Principal, McGill University.

In the case of Prof. Williams it is a Reader at a maximum remuneration of $500 a year. In that of Dr. Leacock it is an Assistant Professor at approximately $3000 a year. In that of Prof. du Roure it is an Assistant Professor (not more than $2500 a year) and two Assistants (graduate students) whose remuneration will be $750 a year.

I am also informed by Dr. Leacock that he and Dr. Hemmeon in drawing up their programme of work for next year have taken for granted the services of a graduate fellow such as they have had this year.* They are assuming that this appointment is now annual. They have found the assistance which he renders of the very greatest service. I hope you will be able to approve of this. The department is doing excellent work and its enrolment of honour students shows the high place it
