Railroad development is the other, and discuss the problems going on at a faster rate than ever we all have to face, to a greater or before, opening up new parts of this lesser degree in the game of business, western land and bringing us nearer In no other period of the world's to the wealth of the great Northland. history have the older habits and Opportunity for the laying of the methods of business been transformed foundation of big business is in this western country. Businesses, small today, will be the giants of tomorrow, proach, for business today affords Let us then realize our responsibility ample opportunity for the greatest as business men, for we are in the game that helps to build countries and nations. Now, today, gentlemen, is the time to appreciate how we can all work together as friends in business-forgetting little jealousies that we all by nature have, and take the big man's view of the situation. The solid building and development of this province depends on our energy and imagination, and one doing his part in the public as well as in the business life. Then in that familiar saying we can rest assured, that just as Canada is the brightest star in the British crown, so will this fair province of ours be the brightest gem in the great Dominion of Canada.
