

INDEX.

619, 620; pay of artillery and engineers, 621; of militia, 623.
 Mills, in Virginia, not good in general, 9; one at Richmond, turns six pair of stones, and pays a rent of near 6,000 dollars, 37; several near Exeter, 198; three erected by Major Provost in the township of frechold, 221; sixty to eighty at Brandywine, 230.
 Mineralogical observations, 118, 119, 243, 244.
 Montgomery Fort, 242.
 Monticello, the beautiful seat of Mr. Jefferson, 69, 70.
 Moravians, details respecting them, 397 to 401; settle at the town of Bethlehem, ib.; account of the society, 403 to 407; their religion, ib.; marriages, 408, 409, 410; all Germans or descendants of Germans, 411.
 Morristown, the capital of Morris county, 423; its population, 424; churches, ib.
 Murders, common at the gaming-houses; which are publicly kept in Virginia, 39, 40.
 Muskinigunk Creek, 421.

N.

Nazareth, a Moravian society, account of, 412; its population, ib.
 Negro, description of a white, 133, 134.
 Nelson, General's house at Yorktown, head-quarters of Lord Cornwallis, 20; remains unrepaired, ib.
 Newark, description of the village of, 425.
 Newburg, in Ulster county, its population and cultivation, 234; its shipping, ib.; great quantity of butter shipped from, 235.
 Newcastie, town of, its houses, ib.; population, 274.
 New Hampshire, its constitution, laws, and commerce, 188 to 192, inclusive; its taxes, 192; roads, 193; its produce, 194; its tonnage and population, ib.; its schools, 196; militia, ib.
 New Jersey, historical account of, 425, 426; its constitution and laws, 427 to 433, inclusive; its commerce 434, 435.
 Newmarket, description of, 97.
 New Pattz, inhabitants of French extraction, 232; their religion, 233; slaves allowed, and price of slaves, ib.; lands mostly meadow, ib.; culture and produce, ib.; scarcity of water, 234.
 Newport, Author's arrival at, 140; salubrity of the air, ib.; tombstones, ib.
 Newspapers, printed at Staunton and Winchester, 91; numerous in America in general, 666.
 Newtown, description of, 101.
 New Windsor, in Orange county, 235; description of the town of, ib.; its houses, ib.;

head-quarters of General Washington in 1779, ib.
 New York Island, a college for Presbyterians, 235.
 New York, Author's arrival at, 135; history of the State of, 437; of the colony, 437, 438; its present constitution, 438 to 441; its taxes, 441 to 444; its civil laws, 444 to 446; its criminal laws, 446, 447; its schools, 447 to 449; slavery, 449 to 451; its militia, 451, 452; its finances, 453; trade and commerce, 453 to 456; description of the city and its population, 456 to 459; its hospitals and public charities, 460 to 463; its banks, 463; its prisons, 464, 465; description of the country around, 465; political opinions, 466; medical society, 665.
 Nicklin, Mr. description of his villa, 390; price of its purchase, ib.
 Niemcewicz, a friend of the great Kosciusko, wounded in the memorable affair of Saratoga, 469; his character, ib.
 Norfolk County, its size and population, 148.
 Norfolk, Author's arrival at the town of, 2; description of 4; burned by Lord Dunmore when Governor of Virginia, ib.; damage in so doing, ib.; unhealthiness of the town, 6; its great trade, ib.; exports, 8; smuggling partly prohibited, 10; animosities between the English merchants and Consul, 11; prices of vessels, 13; grammar schools, ib.; courts of justice, 14; tan-pit and rope-walk described, ib.; description of the country around, 15; its churches, 17; most of the colonists from St. Domingo settled here, ib.; the cause, ib.; generosity of the natives, ib.
 Northgarden Mountains, account of, 86; wine made at, 87.
 North River, account of, 236; West Point, its narrowest passage, where General Arnold intended to betray General Clinton, 237; its strong fortifications, ib.; is the station of the corps of artilleryists and engineers of the United States, 238; an arsenal, 241.

O.

Olive, Mr. description of his villa and pleasure-grounds, 465.
 Opossum, description of an, 421.
 Osborne's, a village between Richmond and Petersburg, 54.
 Oxen, price of a pair at Williamsburg, 27; Brookfield, 206; at Westfield, 211; at Stockbridge, 212; at New Windsor, 236; at Springhouse, 394.
 Oxfordforge, 419.