

current European tour meets elements of foreign policy and that of the local sponsor.

Networking. Companies touring abroad which are supported in part by the federal government allow for the opportunity of linking senior corporate personnel with local high ranking government officials.