

Miramichi and the North Shore, etc.

THE REMAINT.—See advt. SHIP NEWS held over.

COLE'S CIRCUS.—From reports which appear in the Ontario papers, it is evident that Cole's Circus, which is to appear in Chatham, on 20th inst., is a first class, Mammoth affair, well worth seeing.

HAYLAND, who positively declined to row in the Toronto Regatta and withdrew from the proposed match for the championship of America with Rose, has now challenged the latter, after stating that he intended to row in no more races. His course, is a rather singular one.

HAY-Island Range lights, which were erected last year, and lighted for the first time last spring, are complained of, as not being rightly placed. They are supposed to guide boats and light draft vessels from Neguac Gully to Hay Island Point, but, if depended upon, will cause them to run aground on the rocky shore.

ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday last week, a son of Mr. Hamblin, Regatta River, aged about 10 years, was playing in the field where his father was working, and in some way got in front of the moving machine, unobserved, and was badly cut about the ankle of the left foot. Under the care of Dr. McLearn he is progressing favorably. —Advocate.

PROCESSION.—A very interesting picnic is to be held to-day at Campbellton under the auspices of the Roman Catholic congregation there, in aid of the Presbyterial fund. Rev. Mr. McDonald, late of Chatham, has assumed charge of the mission of Campbellton and Dalhousie, and appears to be meeting with gratifying success in the good work in which he is engaged.

RACE CHANCE.—One of the best situated and most commodious large residences in Chatham—that owned and occupied by A. D. Shirreff, Esq.—is to be offered for sale by auction on Saturday next, 17th inst., at 12 o'clock noon. The house, with its splendid cellar, convenient stable and other outbuildings, garden, etc., ought to attract the attention of those who are looking for a permanent residence in one of the best quarters of Chatham.

MILL ACCIDENT.—BATHURST.—While Mr. Michael Power, Foreman at Messrs. K. F. Burns & Co.'s mill, was standing in front of the double elevator on Saturday morning last, a board flew from the saw and, striking him a little above the wrist, broke his arm. He had fallen struck in the body, it would, undoubtedly, have killed him. Great sympathy is felt for Mr. Power, as he is well liked among all the men of the mill as well as being highly esteemed by his other fellow-citizens.

THE GOVERNMENT STEAMER has been visiting the Miramichi lights during the past week, leaving supplies of oil, &c. It is a pity that material for cleaning the boilers, reflecting, etc., was not also provided by Government directly, instead of being obtained through second hands without competition, as the bills for the waste, chamois skins, towels, soap, paint, &c., for North shore light-houses are so very large as to have become a glaring suggestion of cookery by candle and wicking oil.

REMEMBER EPISCOPAL CHURCH PICNIC.—On Thursday last, a picnic in connection with the Sunday School of the Reformed Episcopal Church, was held at Ivory's Crossing. The train, which had been placed at the disposal of the party, by J. B. Snowball, Esq., left the Chatham Depot with the children and their teachers and friends at 10 A.M. The weather was fine and the day was spent very pleasantly, the children being entertained with games, swings and other amusements. Ample refreshments were provided, and the party returned home after a most agreeable day at 6 o'clock, p.m.

PRO-NIC AT REMOUE RIVER.—The picnic at Remoue River under the auspices of the R. C. Congregation of that place, was held on the 13th, in Murphy's field near the river. The weather was fine and the attendance was good. A very large dancing tent was erected, and various amusements were provided for the younger people, such as games, races, swings, etc. The day passed off very pleasantly, and the result was doubtless satisfactory to the Rev. Mr. Carter and his congregation, who deserve much credit for the excellence of their arrangements.

STILL KEEPING UP THE FARE.—Our references to the neglect of the range light at the old Tabusintac Gully, during the whole of last season, has had the effect of causing the keeper to light it this season. It appears that notwithstanding the well-established uselessness of both lights and the necessity for their removal, a new structure has been put up for the range light. Why the Department does not place the Tabusintac lights where they will be of some use, is a question which will have to be answered by it. It is said that the Inspector is to blame and, if so, his time of reckoning must also come, sooner or later.

POINTS RASCALS.—The Charlottetown New Star tells of a party of P. E. Island Conservative politicians who, whilst on a mission to Tignish with Mr. Carson, "went to the Catholic Church, and, after a blessed hymn and prayer on his behalf, and within the octave delivered an evangelical harangue in the Y. M. C. A. in St. John." —Freeman.

WE HAVE some of the same class of characters on the Miramichi—men who express their disbelief in the Roman Catholic Church in one parish and are piously attached to it in another—just as it seems to them to "catch the popular breeze"—who make an impious political trade of religion, and palter with national and class prejudices to make up for what they lack in personal merit and correct political principle.

THE BAND OF THE 62ND IN CHATHAM.—Mr. Hayes, Bandmaster of the 62nd, requests us, on his behalf, to contradict a statement in a Chatham semi-weekly paper, to the effect that he disapproved of the arrangements of the reception committee—that he or any members of the committee had anything to complain of. All that Bandmaster Hayes wishes to say, "is entirely untrue." —Telegraph of 8th.

WE publish the above in justice to Mr. Hayes, who was, no doubt, deliberately misrepresented in the matter referred to, through the agency of an inebriated person who intruded himself upon the Bandmaster while they were here, and thought it his duty to report back to his employers in a way that pleased them. The misstatement contradicted by Mr. Hayes was, however, only one of several hundred emanating from the same source.

time marksmen held a meeting, and passed the following resolution: Resolved, that in the opinion of this meeting the Council of our Provincial Association should confer together with a view of promoting the interest of rifle men from the Maritime Provinces, either by forming a Maritime Association, or by joining upon the Dominion Association the necessity of purchasing a range at a more central point and to be used only at Dominion Meetings. He has charged us with misrepresentation—we demand the reproof.

PERSONAL.—Hon. T. W. Anglin, in visiting his constituents in Gloucester and meeting with excellent receptions wherever he appears. The people of this Province are learning, in the experience of the last fourteen years' history, that Mr. Anglin's views of public affairs are to be relied upon, and that therefore have great confidence in him.

Mr. John Fairley and Mrs. Fairley have been stopping at the Royal for some time, in order that he might have the benefit of medical and surgical treatment, in consequence of a bruise, which he received in his hand. Under the skillful treatment of Dr. McLearn, Mr. Fairley is doing well, as his many friends all over the Province will be glad to learn. —Telegraph.

Mr. John A. MacDonald is returning to Canada from England, where it is now said he went in search of health.

C. W. Watford, Esq., M. P., is engaged in several cases at the Circuit Court now sitting at Newcastle.

Rev. S. C. Wells of Campbellton has joined the ranks of the Benedictines—another evidence of the good sense.

THE KENNEDYS appeared in Chatham Friday and Monday evenings last, and at Newcastle on Tuesday evening, having excellent audiences on each occasion. Mr. Kennedy was, as usual, the central attraction of the entertainments, and he received excellent support and assistance from his three daughters and two sons.

One of the latter, Mr. Robert, is a very promising tenor singer, whose voice displays much culture. The young ladies, too, have good voices, but their singing would be better appreciated if they were more particular in the matter of enunciation. The ballads they sing lose much of their quaint charm when the words are not heard by those unfamiliar with them. Master John's reels and strathspeys were well executed on the violin. The Kennedy is as off hand amusing and instructive as ever, being a thorough actor and dialect reader. The family have gone North, and when they come back again we are quite sure all their old friends and patrons and many new ones, will be glad to see and hear them.

Circuit Court.—The Circuit Court opened at Newcastle on Tuesday, His Honor, Justice King presiding. The Grand Jury sworn were as follows:—

John D. Craghan, Foreman, John Fish, Hugh Cameron, Allan A. M. Saunders, John Barr, James Buckley, Jas. W. Roddick, Albert Wambolt, George Hildebrand, Wm. O'Malley, John Fotheringham, Thos. Maltby, Alfred Pallen, J. R. Goggin, J. M. Sutton, George Hubbard, John McKinn, Thos. Vye, John O'Malley, John Faye, John Fotheringham.

But one criminal case—that of the Queen vs. Patrick Foley, charged with cutting a raft of logs adrift, was referred to the Jury by His Honor, who congratulated the County on its good moral standing as shown by the small number of criminal cases which were the rule at all its courts.

The causes entered for trial were as follows:—John Doran, the demise of William Baie vs. Geo. Russell and Mary his wife. A. A. Davidson, Esq., for plaintiff, L. J. Tweedie, Esq., for defendant. Prudence B. Searle, Executrix, and James P. Searle, Executor of the last will and testament of Michael Searle, deceased, vs. Joseph R. Goggin. L. J. Tweedie for plaintiff, A. A. Davidson for defendant. J. B. Snowball vs. Wm. Muirhead. Trespass. A. A. Davidson for plaintiff, L. J. Tweedie for defendant.

Wm. Muirhead vs. Wm. O'Brien. Trespass. L. J. Tweedie for plaintiff, W. A. Park, Esq., for defendant. J. B. Snowball vs. Wm. Muirhead. Assumpsit. A. A. Davidson for plaintiff, L. J. Tweedie for defendant.

Henry Gitchell and Eliza his wife vs. Geo. Barclay. Trespass. L. J. Tweedie for plaintiff, A. A. Davidson for defendant.

The Grand Jury found no bill against Foley. They also presented His Honor, Judge King, with complimentary address, to which he made a suitable reply.

Scrap for the "Advocate."—Respecting our remarks of last week on the Advocate's criticisms of Mr. Blake's failure to indulge in oratorical gymnastics we did say:—We do not say anything about ranting and prancing, but now that he has introduced the subject we may say that we heard all the ranting, and witnessed all the prancing we care to see in this County for many a long day—on the platform on that memorable Friday. The actor was our representative, whose violent efforts to say something excited our pity, and made us wish at the time that he belonged to any other County than Northumberland.

We hardly expect the Advocate to refer so candidly to the conduct of its representative on the occasion referred to, but now that it has done so, we should perhaps explain that it was in his capacity as the representative—as he himself alleged—of several leading journals on both sides of politics in the upper provinces that he was allowed a little more latitude than usual "on the platform on that memorable day."

between two stood one is very apt to come to the ground.

Here's more of it.—The Advocate states we misrepresented the Rev. Mr. Quinn in our last issue.—We were not at the dinner, but obtained our information from more reliable persons than the conductor of the "Pocket Organ." We challenge him to publish what the Rev. gentleman did say in replying to the toast of the "Pocket Organ." He has charged us with misrepresentation—we demand the reproof.

Logically the "Conductor" referred to is not a competent witness according to the Advocate's preaching—for he is "unreliable." But as the Advocate's representative could not cajole the committee into admitting him to the dinner, even tho' he pleaded that he was reporting for a "Grit" paper, we do not propose to give him information which he was officially denied the privilege of receiving.

Referring to the fact that the Advocate's censor found fault with one of its editors for representing a "Grit" journal at the Blake demonstration, that paper says:—If such be true, it showed that at least one Grit paper had not tried to be a one-sided account forwarded by Grit reporters, and was determined to obtain a truthful and unvarnished account for once at least.

The "truthful and unvarnished account" is understood to be one sent to the St. John's Globe, in which the demonstration was misrepresented as far as "Grit" representative" dared to do so. He stated in the Globe, for instance, that John Pickard, M. P., Hon. A. G. Jones and Senator Power were in Chatham at the demonstration, understated the numbers present, suppressed important points, and then passed as a truthful reporter of "unvarnished" fact. It requires nerve, brains and consistency in these days, to conduct even a weekly paper with moderate success. Lacking all three, and even the capacity to realise its perils, the Advocate invites the pity of its friends and the contempt of nine-tenths of the community.

Loss of the Bark "Nicator".—Our Bathurst correspondent telegraphs that the Norwegian bark "Nicator," 423 tons, Olsen, Master, laden with 910 standards of date, shipped by Messrs. K. F. Burns & Co., at Carleton place, while proceeding to sea on the 9th inst., ran aground in White Cove, near the entrance of Carleton Harbour. She filled with water in a short time and became imbedded in the sand. A survey was immediately held, and the surveyors ordered the deck and between deck cargo to be taken out.—This being done it was still impossible to ascertain the extent of the injuries, owing to water rising and filling with tide in the ship. A second survey was held on Tuesday, and the ship and cargo were ordered to be sold for the benefit of all concerned.

The sale is to take place within a fortnight, but the date is not yet fixed. Captain Olsen alleges the incompetency of the Pilot as the cause of the disaster. The Pilotage authorities are holding an investigation. The ship and cargo were insured.

Mr. Henderson, of Douglastown, one of our best shipbuilders has been sent to examine the Nicator by direction of the Norwegian Consul Agent at Quebec.

Echoes of Rev. Mr. Blake's Visit.—The Tory papers have, without intending it, contributed much to the great success of Mr. Blake's visit to these Provinces. Their persistent abuse of Mr. Blake and the Grits; their gross misrepresentations of his conduct, his policy, his motives, and even of his character; their desperate efforts to controvert or neutralize the effect which they knew his speeches were producing, and to persuade the people that to propose a reduction of taxation, an alleviation of their heavy burdens, was an unpatriotic attempt to ruin our manufactures, and destroy the property of the country, no doubt induced him to attend the meetings and listen to Mr. Blake's statements and arguments who otherwise might have been apathetic and indifferent.—Freeman.

Among the little meannesses indulged in by the self-styled Conservatives in connection with the recent Blake demonstration here, were several attempts by persons in their employ to be present at the party dinner given on the evening prior to Mr. Blake's departure. One person, who claimed to be a member of the press and was evidently intoxicated, forced himself into the place where the names of guests were being announced and demanded admission in the name of the press. He would take no reasonable explanation and special constable was directed to remove him. It is, therefore, not to be wondered at that the employers of this person should now engage in misrepresentation. The first case on the docket—one of ejectment—was still before the court yesterday, at noon.

Scrap for the "Advocate."—Respecting our remarks of last week on the Advocate's criticisms of Mr. Blake's failure to indulge in oratorical gymnastics we did say:—We do not say anything about ranting and prancing, but now that he has introduced the subject we may say that we heard all the ranting, and witnessed all the prancing we care to see in this County for many a long day—on the platform on that memorable Friday. The actor was our representative, whose violent efforts to say something excited our pity, and made us wish at the time that he belonged to any other County than Northumberland.

We hardly expect the Advocate to refer so candidly to the conduct of its representative on the occasion referred to, but now that it has done so, we should perhaps explain that it was in his capacity as the representative—as he himself alleged—of several leading journals on both sides of politics in the upper provinces that he was allowed a little more latitude than usual "on the platform on that memorable day."

The Advocate also says—Judgment was now howsoever passed where the people could hear the leader of the Opposition—and not at a dinner where a favored few, with closed doors, listened to his statements, to the exclusion of a large number of the friends of the party, who had as good a right to be present, but were excluded, for reasons best known to the committee.

Now, when "our representative" claimed the right to be invited to the dinner on the alleged ground of being there to report for "a good grit paper," he was plainly given to understand that his credentials were not sufficient; and his whining around the "closed doors" as "a friend of the party" can only cause people to laugh at him. When offered, some years ago, to remove the Advocate to Chatham and transfer its political allegiance to the gentleman who is now Northumberland's Representative at Ottawa, he met with the cold shoulder in the same way as when he desired to be admitted to the Blake dinner—all of which ought to teach persons who are ready to say, "Good Lord," or "Good Devil," as their selfish interests prompt them, that be-and Seventh streets. Its immense spread of canvas covers a eager crowd of night-earners, and also on each afternoon, when, with an unaccounted generosity, Mr. Cole gives, in succession, benefits for each charitable institution in this city. Linda Jael is one of the principal equestrians in this splendid circus. A graceful and 14 days, and a courage and valor to the sex, are her characteristics. She is simply superb in her poses and "chooses action." The horse bends to her perfectly and seems to be infatuated by her own daring spirit. Mr. O'Dale is the first in the rank of equestrians. Firm pose and graceful movement are his chief charm, and whether it be the mane of one or six horses, he is quite competent to the task, and in the case of both himself and Linda Jael, the ringing applause comes as a grateful, but deserved, tribute from the crowded amphitheatre. Linda Adelaide is also a beautiful and graceful rider. There are a thousand other attractions in this splendid equestrian establishment which will reserve for the future, but the world will exhibit at Chatham, Tuesday, Sept. 20.
