

are not nuclear powers and which are expected to pledge themselves not to acquire nuclear weapons should be given an assurance that the nuclear powers will not use nuclear weapons against them. The Canadian delegation has much sympathy with this argument. An assurance such as that sought by many non-nuclear States might be considered in a sense as a partial prohibition of the use of nuclear weapons, and hence to be related to the subject of the resolution just voted upon.