One of Wolfville's two centenarians passed away yesterday afternoon, in the person of Mrs. Sarah Spencer, relict of the late William Spencer. She was 102 years of age, and until quite recently was remarkably active and well in health. She was a native of Palmouth. The funeral takes place on Saturday afternoon.

In another column appears an advertisement offering a reward of $50.00 for the recovery of the body of the late M. G. DeWolfe, who was drowned in the Cornwallis River at Kentville last Sunday morning. It is thought that the body has been carried by the current out of the river and may be found on the shore of Minas Basin.

Prof. Hartmann will deliver a lecture on 'The Place of Idealism in Life' at the meeting of the Athenaeum Society of the College at 7.30 o'clock on Saturday evening of this week. The meeting will be open to the public, who will no doubt take advantage of this opportunity of hearing the learned professor. No admission charged.

A full line of fishing tackle, split bamboo and steel rods, flies, casts, etc., at J. F. HICKMAN'S. See his window display.

Capt. A. W. Davison and wife, of Vancouver, and Mr. Wiley Margeson, of New York, who are visiting at Dr. Margeson's in Hantsport, spent a day in Wolfville this week at the home of Rev. W. H. Robinson, Capt. Davison has been commanding H. M. S. Montague, of the C. P. R. Pacific line, and after two months' vacation spent in Nova Scotia and at Rocky Mountain resorts, he will take command of the 'Empress of China,' on the Pacific route. Mr. Wiley Margeson, a former graduate of Acadia, is practicing law successfully in New York city.

An event to which Wolfville people will look forward with interest will be the presentation of a musical play entitled 'The Japanese Girl,' by the Acadia Seminary Glee Club, on Friday evening, May 14th. The work, a most musical and interesting production, will be given under the direction of Miss Elise D. Merson and Miss Frances Tru, of the Seminary staff, which ensures its success. Miss Edythe King, soprano, of the vocal department, will take the leading part, assisted by Misses Mabel Elkin, Charlotte Layton, Annie Miller, Helen Knowles, Eva Frodsham, Ella Vance, and members of the Glee Club. Bright choruses and glees, beautiful solos, a witty dialogue and handsome costumes will combine to provide an entertainment of a high order.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. Helen Pisco, of Sheffield Mills, is visiting at Dr. R. V. Jones'.

Mrs. Noble Crandall went to St. John on Wednesday, to visit her son, Mr. C. F. Crandall.

Mr. John W. Borden, who has been spending the winter in Boston, returned to Wolfville last week.

Mrs. (Dr.) K. V. Jones is spending a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. J. S. Margeson, at Berwick.

Mrs. F. W. Woodworth left on Wednesday to visit relatives and friends in Maine for some weeks.

W. H. Blanchard, Esq., of Windsor, spent Sunday in town, visiting his daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) G. J. C. White.

Mrs. William Fielding left on Saturday last for Melrose, Mass., where she will spend some weeks visiting relatives.

Miss Murphy, who has been residing in Wolfville during the past year, left this week for Bedford, where she will make her home.

Mrs. C. B. Whidden left last week by the steamer Empress of Britain for Halifax for England, where she will join the Misses Richardson and spend the summer in travel.

Miss Treva Mitchell left on Wednesday for Boston, where she intends taking a course for nurse at the Emerson Hospital, Forest Hill. She will be missed very much by her many Wolfville friends, who will follow her with best wishes.

It will interest the many friends of Mrs. Louise Cowan Bigelow to know that she is now en route for Paris to further complete her musical education. Mrs. Bigelow's recent rendition of famous operas before the musical critics of New York were of so encouraging a nature as to unite them in urging her to go abroad. Mrs. Bigelow is the possessor of a lyric soprano voice of rare beauty and richness, and which has recently developed marvelous flexibility and brilliancy under the instruction of Madame Frida DeGebele Ashforth. Mrs. Bigelow's career will be watched with great interest, particularly by Wolfville friends.

Wolfville Boy Ahead.

YOUNG WORTMAN LEADING IN STANDARD OF EMPIRE CONTEST.

W. Karl Wortman, of the Wolfville public school, is till ahead of all other contestants in Nova Scotia in the free trip to the Old County contest inaugurated by The Standard of Empire. On April 1st Wortman had 2110 votes. If he is well supported by local assistance it is quite likely that Nova Scotia will be represented by a Wolfville boy.

Twelve high school and collegiate institute students from all parts of Canada are being given a free trip of three weeks in England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales by The Standard of Empire. The boy who secures the greatest number of subscriptions in Nova Scotia will join the party, which sails on the 'Empress of Britain' on July 16th.

Anyone desirous of helping young Wortman in his fight for Wolfville can communicate with him at his address, University avenue, Wolfville.

A Good Man Gone.

The death of Joseph Lovett McKenna, one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of Kings county, occurred at his home in Kingston on Sunday last. The deceased was born at Tremont, this county, on Dec. 6th, 1821, and was thus in his 88th year. He spent his life near his old home, where he engaged extensively in farming and acquired a fine property. Better than this he earned the fullest esteem of all who knew him and was known as a man of sterling integrity. He was married in 1845. His wife who lived to celebrate with him the 60th anniversary of their marriage, passed away in 1904. Out of a family of nine children five sons survive him as follows: Dr. A. J. McKenna, of Wolfville; Samuel H. McKenna, at Wayland, Mass.; H. W. McKenna, barrister, of Parraboro; E. A. McKenna, of Spokane, Wash.; and E. J. McKenna, with whom he resided on the homestead. The funeral took place on Tuesday, the service being conducted by Rev. G. B. Freeman, pastor of the Aylesford Baptist church, of which the deceased was long a faithful member and many years a deacon, assisted by Rev. P. S. McGregor, pastor of the Kingston church. After a short service at the house the remains were taken to 'the Bethel' at Tremont, where the service was completed and the interment was made.

COMPANY OF 95TH REGIMENT ORGANIZED IN PRINCE ALBERT WITH CAPTAIN H. G. SHANNON IN COMMAND.

At a meeting held last Wednesday night recruits were signed and sworn in for 'H' Company of the 95th Regiment. E. G. Shannon, manager of the Bank of Commerce, was appointed Captain and E. G. Warren, Lieutenant. The Non-Com's have not been chosen. The strength of the company will be forty-five.

Enough of trained veterans of the British Army have already signed to insure a well drilled company. The 95th Regiment takes in the province with headquarters at Regina, Col. Ford of the Capital City is the Officer Commanding. All members of the regiment must attend twelve days' drill at Brandon in June. A meeting will be held at the City Hall, Thursday night to enable all wishing to join to give in their names.

Captain Shannon has had considerable experience in the Canadian Militia in Nova Scotia. He is a good officer with all the requisite certificates and experiences and 'H' Company of the 95th, with its seasoned men should be the pride of the regiment.—Prince Albert Times.

Captain Shannon is well known in Wolfville and is son-in-law of Customs Collector C. R. Bill.

Sad Death at Kentville.

A very sad occurrence took place at Kentville last Sunday morning, when Melville G. DeWolfe, one of the most widely known and highly respected citizens of that town, drowned himself in the Cornwallis River near his own residence. He had for some time been suffering from ill-health and a severe attack of dependency, to which the desperate act was due. Mr. DeWolfe was one of the most energetic, patriotic and progressive citizens of Kentville, and identified himself with every movement for the improvement, advancement and welfare of the town. He was in the 63rd year of his age, the youngest son of the late James Edward DeWolfe, who during his lifetime conducted a general business in the establishment known as the Red Store, started in 1828. The deceased continued the business left by his father and the store still bears the sign 'DeWolfe and Lanson.'

Mr. DeWolfe has from its inception been a member of the Maritime Board of Trade, serving as president thereof, the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association, and the N. S. Farmers' Association. He had rarely missed attendance at the annual gathering of these different organizations and has always taken an active part thereto. He was a man prominently known throughout the Maritime Provinces.

The body has not yet been recovered, notwithstanding that diligent search has been made and even the services of a diver brought into requisition. It is thought that it must have been carried by the swift current into the Basin.
