THE DAY OF DECISION.

Kipling Speaks Strongly on Canada's Immigration Policy.

Mr. Rudyard Kipling at a recent banquet in Victoria, B. C., after a charmingly worded reference to the work of the men who had managed to "make of Victoria a magnificent city and at the same time to keep intact the magnificent treasure-house of its natural beauty," dwelt on immigration, and promised that on his return he would embody his views on Canada in some form. He contrasted the happy condition of the Canadian people with those of the United States, and went on to point out the difference between Oriental and continental European immigration and settlers of British origin.

In the one case the immigrants regarded law as a monster. They were born in fear and reared in the panic necessary to the life of a fugitive. He continued Mr. Kipling, to evolve an elaborate scheme of education to instruct the immigrant from Great Britain how to talk the English language or to teach his children the rudiments of citizenship. He knows that he may have to learn much and to unlearn much, but at last he will have the same powers and possibilities as yourselves and follow the same ideas even as your fathers did along lines that you know well. He seeks only room to develop his powers and his capabilities, and this room, I conceive, is offered in your vast Dominion.

"It is possible that in your strength you may think that this is not an urgent question, but the time is coming when you will have to choose between the desired reinforcement of our race and the blood of the undesired of races to whom you are strangers, whose speech you do not understand, and from whose influence and traditions you are separated by thousands of years—that is your choice. For myself I think the time for making that choice is on you now."

TROUT AT HOME.

Poetic Angler Describes Gamey Fish In Own Haunts.

Whoever has had the privilege of lying at full length on some mossy overhanging bank while watching a large trout in his lair, perceives that a true figure has yet to be drawn of him. Even photography can give no idea of the power and grace of the dorsal fin undulating loosely about the broad back; of the perpetual fanning of the pectoral fins; of the capacious gills opening and closing, the half-open round mouth, the luminous brown eye, the ceaseless slow vibration of the powerful tail; nor can pen adequately describe the startling suddenness of the dart at some idle fly touching the surface, the quick return to the old position and the resumption of the poise with the head elevated at a slight angle, pectorals all tremulous and floating wavy circles emanating from every slight motion of the body. It is as if a fourth while to watch a trout rush four feet up a perpendicular fall of water, pause, tremble violently all over, and in a moment throw itself clear of the stream and fall into the basin above, at an elevation of about three feet and more.

Cheese Too Green.

Mr. J. A. Riddick, Dominion Dairy Commissioner, has recently returned from a three months' tour of the trade centres of England and during his stay spent some short time on the continent of Europe, principally in Holland, where he was attending an international dairy congress at which 26 countries were represented. The discussions at the congress turned upon many matters regarding the dairy trade on that side of the water, but principally with regard to the prevention of the adulteration of butter for export, and also with matters regarding tuberculosis in dairy herds.

In regard to Canada's trade with Britain Mr. Riddick addressed the Chambers of Commerce at Glasgow, Liverpool and Manchester, and paid a visit to various unloading points. London has had cold storage accommodation for some time, and the C. P. R. has recently erected cold storage sheds and equipment at Liverpool. The goods as at the Surrey dock in London, the butter and cheese are unloaded right off the ship into cold storage.

During his stay in England Mr. Riddick heard many favorable comments on the good accomplished by the Fruit Marks Act in the establishing confidence in the trade. The packing of Canadian fruit, however, will yet admit of improvement. The dairy commissioner also heard many complaints of the green cheese that was shipped to Britain in the spring when the prices were high. A voice was heard speaking strongly against leaving for Canada.

Surgery to Cure Insanity.

The question of curing insanity by a surgical operation was dealt with recently by Dr. Bernard Hollander, the well-known alienist, in a lecture before the British Psychological Society. Some time ago Dr. Hollander published details of a case of mental derangement which he had cured by trephining, since when he has continued his investigations in that direction. He gave evidence of the support of his contention that insanity, especially in its early stages, does not involve the whole brain, but only limited particular areas, and it is often amenable to surgical treatment.

Character From Boot Heels.

It is observed that a man who wears down the heels of his boots or shoes equally may be safely set down as an energetic man of business or a trust-worthy official. Heels worn on the outer sides are said to reveal imagination, poetic instinct and an adventurous spirit. If they are worn down on the inner side it shows the wearer to be weak and undecided in character. Moreover, the professor adds, this last sign is more to be relied upon in the case of men than of women, as the high heels of the latter divert whatever physical significance they might otherwise have.

Old French Dial Ring. "A dial ring," said the curio dealer. "A French dial ring of the eighteenth century. You can tell the time with it."

The ring of gold was beautifully chased, and where the stone sparkles usually there was set a tiny sundial. "All you have to do," said the dealer, "is to stand in the right way, holding the dial so that the sun strikes it, and a tiny shadow will tell you the hour. Such a ring," he concluded, "is more a curio than an accurate timepiece. It is only good in the locality it is made for, and even there unless it is set to ward the right point of the compass, it will be several hours out of the way."

A Woman's Back

Has many aches and pains caused by weakness and falling, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness.

If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quick relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cures. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful, or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle-wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills.

EUROPEAN BEACHES.

Their Methods and Bathing Suits Very Different From Ours.

In Europe there is no lounging on the beach in bathing suits. On this point the foreigner is apt to criticize the American woman and to point out that when the women in Europe put on bathing suits it is for the purpose of bathing and not of sitting on the beach, high and dry, out of the reach of even the largest wave. There are many reasons for this. One is the consideration that prevents me from making any illustrations of them. They generally are not fit for sight or publication. It would take a very small wave indeed to thoroughly drench the most elaborate of the costumes commonly worn by the ladies throughout Europe when they go bathing. Of course the conditions are different. In Europe madame does not have to cross the beach in her scanty attire. When she enters her bathhouse she is in full street regalia, and as the house is then wheeled out into the water, when she emerges for her dip she is visible only for the brief time it takes to plunge into the water, and she enjoys her swim without the embarrassment of skirts. When her bathhouse is wheeled back and she appears on the beach she is again in street costume. Then, too, there are many beaches on the continent, such as the Damerstrand in Nordsee, where gentlemen are excluded until a certain hour of the day—Charles F. Peters in Bohemian Magazine.

PERUNA A WONDERFUL BOON IN MY OLD AGE.

MRS. MAHALA REID.

Heartily Approves of Peruna and Man-a-lin for Kidney and Bowel Trouble.

MRS. MAHALA REID, Corbyville, Ont., Canada, writes:

"Your celebrated remedies have been a wonderful boon to me in my old age."

"I have not been in so good health for several years as now. I was troubled with constipation, rheumatism and kidney trouble."

"A little over two years ago, I completely lost my health, becoming almost helpless, when a dear friend sent me your remedies, Peruna and Man-a-lin. I began to take them, following the directions on the bottle. I very soon began to feel benefited by their use and continued to take them."

"I am now completely recovered from the above ailments, in fact, better than I have been for years past. I cannot praise the remedies too highly and will always recommend them to others."

Constipation is almost sure to set up other derangements.

Retained accumulations within the bowels are partly resorbed into the system, producing sometimes rheumatism, sometimes kidney trouble.

Regular bowels are a great safeguard to health. Peruna and Man-a-lin are unexcelled the world over for chronic diseases affecting the bowels and kidneys.

Mrs. W. W. Lamaster, 3127 McAtee Ave., Louisville, Ky., writes:

"I suffered for twenty-six years with bladder and kidney trouble, and being advised to give Peruna a trial, I did so. Eight bottles of Peruna and three bottles of Man-a-lin entirely cured me."

A Duel With Fists. San Francisco, Oct. 17.—The army transport Logan Tuesday brought, as prisoners, Capt. James R. Lindsay and Capt. Henry S. Wygant, both of the 18th U. S. Infantry, for engaging in a fist fight.

They refused to disclose the reason for their encounter.

The Scholar.
Dr. Evans, a witty member of the parliament at Melbourne, was an old man, and the other members jokingly spoke of him as belonging to the era of Queen Anne.

Once, while making a speech, he referred to Queen Anne and was greeted with cries of "Did you know her?" "What was she like?"

"Yes, sir," retorted the doctor, "I did know her. The scholar is contemporary with all time."

Borrowing Trouble.
"Ever since his wife has brought suit for divorce he has looked terribly worried."

"He oughtn't to worry; she'll probably get it."

It Pays.
"How do you find things out this way?" asked the stranger.

"By advertising for 'em," was the prompt reply of the native.—Detroit Free Press.

Perfectly Charming.
"You seem to find your book very interesting, Miss Maidstone."

"Yes, it is one of the most charming stories I have ever read. And so true to life. Every man in it is a villain."
