Sleepless Nights With Eczema

Mrs. Link, 12 Walker St. Halifax, N. S., states: "After three years of miserable torture and sleepless nights with terrible eczema, and after trying over a dozen remedies without obtaining anything but slight temporary relief, I have been perfectly and entirely cured by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. After the third or fourth application of this grand ointment relief and a few boxes were sufficient to make a thorough cure."

Spraying Season will Soon be Here

We are general agents for the Celebrated

100 Gal. Tank Brown Sprayer

Reasons why the Brown is the best:

It derives its power from the wheels by a convenient chain drive that supplies a maximum of power to the pump itself. The sprayer itself is designed to meet with every condition. The wheels can be adjusted so that more than one crop can be conveniently sprayed. The spray boom can also be adjusted covering the variation of width in rows, and can also be raised or lowered in accordance with the height of the plants to be sprayed.

This sprayer will maintain a working pressure of 150 pounds with either four or six row attachment. We do not recommend using this sprayer with more than six nozzles.

The pump proper rests on the axle, doing away with the strain on the frame of the sprayer. The pump is so located that it enables us to build this machine in perfect balance.

The tank or barrel is also located over the axle. The pump and air chamber are made of heavy iron castings which reduce the breakage to a minimum. This sprayer, all the way thru, is built of nothing but the best of materials.

The frame is of two-inch ash re-inforced with angle iron, which insures perfect alignment; the axle is made of one and three-quarters inch cold rolled steel shafting.

A strong axle is an important feature in a horse-drawn sprayer. The axle of a poorly constructed machine usually breaks when the grower is in the actual test of spraying and oftentimes causes expensive and troublesome delays, since when the axle breaks it also allows the weight of the machine to break the axle boxes.

We assure you that there is no danger of the axle on the No. 39 AUTO-SPRAY becoming broken.

The valves and plungers of this pump are of brass and all of the working part of the pump are easily accessible. The wheels are of hickory and of Sarven pattern. They last definitely.

To operate this sprayer after it has been set up it is only necessary to fill the tank and drive fifty or one hundred feet until a satisfactory pressure is produced and then drive over the field.

Overflow valve, relief valve, pressure gauge and shut-off are all before the driver's seat. The NON-CLOG Junior nozzles furnished with this sprayer saves the operator many hours of time that is usually spent in cleaning the nozzles. In an actual test these nozzles were used for spraying a solution containing sawdust and did not clog.
