VERSAILLES, May 18—The members of the Right in the Assembly desire to depose Thiers. The offered the succession first to Grevy and then to McMahon, but they both declined. Changariner was subsequently chosen and is now deliberating upon the proposition.

Pirrs, May 18 — Marshal McMahon has called upon the German army for aid. The German engineers are now throwing a bridge over the Seine te facilitate the passage of the German and Versailles armies. A decisive attack will come from the East and the French and Germans will act together.

VERSAILLES, May 18—Evening—The Assembly has adopted the entire treaty signed at kfort between France and Germany. Gen Chanzy objected to the proposed territorial exchange, but was answered by Thiers and Duerot, who insisted upon the advantages of retaining and strengthening Belfort.

Lowdon, May 18— The Prussian forces between Beiny and Mont Fornet are expected to make an attack on Paris soon.

The Official Journal accuses the Versaillists

of causing the cartridge explosion. La Verite demonstrated that the explosion was solely the result of accident, and that no shell fell in Champs de Mars at the time of the explosion In the House of Commons, this evening, a motion exempting the exchange of commiss sions from operation of the army regulation bill which extinguished the purchase system, was lost by 48 majority.

In the House of Commons, Mr Disraeli severely criticized the budget, lately submitted by Lowe, Chancellor of the Exchequer. He reviewed the successive stages of progress which it had passed in its introduction, reconsideration and subsequent revision, and objected especially to the provision relating to the income tax and to Mr Gladstone's say. ine that it was now proposed to meet the increased deficiency in the revenue, which would certainly be increased by the abolition of the purchase of army commissions, by another equally undesirable measure. The pending treaty for the adjustment of American questions would also require an increased expenditure, means of which should all come from direct taxation of the people. Lowe, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said the Government shunned an addition to the income tax because it was oppressing the lower and mid-dle classes. Charles Newdegate, member for North Warwickshire, commended the wise financial policy of the American Government to the study of the British Government. New York, May 10—A special from Paris last evening says that traffic on the bridges has been stop ed and a panic among the troops is feared. The Committee of Safety officially declare that the explosion was the work of agents of the Versailles Government.

A strange story is in circulation to the effect that Capt De Bain found in the pocket of the wife of a gen d'arme the plan of a castridge factory and a plan of Paris, prepared by Trochu.

Four persons have been arrested on suspi-cion of being deserters from the Versailles army, and have been removed to the interior of the city from the Ecole Militarie, where they have been confined.

Mangled remains of victims of the explosion were exhibited yesterday at the Church of St Peiere, outside the railings. The number of persons killed by the explosion is less than was supposed, as the workmen left the building 15 minutes before the catastrobe a place of great relative importance-second only to Victoria. The largest producer, the largest exporter, contributing the most largely towards maritime progress, Nanaimo has been one of the largest and steadiest contributors towards the public revenue of any community in the Colony. And, what recognition have these valuable qualities met with? What return have the people comprising that important comity bad for all that they have done and contributed? We regret to say that this side of the ledger appears to be almost a complete blank. In the expenditure of public revenue, Nanaimo has been almost wholly neglectedleft out in the cold-cut off without a shilling. The people have been left to build their own school-houses and for the most part maintain their own schools. They have be n left to make their own streets or get on without them unmade; to do without hospitals; to build and maintain their own Literary lustitute; and, until very recently, they have had to come all the way to Victoria in search of justice,—nay they have even been denied the advantage of the labor of their own convicts. And all this has bemathe case, be it remembered, while communities possessing far less claim upon the public revenue have had large grants and fiberal annual appropriations for all the above-mentioned objects.

Manaime ought to have and is fully entitled to a good school-house, such as would offer ample accommodation fora male and female department, and admit of proper classification and, of or pretensions as would make it truly an Government was liberal enough to place the munificent sum of seven hundred and fifty dollars in the Estimates for the purpose of building a Gaol at Nanaimo.
