

UNB host UBC foresters

By GEORGE VON JAGOW
Brunswickan Staff

This past week the foresters of UNB have been acting as hosts to some fellow forestry students from the University of British Columbia. Next week the reverse will happen. It's all part of the government's "Open House Canada" exchange program, which is sponsored by the secretary of state. The objective of this program is to allow Canadian university students to gain awareness about communities in other parts of the country. With the two top forestry schools in Canada taking part, an educational program is also being stressed.

This past week has been full of events which cover both criteria. The program was as follows.

Saturday, February 28, UBC students arrived.

Sunday, March 1: Sports Day and Bean Supper followed by an evening at the Social Club.

Monday, March 2: tour of campus and Fredericton during day followed by an evening of Maritime entertainment.

Tuesday, March 3: tour of Maritime Forest Research Centre, East vs West hockey game, seafood dinner, (oysters, salmon, haddock, cod, chowder).

Wednesday, March 4: trip to Ste. Anne de Nackawic (Valley Forest Products) and King's Landing. Talk on Maritime logging concepts. Evening of roller skating.

Thursday, March 5: trip to Opus Craft Centre and Mac-taquac Park, optional trip to Halifax.

Friday, March 6: trip to Tracy and Saint John for pressure treating, city tour, Atlantic Ocean and brewery tour.

Saturday, March 7: Farmers Market in the morning. Flight leaves for Vancouver in the afternoon.

Reaction from the westerners to our Maritime way of life has been quite favourable.
