Labor in Britain Outlines Platform Prepared For House of Commons.

OPPOSE THE FRENCH
Demand Withdrawal From the Ruhr and Would Cancel Bill For Reparations.

By CHARLES M. McCANN.
Special to The Advertiser.
London, Feb. 12.—The British Labor Party "His Majesty's Opposition," outlined today the foreign policy it will attempt to enforce upon the new parliament. Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the party in the House of Commons, said there would be four main points:
One—Great Britain should renounce her reparations claims under conditions.
Two—French troops should be required to withdraw from the Ruhr.
Three—A new world conference should be called.
Four—The "Russian republic" should be recognized. The Labor parliamentarians also will strive for resumption of relations with Germany, and for reference of the Mosul question to a conference. MacDonald indicated. He declared he would enforce immediate parliamentary discussion of a levy on capital.
"It prophesies that pursuit of will-o-the-wisp reparations will be the great curse of America and all nations," MacDonald said.

DENOUNCES TEACHINGS OF THE UNIVERSALISTS

Rev. A. Burgess Declares That All Men Will Not Be Saved.

ENTIRELY FALSE

Speaker Quotes Chapters From Bible Discounting Theory of Sect.

Denouncing the teachings of the Universalists, who claim that all men will be saved, the Rev. A. Burgess, in speaking to a large congregation in the Egerton Street Baptist Church last night, declared that the Bible tells us in the plainest of words that on the last day men will be separated, some to live forever in everlasting torment, others to live happily ever after in the sight of God.

Taking as his subject, "Shall all men be saved?" the minister commenced by telling a few words of the teachings of the Universalist sect. He pointed out that their contention was that all men would be saved. He said it was not his duty to speak for the sect, but he said it was his duty to speak for the Bible. "That doctrine is entirely false," Mr. Burgess declared emphatically. "The Scriptures state clearly that at the time of judgment there will be a separation."
"Describing the last judgment, St. Matthew, chapter 25, says:
"And before Him shall be gathered all nations: and He shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats: and He shall set the sheep on His right hand, but the goats on the left. Then shall the King say unto them on His right hand, 'Come, ye blessed of My Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.' Then shall He say unto them on His left hand, 'Depart from Me into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels.'"
"Will Not Be Saved."
"Chapter 7 of St. Matthew also proves conclusively that all men will not be saved," the speaker said. "In this instance, Christ says, in ending His sermon on the mount, 'Enter ye at the strait gate: for wide is the gate and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat. But strait is the gate and narrow is the way which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it.'"
Mr. Burgess quoted several other passages from the Bible dealing with punishment and in each case he pointed out that there was only one interpretation, and that was the separation of the peoples of the world on the last day.

He urged his hearers to follow the example of the Bereans who studied the Word of God for themselves and who refused to be led by the wild preachings of some of their fellow men. So many people are being led astray by the teachings of others, whereas if they read the Bible for themselves they would see how really false these doctrines were.

Not substantiated.
The doctrine regarding salvation as taught by the Universalists could not be substantiated in the Bible, the minister stated in the course of his sermon.

It is impossible to combine the teachings of Christ with the doctrine of the Universalists, Mr. Burgess told his hearers. He pointed out how unfair it was to give those who had rejected Christ in this life an opportunity to enjoy the same happiness in the after life as those who had lived by the Word of God in this life.

In his concluding words he again implored the congregation to rely on the teachings of the Scriptures regarding future life and not to be fooled by the doctrine that everyone will be saved regardless of whether he has led a good or bad life.

COLONEL TALBOT

Appointment of the Quebec Member Comes as a Surprise.

Has Played Important Part in Political Spheres For 25 Years.

Special to The Advertiser.
Quebec, Feb. 12.—The appointment of Col. O. E. Talbot, member of the Federal Parliament for the county of Bellechasse from 1896 to 1911, as director of the Canadian National Railways, will be ratified today by the governor-general. The appointment of Col. Talbot brings to two the number of representatives from the province of Quebec on the National lines directorate. It was admitted here that his appointment had not been expected, several other names being mentioned, but the news was well received.

An Advertiser representative waited on the new director this morning, and was given the following declaration:
"I am entering on the National Railways board with the sole intention to serve the interest of Canada and the district of Quebec. I will ask my fellow citizens to co-operate, and I hope to be able, before long, to show that the confidence the government placed in me was justified. I do not accept the position with the intention of serving a political party, but only to contribute as much as I can to serve my country."

Col. Talbot has played an important part in the political spheres for some 25 years. He was second in command of Sir William Price's regiment, 17th, and conducted a most successful recruiting campaign in the province. He has been president of the Provincial Civil Employers' Association, and in that capacity obtained redress for several alleged complaints, and is still an honorary president of the organization.

It was through the efforts of Colonel Ware and K. C. Green that the patients of Byron Sanatorium were permitted to see this play. A vote of thanks was moved by the chairman, and the applause which followed showed that the efforts of the concert party were thoroughly appreciated.

Essen, Feb. 12.—The boycott started by the shopkeepers, hotelkeepers, restaurants and cafes against the French in Recklinghausen last week, has spread to several cities, such as Witten, Bochum and Herne. Today the boycott is beginning in Essen, where the proprietor of the Walter restaurant, where twenty French officers and the French commissioner, M. Costa habitually eat, tells the writer that the French will no longer be served.

Just what measures the French intend to take is not known, but if mess rooms are inaugurated, German soldiers will lose its principal pastime of visiting the restaurants patronized by the French, the men scowling with hate, and the woman gazing with unconcealed curiosity.

Father of Free State, Minister of Home Affairs, Assassinated Today.

Associated Press Despatch.
Dublin, Feb. 12.—Dr. Thomas O'Higgins, of Maryborough, father of Kevin O'Higgins, free state minister of home affairs, was assassinated today. The tragedy occurred at Woodlands, near Stradbally. A party of armed men drew up near the O'Higgins residence, and three members of it approached the house and demanded admittance. Dr. O'Higgins replied that in consequence of a communication recently captured he would not admit anyone, but on the plea of wanting to see the document the raiders induced him to open the door. One of the armed men then entered, leaving his two companions on the doorstep.

While the raiders inside was reading the document Dr. O'Higgins, who was 70 years old, disarmed him, snatching away his revolver. The raider shouted to his two comrades to fire. They responded with the fatal shots, which crashed into the top of Dr. O'Higgins' skull. Others of the raiding party also fired at him through the windows.

ECONOMIC RUHR WAR

Hermes, German Finance Minister, Scores French Attitude.

By CARL D. GROOT.
Special Cable to The Advertiser.
Berlin, Feb. 12.—Working, not shooting, must be the keynote. The whole world has an interest in seeing that hayonets and tanks are replaced as soon as possible by sensible, economic co-operation worthy of civilized nations.

Finance Minister Hermes thus began an interview today, summarizing the situation in the Ruhr, to which he has just paid a flying visit.

"It is not my duty to speak authoritatively regarding the means to end the conflict," the minister continued, "but it is obvious that the present economic war damages not only Germany, but France as well, and as deeply. It harms the whole world. I am convinced that the reparations problem can only be solved by economic means."

WILL DRAFT PLAN FOR AGREEMENT
ON ONE-MAN CARS

Committee To Meet Tomorrow Afternoon With Solicitor Relative to Operation.

MUST PAVE STREET

Alderman Judd Insists Company Guarantee Service to Knollwood Park.

With the authority of the city council, a special committee, comprising Mayor Wenige, Ald. Albert Judd, chairman of the finance committee, and Ald. Leonard Douglass, chairman of the board of works, will meet tomorrow with City Solicitor T. G. Meredith to draft an agreement with the London street railway, relative to the proposed operation of one-man cars.

As his worship is out of the city today, it became imperative to postpone this conference until tomorrow.

Before the street railway corporation will be allowed to introduce the new safety cars, assurance must be given that track allowance on Stanley street and Richmond street north will be paved forthwith.

In addition to this, Ald. Albert Judd insists that the company guarantee continued and satisfactory service to Knollwood Park, either by an auxiliary bus service as at present, or by extension of the Oxford car line. He understands that the city is entitled to additional trackage, in accordance with the provisions of that famous agreement with the city, bylaw 916.

Included in Agreement.

Ald. Douglass submits that provision for possible paving undertakings this spring in the pavement should be included in the new agreement.

"It is quite possible," he explains, "that the new cars will be paved, in not this year, the following year. If the people of West London desire that this car line be extended, the company should agree now to guarantee to pave its portion."

"If we find that the West Londoners do not want the pavement at this time, I will ask that the company remove its switch on Dundas street, to a point near Mount Pleasant, and then the company could place another car to the line and the service for the people of the northern section of West London would be greatly improved."

Employ Ten Extra Men.

The chairman of the board of works states that another stipulation in the agreement will be that the introduction of the new cars will mean the employment of at least ten extra men, and that the cars will not replace any of the two-man vehicles now in operation.

Incidentally, Ald. Douglass expressed very pleasure with the action of the company, whereby service is still being provided for the Knollwood Park. "I was pleased to note this," he commented. "It is certainly a move in the right direction."

Both Ald. Judd and Douglass accompanied Mayor Wenige Saturday morning when railway officials conducted a trial trip of the one-man cars, and they express the highest opinion of them.

Arthur T. Walker Is Safely Established in Fortune Left by Eccentric Decorator.

WILL CONTESTED

Nephew, by Terms of Settlement, Will Receive Approximately $4,000,000.

Special to The Advertiser.
New York, Feb. 12.—Arthur T. Walker, a native of Chatham, Ontario, is today safely established in a fortune of $13,000,000.

When Walker left Canada some years ago he obtained a position as secretary to Edward P. Searies, an eccentric interior decorator of Methuen, Mass., who obtained his wealth by marrying Mrs. Mark Hopkins of San Francisco, the widow of a forty-niner.

When his wife died, 30 years ago, leaving the whole of her fortune to Searies, the latter became a recluse in Methuen. Upon his death in 1920, it was found that he had willed the greater part of the estate of $31,258,539 to his secretary, Walker.

Searies' nearest relative, a nephew, Albert Victor Searies, and an artist of talent, was left only $25,000. He contested the will, and by the terms of a settlement now filed in the state court, he has received approximately $4,000,000. Other distant relatives are allowed $3,500,000, the balance of approximately $13,000,000 going to Walker.

Chatham classmates of Walker recall the fact that he was nicknamed "Rosy" because of a modesty and super-consciousness that betrayed itself frequently by blushes.

RULE FOR CENSORING
MOVIE ADVERTISING

After Feb. 12 All Advertising of Pictures Must Be Examined.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Feb. 10.—A regulation of the Ontario Board of Censors that has for a lengthy period been more or less dormant has been revived following publication through the medium of the billboards, window cards and newspapers, of advertisements calling attention to the picture now being shown at a local theatre.

For some time past the board of censors has had power, by virtue of an order-in-council, sanctioning their regulations, to censor all motion picture advertising in the form of billboards, newspaper notices, lantern slides, periodical publications or any other vehicle of spreading advertising.

A notice was forwarded to Col. J. A. Cooper, representative of the Canadian Motion Picture Distributors' Association, by Major Hamilton, chairman of the board of censors, pointing out the regulation. Col. Cooper is calling the motion picture men together to discuss it.

The notice received by Col. Cooper states that after Feb. 12 all advertising including "newspaper copy," must be forwarded to the advertising department of the board of censorship. Col. Cooper has asked for a stay until Feb. 15.

TACKLES LEGAL TANGLE ON SEPARATION OF IRISH

Hugh Kennedy, Adviser For Free State, Arrives in London.

By HAL O'FLAHERTY.
Special Cable to The London Advertiser.
London, Feb. 12.—Hugh Kennedy, legal adviser to the Irish Free State, is now in London tackling the intricate legal questions arising from the separation of Ireland from England. Thousands of British companies trading in Ireland must now register under the Free State or secure some arrangement by which established firms are registered en masse.

Civil writs issued in other countries are not legal in the Free State. The British patent act will undoubtedly be changed to provide for separate registration in Ireland.

Insurance companies are also involved in intricate legal differences arising out of the separation, which may invalidate the policies unless immediate steps are taken to remedy the existing anomalous position. As a measure was recently passed by the parliament in Dublin substituting the words "Irish Free State" for "Ireland," all acts of parliament containing the words "Ireland" or "United Kingdom" must be altered.

Another entanglement arises over divorces. Ireland has no divorce law, but an Irishman living in England can secure one here, though not in his own country. The separation of legal affairs between the government of the Free State and the government of Northern Ireland or Ulster, as neither side allows the execution of legal levies arising in the other's territory. The task of unravelling the cluttered mass will probably require years.
