Awaits Parliament's Action

The decision of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King to seek no seat in the House of Commons till after Parliament decides who is to govern created a good deal of surprise, but it is probably the best strategic move the Premier could have made. He will continue to direct the affairs of his department till Parliament assembles on the tenth of December; but on that date, having no seat in the House and no official status, he becomes a private citizen. Nominally he can retain the leadership of the tiberal party. but it will be necessary to select a leader in the House of Commons and the prediction is made that the choice will fall upon Hon Ernest Lappinte, member for Sir Miltred Laurier's old constituency of Suebec Laurier's old constituency of Southern Sir Miltred Laurier's old constituency of Suebec Laurier's old constituency of Suebec and the prediction is made that the choice will fall upon Hon Ernest Laurier's old constituency of Quebec East. Mr. Lapointe has been a member of the House since 1904

It is not likely that Hon G. P. Graham will seek election in Bagot, the seat rendered vacant by the death of the member-elect Mr. J. E. Marcile but will continue to direct the Department of Railways without a seat in the House till such time as the control of Parliament is decided.

It is then quite probable that he will retire to private life in conformity with his desire of this last few years.

"It having been decided to have Parliament summoned at the earliest possible date," said Hon. Mr. King in his official statement, "in order that the attitude of the people's representives in the House of Commons may be ascertained toward the question raised by the numerical position of he respective parties, with the possible exception of the by-election occasioned by the existing vacancy in the electoral district of Bagot, it is of anticipated that any by-elections ill be held prior to the assembling of urliament, and before the question majority control of the House of commons has been definitely settled the members-elect with the rectized Parliamentary procedure and actice."

A Father's Plight
Not since the Leopold and Loeb case have the newspapers of the United States been so wrought up over a murder triad as in the case now occupying their attention, centered at Littleton, Colorado. Dr. Harold Elmer Blazer, an aged physician, is charged with the murder of his daughter, who, 34 years ago, was born without arms, without legs, deaf and dumb, and idiotic. For thirty four years the father has attended her with all the love a parent could lavish upon a child. As he felt the years beginning to weigh upon him he often expressed the fear that Hazel would be left to the care of strangers in the event of his death. To avoid such a contingency it is charged that he chloroformed her in her sleep. If he did so, he maintains in his defence, he does not remember the deed, and claims that the long years of worry affected his memory and made him unaccountable for his actions.

Though ominous rumors come from India from time to time, it is evident that has elapsed since the election it has been impossible or either Conservatives or Liberals a line up the twenty-eight or so Progressives and Independents in such a my as to count upon their support. The 23 Progressives, acting together, could throw their weight with either party and give a reason-

The project to create "a sixth great lake" in Northern Ontario by diverting certain rivers now flowing into Hudson Bay to the basin of Lake Nipigon is not received with favor in Michigan. It was recently discussed at the meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce of Ontario as a possible means of overcoming the Chicago diversion of water and adding to the available water-power resources of Northern Ontario. R. J. MacLean, Michigan Director, of the National Rivers and Harbors Commission, contends that Canada and the United States should misst that waters running into the great lakes should be permitted to follow their natural channel to the sea, and condemns the action of Chicago in piercing the height of land with its drainage canal so that the waters of the great lakes are diverted to the Mississippi and thence, to the Gulf of Mexico.

The serious lowering of the levels of the lakes as a result of this diversion is a matter that is engaging the attention of many legislative and public bodies on both sides of the boundary.
