WILCOX'S JULY CLEARING SALE Ends Saturday, July 28th

This is one of the Greatest Sales we ever held, breaking all records of the past July Clearing Sales we have held before. You can get Clothing for Men, Wo-

Why we can do this is because we overstocked ourselves in the first place at old prices and have not advanced those prices lots have done, but intend letting our customers have the benefit, as we are satisfied with an ordinary profit. We believe in "Live and Let Live."

U. S. CANNOT SUPPLY ITS ARTILLERY

France Will Furnish Americans with Big Guns and Great Britain the Army
Rifles—Heavy Money
Waste.

Washington, July 23.—The war department announces that it will be impossible for the United States to furnish artillery for the American armies abroad and that France will be called upon to supply them. The official statement announced it would be useless for this country to try to build guns fast enough and that the comparatively few now on hand would be used for training the new armies.

Money Wasted.
In effect this means the money spent by the ordnance bureau of the war department in experimenting and perfecting American guns will be wasted, because the French gun will be taken over bodily. French type of munition must be used and American gunners must learn to handle the French field pieces. The decision of the war department virtually eliminates the ordnance bureau as a factor in the field in which it was supposed to be pre-eminent.

Government Is Blamed.
Brig. Gen. Crozier, chief of ordnance, is absolved from the responsibility for this condition. The department places it on the failure of congress to respond to the recommendations which he has been making for fifteen years.

The war bureau already has announced that the Springfield rifle which the government perfected and considered the best gun of its character, also will be thrown out of use immediately and the British rifle will be used, because this country has no facilities with which to turn them out fast enough.

The shelling of American artillery and the American rifle leaves the Colt automatic revolver virtually the only accepted weapon which a United States troops will use abroad.

DR. MICHAEL
CLARK MAKES SPIRITED APPEAL

country; and having put our polices of reconstruction before the nation, go to the country upon them.

A Patriotic Suggestion.
The Government is asking for a year's extension. The longest extension which has ever been given in the old country is eight months. The two right hon. gentlemen who have responsibility. One has discharged his responsibility. I leave my right hon. friend beside me (Sir Wilfrid Laurier) to deal with his in his own way. They enjoy in an unparalleled degree the confidence of their fellow citizens, and I say it would be a great thing for Canada and the Empire if they could get together yet and agree to an eight month extension which would take us over until next June.
In all probability by that time the war will have passed out of its acute stages, and the considerations which arise today will not then exist. I put this to my right hon. friends in the House as a patriot, as a lover of the country, as a lover of the Empire, and as a lover of the great cause that is at issue in this war. I feel, however, the appeal will be in vain. If they do not come together, we are going to have a general election.

Well, in that case, we shall have to say, let it come. Let this ravage of our dead be desecrated. There are twenty thousand or thirty thousand Canadian soldiers at the present lying in British and French hospitals. Let their hearts be wrung, as their bodies have already been wrung—so that we may settle which side is the most to blame for the loss of life, and whether it would not be well to have a change in the personnel of the Government at the present time.
My views as expressed in these few words are perhaps better put in an article in the London Daily News and Leader, of April 18 last; which I will read to the House.—The Daily News and Leader is not too indolently friendly to the present Government at Westminster, and April 18 was the day after the extension was carried in the British House.
It said:

The Bill for prolonging the life of the present Parliament passed its second reading yesterday. There was no serious opposition to the proposal, and there should be none. An election at the present time would be an outrage, which the country would very justly resent. There is no issue before the constituencies, and there is only one task for Parliament. It is to get on with the war. An election, so far from promoting this object, would very gravely interfere with it. It would raise political issues which the country does not want to see settled in the midst of the dominating preoccupations of the war.
We hope this will be the last extension necessary, but this extension is, on every ground, imperative.

Don't Betray The Dead.
As I said, I have not much hope of

THE ONLY MEDICINE THAT HELPED HER "Fruit-a-Lives" Again Proves Its Extraordinary Powers

Roehon, Que., March 2nd, 1918.
"I have received the most wonderful benefit from taking 'Fruit-a-Lives'.
I suffered for years from rheumatism and change of life, and I took every remedy obtainable without results. I tried 'Fruit-a-Lives' and it was the only medicine that really did me good.
Now I am entirely well—the rheumatism has disappeared, and the terrible pains in my body are all gone. I hope that others, who suffer from such dis-easing diseases, will try 'Fruit-a-Lives'."

my appeal bearing fruit, after the very firm and determined stand taken by my right hon. friend the leader of the Opposition, and we shall have to face an election. We shall have to go on with it. Well, the responsibility will be by the people of this country, and I do not think that, after the issues are fully debated and the circumstances fully understood, there will be much doubt as to where to place the blame or how to judge the motives which have brought about the election.

For my part, I would say, if the die is cast the sooner this debate comes to an end the better. Let us clear our minds of cant, and let us clear our conduct of sham. Let us get to the election. If there is to be an issue, let us get to it. If this matter should go to a vote, I would vote for the extension of Parliament, I should be afraid to do otherwise. I should be afraid to take any step, and I have not taken any step during nearly three years, which would cast any doubt anywhere that any but one public object I cared for at the time, and that that was the winning of the war.

I should be afraid to take any step which would lead me to fear that the thirty thousand Canadian corpses in France and Belgium might possibly rise out of their graves in the shape of ghosts and point their gaunt fingers at me as having, as a patriot, as a lover of the country, as a lover of the Empire, failed to do my duty.

KERENSKY IS IN COMMAND IN RUSSIA

Given Unlimited Power and Goès to Front in Attempt to Patch Up Army Break.

Petrograd, July 23.—The council of soldiers and workmen's delegates and peasants of all Russia voted today, after an all-night session, to grant the government of Premier Kerensky "unlimited powers" under the title "government of National Safety" for the re-establishment of public order, both at the front and at home.

Kerensky Goes to Front.

London, July 23.—(Delayed)—Premier Kerensky has again started for the front at the instance of the central committee of soldiers' and workmen's delegates, according to a Reuters' despatch from Petrograd.
Despatches from Galicia state that the breach in the Russian line is eight miles wide and ten miles deep.
The Bourse Gazette says that at a meeting of delegates from regiments at the front it was resolved that it had become imperative to turn all the authority over to M. Kerensky.
