them broke the best records of the past. Yields of foodstuff were large, wheat and corn showing next-to-record production, and yields of oats, rice, sugar, potatoes and tobacco broke all records, while cotton and hay fell off from the high level yields of the preceding year. The shigh prices ruling, however, placed the aggregate returns to the farmers at points never before reached. While ease of money no doubt helped toward encouraging speculation in commodities, the high records of prices at time of heaviest movement showed demand waiting closely on supply, if indeed not actually surpassing it, and this, too, in a year when, owing to high prices of our foodstuffs, foreign demand was conspicuously small,
