Light Wines

And Beers

To Vote for These July 10th Means to Defeat Prohibition — H. A. Powell's Unique Experience.

H. A. Powell, who has returned recently from an eight thousand mile trip in the United States, and a few Ontario points made the interesting statement that during all that time he had never seen an intoxicated person, and while in association with his brother members of the Waterways Commission he had been entertained extensively, he never in a single instance had the slightest indication of liquor come under his notice. Instead Mr. Powell came in contact with the deep rooted impression that Prohibition is the greatest uplifting movement of the century. By gradual process Mr. Powell expects to see similar Canadian conditions, and, in commenting upon local criticisms, the eminent lawyer referred to the fact that laws against thieving and murder had been on the statutes in England for over a thousand years, and, while crime still existed, the extent of same would be unthinkably without the law. Mr. Powell believes the prohibitory law is a parallel instance, and that even if deserving of criticism such facts should not discredit the law. Voters should remember that a vote for Light Wine and Beers will mean to kill prohibition; also that victory July 10th means that we will ultimately have real Prohibition similar to that now enjoyed in the United States.—Advt.

June Brides

McPherson-Ross. Special to The Standard. Richibucto, June 18.—A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride, when Rev. T. S. Gardner officiated in marriage Margaret Mathilde eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ross to George Bruce McPherson of Mylster, Scotland. The bride who entered the drawing room on the arm of her father, looked charming in a suit of beige velvet with hat of beige and blue and carried a shower bouquet of carnations, sweet peas and maidenhair ferns. She was attended by her sister, Nellie, who wore a suit of navy tricotine with taffeta hat and carried American Beauty roses. The groom was supported by Raymond F. Bernard, of Moncton, a cousin of the bride. The ceremony was performed under an arch of chrysanthemums and ferns, in the presence of near relatives and friends of the family. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served. The dining room was tastefully decorated with roses and lily of the valley. After the ceremony the happy couple motored to Moncton. From there they will visit St. John, Montreal, the Great Lakes, Winnipeg and other Canadian cities. They will reside in Prairie River, Sask., where the groom is an extensive land owner. The bride brought beautiful and costly gifts received testify to the esteem in which the young couple are held. The groom's gift to the bride was a pin of white gold set with pearls; to the bridesmaid a pearl pin, and to the groomsmen cuff links. The bride will be greatly missed in social circles. She was a member of St. Andrew's church and has been employed on the clerical staff of R. O'Leary's store. The groom has been much active service, being in France with the First Division and Army of occupation. He was decorated twice, receiving the 1914-15 star and the Military Medal for bravery on the field.

Kearns-Conley.

George Morris, pastor of Queen Square, Methodist church officiated at the ceremony and only a few intimate friends of the participants were present. The happy young couple, who have the warm wishes of a host of acquaintances, will make their home in the city.

Gifted Lady

In The City

Miss Katherine Hughes, Provincial Archivist for Alberta, an Author and Newspaper Writer, En Route to Former Home in Prince Edward Island.

Miss Katherine Hughes, one of Prince Edward Island's most gifted daughters is in the city at present en route to her former home. Miss Hughes was engaged for some years in newspaper work, and later was the provincial archivist for Alberta. She is also an author of note. During the war she was attached to the offices of the Agent General of the Province of Alberta, in London.

A Standard reporter interviewed Miss Hughes last evening. Asked by the reporter if she was in the Maritime Provinces searching for material for a new book or was it just a vacation, Miss Hughes replies that the last book she had written was the life of Sir William Home, since then all her energies had been devoted to other things. She had not really time to write.

"Our Canadian soldiers risked, and many gave their lives for freedom. I am giving my life in the same cause. The definite shape is to help advance the 'Self-Determining' for Ireland League' in Canada. Already there are similar leagues in England and Australia. As a Canadian I believe that this movement will be supported by Canadians of all races and creeds who want to live in times of peace, up to the ideals of human liberty for which Canada sent her sons to fight in Europe.

The aim of the league is to secure organized support for the right of the Irish people to choose freely their own governmental institutions and their relationship with other nations without coercion or dictation from outside.

"During the war I was overseas with Alberta government offices in London. Our offices were turned into clubs for Canadian soldiers and sailors. I know what our Canadian boys fought for and that is what I am fighting for now."

The reporter asked if she had anything to say in regard to the London-derry riots which are at present agitating Ireland. "It is significant," she said, "that the Unionist soldiers are largely composed of British ex-soldiers. It is also a well known fact that a large number of British soldiers have been in Ireland for some time. They are well armed, while the Irish rioters are ill-armed. To my mind the British troops used their machine guns as soon as the Sinn Feiners became better-armed. My interpretation of London-derry as being the result of deliberate provocation is exactly in a line with what Sir Herbert Samuel said last year, speaking at St. Albans, in a public address, when he said 'If what is happening in Ireland had happened in Austria before the war all England would be ringing at the outrage.'

A meeting of the League was held some weeks ago in Montreal. It was addressed by Rev. Dr. Irvin of Killalea, Belfast, one of the most prominent Presbyterian divines in Ireland, when he spoke in favor of the League.

At that meeting, over one thousand members were secured. Miss Hughes also said that wherever they go wonderful support is met with. A convention of the League is to be held in Toronto in September. Miss Hughes will return to the city after a visit to the island and it is her intention to hold a public meeting at that time.
