

months in the hospital at Detroit, where she had undergone an operation. To walk she was obliged to use two crutches. She had great confidence in St. Anne. She was soon rewarded. She began a novena, and at the end of the novena she left one of her crutches behind. Some weeks afterwards she gave up the other and made use of a walking stick. This stick sufficed for the four months she spent yet at Ste. Anne. On returning home she left her two crutches in St. Anne's Shrine as a trophy of the victory won by St. Anne over her infirmities.

This was not all. St. Anne showed on this occasion that her principal aim is to win souls. This young lady's father, although a good man, had for some years neglected his religious duties. To obtain his child's cure he went to confession and received communion. Since then he is the joy and edification of his family.

ST. ANNE CALMS THE STORMS

LAST September, Rev. Father Schelfhaut left our house of St. Anne at Montreal with a lay brother to take possession of our new residence at Bassin in the West Indies, to which he had been appointed. During the voyage, which was a very difficult one, he had occasion to experience the protection that St. Anne grants to mariners and all who are in danger on the sea.

"During a terrible night, the Reverend Father relates, I went on the bridge and prayed to St. Anne to calm the Ocean and to bring us safe to port. I threw St. Anne's medal into the sea, promising to say a mass in her honor and to erect the chapel I was going to build in the centre of the island in St. Anne's honor. Well! that very night the Ocean was calmed, and the three last days of the voyage were delightful."

A LITTLE GIRL SIX YEARS OLD SAVED BY ST. ANNE

ON the 25th of last December we received from M^r Saillant, a parishioner of St. Joachim, the following statement. His little daughter, Rosa, six years old, had been ill for two months and Dr. Tremblay, the family physician, could not ascertain the nature of the illness. He thought it was inflammation of the lungs. Her illness increased. Soon the poor child was given up. Her parents had almost lost hope. I say "almost," because they had confidence in St. Anne, and seeing every earthly hope of safety vanish, they implored her who is so
