

September 6, 1992

ANNEX VII
PART D
Schedule of the United States

For the purposes of Article 1413(2), the United States designates the Department of the Treasury as its governmental agency responsible for banking and other financial services, and the United States Department of Commerce for insurance services.