Appoint Major A. E. Lavell Parole Officer for Ontario for Christmas.

Brantford, Dec. 15 .- An order-incouncil has been passed by the On- violently insane. tarlo government appointing Major A E. Lavell parole officer for Ontario. The recommendation was made by the Ontario patrole board to the Hearst overnment, and the appointment made by the Drury government, thus showing that there is no partisan taint. Major Lavell was pastor of Brant Avenue Methodist Church and did much war work here, went over-Salonica, where he served as chaplain of the No. 4 University Hospital unit. Taken down with malaria, he was transferred to England, and afterwards invalided home. Later he was appointed senior chaplain of Military District No. 10, with headquarters at Regina, and resigned from this to become organizer in the forward movement for the Hamilton Conference of Passengers and Crew Saved

PROHIBITION ACT IS CONSTITUTIONAL

Washington, Dec. 15.—The wartime prohibition act was held constitutional today by the supreme court.
The prohibition constitutional amendment will become effective January 16. Upon the count's decision on the prohibition enforcement law, which is expected early in January, will depend whether the federal government has at hand any legal means for making the amendment effective.

The constitutionality of warrane prohibition, however, the drys are con-
