William Jordan, 762 Dovercourt-road, was killed by a C. P. R. suburban train while walking on the tracks near the Junction Saturday morning. Jordan was an employe of Alexander Manton, painter, 15 Baddwin-street, and at the time of the accident was en route to the Junction, where he had been working for a week past at 57 Churchill-avenue. The accident occurred about 50 yards west of the Northern semaphore. Jordan was walking westward when first seen by Edward Tregaskis, engineer of the suburban which caused his death. Jordan was afflicted with deafness, and did not hear the warning whistle which the engineer says was blown. He was thrown several feet by the engine. and was picked up in an unconscious condition. Dr. Clendenan attended the injured man when the train reached the Junction, and found him suffering from concussion of the brain. He was sent back to the city on the 10.20 C. P. R. express, and re-

THE STUDY OF HISTORY.

sor Wrong's Lecture to Toronto Stu-In connection with the Students' Union, Rev. G. M. Wrong, the newly-act pointed professor in Toronto University, gave the first of a series of Saturday afternoon lectures in the hall of the Gymnasium. Professor' Ramsay Wrght presided. The inaugural address was a very able one, in which valuable advice was given as to the study of history, especially that of the medieval period. In concluding the eloquent essay the Professor exhorted to prolonged observation and patient study. "Human nature has through the centuries remained unchanged. Social conditions have been improved, manners have softened, we are more enlightened, but we have still the same old strength and weakness. One sometimes sees a farcied new theory pressed with great zeal and earnestness, when a little historical study would show this particular bubble to have been pricked perhaps a thousand years, ago. Conditions not theories, mould human society and to master the conditions we must study them. If we would learn the secrets of contractions and the service. our well-being, we must give the service of Sarnia. The defence had some sensational testimony to present. Williamson and Wright had written out and sworn to a statement of their side of the case. It was a story of how they had been entrapped into turning smugglers by an autuside party. It ended with the following appeal: "We are the victims of misplaced confidence and must trust to bur past character, friends, and the chonsty of the grand jury, strangers to us, and the decision of the honorable judge, order to establish our innocence. He said he had secured the opium from the Toronto Chinamen by leaving with them security for it some stock in an electrical company of whice he was an officer. A Mr. Burns was interested with him, he said. The Chinamen agreed to allow him $2.30 a pound for delivering the opium in New York, at an address they would give.

Mr. Wilkins asked the witness if he had not played a bunco game on the Chinamen—getting the opium from them to deliver at $2.30 a pound and then going into a plan to have it seized in New York and get a reward from the Government. Try to Argue with some bright woman, against Pearline. She uses it-most bright women do. You'll find the arguments all on her side-what can you say against it? We are willing to leave the case in her hands.

You'll end by using it. The fact is, every argument as to the easiest, safest and best way of securing perfect cleanliness is settled by Pearline. If you use it, you know that this is so. If you don't use it, sooner or later you'll have to be convinced. Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you,
"this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, if your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest—send it back.

Henry A. King & Co.'s special wire from Ladenburg, Thaiman & Co., New York: After a dull opening the market became more active, and showed considerable strength. Sugar and Jersey Central were the features of the movement, which, howover, seemed to be professional manipulation directed against the short interest, as there was no syldence of outside buying. Rumors that the Sugar report will be published forthwith and make a favorable showing are current in the street. Chicago Gas, however, absorbed the principal share of attention. There was some heavy selling about which the room had some difficulty in making up its mind. The most plausible explanation is that it comes from the new pool, and is designated to shake a short interest, and to prepare the way for an advance when the changes in the Board are formally and nounced. real.
