of Every Day Club Grounds

J. A. Likely has secured the property known as the athletic grounds, from the executors of the Barker estate and with the property recently purchased from the Gilbert estate will utilize it for carrying on his lumber business. Already work has been started on the newly acquired site and a quantity of planks is being assembled for the purpose of building a trestle across the Marsh creek, on which rails can be laid and the machinery and stock from the present Main street site, transferred direct to the new ground.

The purchase of the Athletic Grounds, which was forecasted in the Times, when the Gilbert property deal was announced, will give the firm a splendid opportunity to construct an up-to-date lumber yard, while the Marsh creek will be utilized for storing large timber. A trestle will be built across the Marsh creek, on which rails can be laid and the machinery and stock from the present Main street site, transferred direct to the new ground.

The acquisition of the Athletic Grounds means the passing of this great recreation spot in so far as amusements are concerned and the Every Day Club, which has had a lease of it for the last few years will now be without a place on which to hold outdoor sports. It also raises an interesting question regarding the future of baseball, football and other sports, and puts the question of public playgrounds squarely up to the city council.

A Syrian woman, Mrs. Maggie Morey, complained this morning in the police court that she had been assaulted by four young colored girls in Queen street on Tuesday afternoon last. The Syrian woman told the court that the girls had called her names and that they had tormented her at different times. The colored girl had been among the number, but the defendant said this morning that she had not been out of the until witnesses could be called.
