I always use WINDSOR Table Salt.

YOU can't reasonably expect to make a light, flaky pie-crust if the salt you use is gritty, lumpy and bitter.

WINDSOR TABLE SALT is the standard in Canadian homes, among Canada's best cooks. It's pure and fine and won't "cake". Equally good for the table, for cooking and baking.

MR. LABILLOIS AND THE AUTOMOBILES

Dalhousie, April 4.

To the Editor of The Standard.

Sir— I notice that on the 2nd inst., Hon. C. H. Labilloy again moved in the House of Assembly to stop the running of automobiles one day in the week on the country roads. As a citizen and voter of the county he represents, I am very glad to note that the hon. gentleman has reduced the number of days on which he desires to prohibit the running of automobiles on these roads, to one day a week, and I feel confident that he will have a broader view of it by the time he goes back to another session and will forget, or try to forget, that the farmers of Restigouche are so much behind the times.

I have lived in a number of counties in eastern Canada and for the last eight years, I have been a resident of the County of Restigouche and I believe that I have done as much business with the farmers as the hon. gentleman himself. I have found them just as intelligent a class as any I have known, ever ready to adopt any modern method or machine that is useful. I would not be surprised to see some of our farmers using automobiles to come to market, before either Mr. Labilloy or myself can afford to buy one.

I have done business next door to the hon. gentleman for six years, and it amuses me to hear him say that hundreds and thousands of farmers were deprived of the enjoyment of driving to market on account of the use of the automobile. He even states that the use of the automobile is the cause of the farmers and their wives sending to departmental stores for their goods. The folly of this statement is apparent. It is only in the last five years we have had the automobiles in this country and long before that time Mr. Labilloy was calling upon the other merchants to devise some way to stop farmers from sending to departmental stores for their goods. I believe he was father of the idea that we should have legislation to stop these business houses from doing business in the provinces. Such actions as these advertised in the catalogue houses, as long as 25 years ago, and although I was very young at that time I do not remember that we had automobiles in the country then.

Now let us find out about that, as our friends think it, very dangerous automobile. Does he not know that there are almost as many horses afraid of locomotives as of automobiles, although the locomotive has been in use 35 years and the automobile but five? In the very district where our honorable friend was raised, not only horses, but people were almost frightened out of their lives when the first locomotive went through there, yet I never heard of a protest against the running of them. Then the bicycle came with the same effect, and today there are more bicycles used by farmers and their sons and daughters than by any other class of people. So it will be with the automobile in a few years' time.

I have been but two years in business on my own account and yet in that time I have brought more farmers to the county and spent more money in their interests than my honorable friend has in a much longer period. I have yet to hear a farmer say he was annoyed or retarded in his business by an automobile.

There was a time when our farmer thought he had a hard time to get to market with his produce, but he has kept abreast of the times in his ideas to a greater extent than has Mr. Labilloy and he now realizes that the problem is not how to sell more but how to produce more. Every farmer who quits worrying in the spring over how he is to get to market in the fall and instead goes to work and raises something to take to market when the time comes will be better off in the end.

If we quit advertising the catalogue houses and attend to our own business, always bearing in mind that purchasing needs as much study as selling, in the general mercantile business, at any rate, I am convinced that it will take less time to teach the horses of the farmers not to be afraid of the automobiles than it will take to teach our business men, or some of them how to buy properly.

Yours, for progress,
P. M. SHANNON

The ingredients of Magic Baking Powder are plainly printed on each package. The makers of the numerous alum baking powders never do this, but they have been known to print the words "No Alum" on their labels. This is no guarantee—it is fraud. See that all ingredients are stated.

McLEOD FOR COMMISSIONER

No Fads
No Deals
But a Square Deal

This Letter Explains Itself

Ald. Norman McLeod, Saint John, West.

Dear sir—We notice in your election address that you state you will stand for a square deal for all. Your past record does not prove it. When the above party made an application to the Board of Safety, "of which you are a member," for permission to speak on the streets, you said that you did not want the socialists howling about on the street corners.

At the same time you knew very well that the Salvation Army was howling and beating drums on the street corners. We only asked for a square deal and equal rights. We have it on good authority that you were against us. Now, sir, should your name be amongst the candidates for the second contest, we of the socialist party shall oppose your election to the best of our ability for your failure to try and secure equal rights to all citizens.

Yours truly,
A. TAYLOR, Sec.

Unsightly Skin Diseases

Disfiguring skin diseases always seem to appear on the face and hands, so that they cause a feeling of shame, as well as pain and suffering.

Internal treatments have never proven very satisfactory in the treatment of eczema and similar skin troubles, but when Dr. Chase's Ointment is applied you can see for yourself the benefits which are being obtained.

It soothes the inflamed, irritated skin so that itching ceases, and by its extraordinary healing power causes a new, smooth skin to form where the sores have been.

In every home there are many uses for Dr. Chase's Ointment, as for pimples and blackheads, barber's itch, chafed and chapped children's skin and wherever there is itching skin or a sore or ulcer that refuses to heal. This ointment is pure, clean and pleasant to use and may be applied to the most delicate skin.
