DROWNED IN COURTENAY BAY.

Strange Suicide of Mrs. Ann Gibbon

Left Home on Elliott Row Early This Morning—Body Found Shortly After—No Cause Known.

There lies at the Dead House the body of Mrs. Ann Gibbon, which was discovered this morning floating in the waters of Courtenay Bay, near the foot of Leinster street. The circumstances surrounding the drowning point inevitably to suicide during a fit of insanity.

Mrs. Ann Gibbon was a widow and for the last three years has been living with her brother, Thos. Hamilton, teamster for Bowman & Cole, residing at 104 Elliott Row. She arose early this morning and left the house without giving any intimation as to where she was going. Her brother saw her for the last time alive about ten minutes after six. At the time she was in the rear of the house apparently looking for something. He asked her, "What are you looking for, Ann?" Her reply was simply "nothing." At the time she appeared to him to be all right.

About half an hour afterwards she was missed from the house. A search was immediately set on foot, without discovering any trace of her. Mr. Hamilton then left the house, going in the direction of the railway tracks, when he reached a field that they were right and was soon attracted to a small group of people. As he approached he was horrified to find that they were gathered round the body of his sister. The body was found by Wm. Harrigan, track walker. He first noticed a hat lying on the track. His suspicions were aroused and he looked over the wharf into the water. The first object that met his eye was the body of the unfortunate woman. Assistance was quickly summoned and the police were notified.

Coroner Berryman was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the drowning. After viewing the body he ordered its removal to the dead house. The body when recovered was not completely clothed, a boot and stocking being missed.

The deceased was a woman fifty-one years of age. Besides her brother, Mr. Hamilton, she is survived by one son and two daughters. Her son is Melburne Gibbon, now residing in Boston. The daughter is Miss Alice Gibbon, and Mrs. Northrup. Besides the brother with whom she resided, there are two others, Oliver Hamilton, teacher, and David, of Highfield, Kings Co.

Mrs. Gibbon's friends are utterly at a loss to account for her rash action. She has been apparently in good health and has never shown any signs of mental trouble. Last night her usual demeanor noticed. She had nothing particular to worry her, being daily well-to-do. She owned a fine house in Kings Co. and her son is doing well in Boston. The only acceptable theory is that of a sudden attack of insanity, the result of suicidal mania. Mrs. Gibbon was a member of the Victoria Street Free Baptist church.

WAR FORGOTTEN IN RUSSIA.

The People Celebrate Easter With Merriment.

News from the Seat of War is Scarce—Russian Heroes Royally Welcomed.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 11.—The Easter merry-making is in progress, business is suspended, the government departments are closed and the bulletin boards are bare, except for the order for the mobilization of the naval reserves. Only three newspapers appear today, and they are in the form of flysheets. M. Moskauyev, the Grashdamm, pays a fine tribute to Prince Hilkoff, the minister of railways, whom he compares with the hero of the Balkan railroad to stimulate the workmen to perform marvels, like Peter at the railway at St. Petersburg. The minister will return soon to Balka to resume personal supervision of building the circular line around the lake which is expected to be running by July, a year earlier than planned. Prince Hilkoff expects to have seven two section military trains running daily.

In addition to the list printed yesterday, the Novo Vinya today contains the belated story of the officers of the Retivisan, Petro Pavlovitch, Gaydamak, Vasnyuk and Hilkoff, and the transport Angara. A new model Russian three inch firing gun firing eighteen shots a minute, is being issued to the artillery colleges of St. Petersburg for the purpose of instructing the senior cadets in the handling of these pieces. The Emperor will confer diplomas on them in May, instead of next fall.

VLADIVOSTOK, April 11.—The churches today have been crowded in observance of the Easter holidays with people praying. Many of the inhabitants who had fled from the city at the outbreak of the war are now returning here.

NEW CHANGING CLOSED.

CHE FOO, April 11.—(6 p. m.)—A Chinese steamer has just returned from New Changang. The port is closed and does not respond to her signals for them to take the vessel up the river. Two Chinese men were found this morning in the same predicament. The port of New Changang is practically closed to commerce.

TO HELP ALEXIEFF.

TIEN TSIN, April 11.—M. Pavloff, recently Russian minister to Korea, and St. George, are expected to arrive next for the purpose of assisting Victor Alexieff.

LORD INVERCLOYDE WARNS LIVERPOOL.

LIVERPOOL, April 11.—At a meeting of the Cunard Steamship Company the chairman, Lord Invercloyde, warned the dock authorities that if they continued to hamper the company's operations by increasing charges the transfer of the Cunard line ships to another port would result. Regarding the arrangement made with Hungary for emigrant traffic, Lord Invercloyde declared the Cunard line had no thought of attacking anyone. It was simply a matter of business, and he trusted the German lines ultimately would recognize this and withdraw their opposition.

YOUNG CORBETT IS SORE.

Still insists that He was Robbed of the Britt Fight—Of to England.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Young Corbett returned to town after an absence of nearly six months. Corbett is looking well, but did not seem as chipper as usual. His defeat by Britt still rankles in his mind and he admits that he is much cast down over the unexpected reverse. Immediately upon his arrival here Corbett went to the Hotel Metropole where he will remain while in the city. Last night the Associated Press reporter had a long and interesting chat with him. Of course Corbett's plans for the future were discussed.

"Naturally it may not be amiss at this time to say something about my recent battle with Jimmy Britt," Young Corbett said seriously.

"Well, you know the result. When I say I was robbed I mean it. I do not intend to give up the effort to fight Britt again. I will meet him on the same terms as in our recent encounter and will be satisfied to bet him $10,000 on the side that I will win. If this is not to his liking I will waive the side wager and fight him, winner to take all."

"I am booked to sail for England on the St. Paul next Saturday in company with my manager. I will be away at least two or four months."

FLOOD SUBSIDING.

(Special to the Star)

MONTREAL, April 11.—The St. Lawrence is now five feet below the top of the retention wall and unless heavy rains occur there is no danger of Montreal being further flooded, as the channel opposite here is clear. Verdun, a western suburb of the city is still under water, but the flood is subsiding. Three thousand people are flooded out of their houses at Verdun. At Three Rivers and Quebec the channel is clear. At Sorel, during the night a dredge was crushed and sank. At Batiscan the ice is still holding firm and crossings on foot were made this morning.

FOUND AT LAST.

"Who are you?" asked the shade of Darwin, as a strange looking animal appeared on the bank of the River Styx.

"I'm one of the missing lynx" replied the new arrival, as he shook the water from his pelt. "I just escaped from a travelling menagerie, see?"

AN EDITOR KIDNAPPED.

PUEBLO, Col., April 11.—Sensational developments are expected in the attempted kidnapping and assault of C. Danahy, the editor of an Italian paper, suppressed by order of Major Hill, commanding the militia in Southern Colorado coal fields, where a strike is now on. It develops that Danahy was attacked by six men after they had succeeded in forcing him into a back. Danahy asserts that he recognized two of the men as professional thugs. The police have secured evidence that the plot was directed by a man named Pagnini, formerly of Utah and the six men have since disappeared. The police are searching for them.

Every business acquaintance you make is valuable to you, and you can make hundreds of them a year if you are a regular want advertiser.
