H. R. Emmerson, the member for Westmorland, N. B. In alliance with Mr. Hance Logan and other Maritime members, Mr. Emmerson "fillbustered," as our neighbors say, and made such a success of helding back the measure that the proof helding back the measure that the promoters finally yielded the point and announced that they were willing to extend the line to St. John so that Canadian produce could be shipped in winter over the Grand Trunk from a Canadian port. The winters was a possible one but by no victory was a notable one, but by no means Mr. Emmerson's first. He is by the New Brunswickers, and his victory in 1900, when he gave up the premiership of the province to contest Westmorland against Mr. H. A. Powell, was an extremely popular one. Mr. Emmerson was born in 1853 at Maugersville (N. B.), of a color of the property of the province of the premium an old colonial ancestry. He is a barris-ter, a business man and a leader in Bap tist church work. He had been in New Brunswick politics for many years before becoming premier in 1897. The general election during his term as leader result ed in the return of forty-one government oandidates and but five opposition.—Toronto Globe.

DIGBY IN DARKNESS YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Digby, June 3-(Special)-Digby is dense with smoke and business has been at a standstill since early this afternoon. Although the forest fires have been raging throughout the country for several weeks, our local fires are no worse than they have been during the past few days.

All efforts have failed to locate the cause of the dense smoke this afternoon, but it is generally supposed that the but it is generally supposed that the northwest wind is carrying the smoke across the bay from the Maine and New Brumswick coast. The town was in darkness at 3 o'clock but the electric lights were turned on after 4 o'clock and everything from that hour presented an evening appearance. It is thought by some that the snoke is coming from the fires at Rossway, St. Bernard's and elsewhere in this county. Gaudetes at White Cove was destroyed by fire yesterday and also a large quantit
