State Commerce Commission to-day, in regard to the rate war between the Canadian Pacific Raliway and the American lines. Ar. McNicoll, in his closing remarks, told of his efforts to restore peace with the American companies, and how his efforts were thwarted by the refusal of the companies to discuss the question of differentials. He insisted that the American reads had not to the Toronto Shelter. Insisted that the American roads had refused to accept suggestions, and he said that the Canadian Pacific must agree to all their terms. Mr. Eustis, general passenger agent of the Chicago, Burlington & Quuncy, he said, had told them that there would be legislation against the Canadian Pacific and that Congress would have legislated last session if the subject had increased that Councy is the Cuban crisis. Mr. Mexical last session if the subject had increase of the Councy of these remarks, as Mr. Eustis ad not recoil said that he had not take much notice of these remarks, as Mr. Eustis ad not recoil said that he had not take much notice of these remarks, as Mr. Eustis ad not represent the American people. He despied that the inter-state traffic enjoyed by the Canadian Pacific amounted to $50,000,000,000,000.

While there were no statistics for passenger traffic, the freight traffic amounted only traffic, the freight traffic amounted only traffic, the said, bought supplies from the United States to the amount of $3,000,000 yearly.

Weterans to Listen to Her Majesty's Letter—Hamilton Notes.

Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—The management of the Bench Show, to be held in connection with the Toronto Industrial Fair was harshly criticized at the meeting of the Gore Kennel Club in the Public Library this evening. On account of inserting a rule barring dogs, whelped since July, 1896, having cropped ears, some of the members thought that it was an injustice to breeders of bull terriers, Manchesters and Great Danes, which, the American Kennel Club rules say must have ears clipped. Last year the Toronto Show was held under the auspices of the A.K.C., but this year's show will be under C.K.C. rules. As several members of the club will be affected by the rule, the secretary was instructed to correspond with clubs similarly fixed and ask that pressure be brought to bear to have the obnoxious clause of rule 7 struck out. About 75 entries were sent from this city last year and not 15 of these will be sent this year unless a change is made.

Must Water the Beach-Road. Must Water the Beach-Road.

A few days ago Biggar & Lee, solicitors for Salifeet Township, brought action against the Radial Railway Company to compel it to observe the conditions of the bylaw by watering the Beach-road. Recently the road's representatives assured Mr. Biggar that a sprinkler would be put on the line and the Beach-road water d. Yesterday, however, the township's solicitors were advised that the company was afraid it would be unable to have the sprinkler this year. This was regarded as unsatisfactory, and Biggar & Lee will press their action.

I have directed that the order-incouncinathorizing the issuing of a proclamation calling together the Legislative Assembly, with the report upon which the Order-in-Council is based, stating the reasons for summoning you to meet at this early period of the year, shall be laid before you without delay. His Excellency the Earl of Aberdeen has announced his intention of retiring from the exalted position of Governor General of Canada before the expiration of the full term for which he was appointed. This announcement has evoked expressions of regret from all classes of our people, in whose wellbeing and happiness His Excellency and the Countess of Aberdeen have, during their residence in Canada, taken so deep an interest. Their Excellencies' sympathetic participation in all philanthropic movements and benevolent enterprise, their hearty co-operation in all good work, their particite devotion to Canada, and their constant study of Canadian interests, will always be gratefully remembered by the people of this province. While we regret the departure of Their Excellencies, it is a source of gratification to believe that their interests in Canada will not cease with His Excellency's term of office as Governor-General.

term of office as Governor-General.

Causes for Congratulation. Causes for Congratulation.

I rejoice on being able to congratulate you that the province is being favored with another abundant harvest, and that the prices of almost all the products of the farm have been satisfactory to the agriculturist. There has been no abatement in the efforts of the Department of Agriculture to promote the welfare of the husbandman through the operations of the numerous agencies and organizations under its direction, and by operations of the numerous agencies and organizations under its direction, and by the preparation and wide circulation of bulletins and reports of an instructive character. The practical and experimental wor' in connection with the Agricultural College continues to afford much valuable instruction and encouragement to those who can personally inmuch valuable instruction and encouragement to those who can personally investigate it, as is evidenced by the constantly increasing number of farmers who continue to visit and inspect its operations, not less than 30,000 having visited the college and farm during the month of June last. It is gratifying to learn that the work of the department in enforcing the provisions of the act of last session with respect to the spread of the San Jose scale, and in protecting the orchards of the province from the destructive ravages of that pest, has been actively pursued, and with good re-

It is also a subject for congratulation that the trade and commerce of the pro-vince are constantly increasing, and that agricultural, manufacturing and commercial enterprises are alike prosperous and successful. Great activity still prevails in the mining districts, and there is abundant evidence that the mineral wealth of Northern Ontario is being steadily developed.

It is gratifying to record the increasing interest which is being taken in road and street improvement throughout the province. Successful efforts to bring steadily developed. about reform are apparent in many districts. The fullest information appears to be desired by both urban and rural. municipalities regarding this branch o public work, the importance of which cannot be overestimated, inducacing so largely as it does the commercial, agri-cultural and social welfare of the com-

The Lumber Trade

Owing, I believe, to the unsettled condition of certain branches of trade in the adjoining Republic arising out of the war with Spain, and to the duty imposed by the tariff of that nation on lumber when imported, the lumber market has not been as active as in former years. I am pleased to be able to state that shipments to the British markets have greatly increased, and that satisfactory prices have been obtained. The work of the commission appointed last year to enquire into the practicability of preserving and restoring the white pine upon lands in the province not adapted for agricultural purposes or for settlement, and whose preliminary report with recommendations was pre-sented last session, has been continued during the year. The final report of the commissioners is expected to be completed and ready for distribution during the session; in that case a measure, supplementary of the forest reserves act of last session, may be submitted for your ight of Certain Electors to Vote. In view of the great number of election petitions awaiting trial, it is desirable to facilitate their disposal by the courts and to lessen the expense and labor of the trials as far as may be practicable, and so that they may, if possible, be disposed of by the time this Assembly may again meet in the early part of the coming year. To this end a bill will be submitted for your consideration, making provision for the speedy determination of the question of the right of electors to vote who have been called upon or appointed by the returning officer or deputy returning officers under the Election Act to act as constables or special constables on election or polling day, or to perform other work or public duties connected with the election, and for other purposes.

Provincial Fisheries. The long contested question between the Governments of Canada and the provinces relating to the rights in and over provincial fisheries has at length been finally decided by the Imperial Privy Council. Leases of fishing rights in provincial waters and licenses and permits to fish in provincial waters have hither-to been granted by the Department of Marine and Fisheries under the laws and regulations of the Dominion. The judg-ment of the Privy Council has determin-ed that the right to fish in provincial waters, including the waters of the great lakes and international and inter-provincial rivers, can be granted only by the provinces, and that the revenues derivable therefrom are payable to the provincial government. The regulations as to the time and manner in which fish may be taken, the instruments of capture which may be employed, the fixing of close seasons and some other minor matters of regulation are by the judgment declared to be subject wholly to Dominion legislation, and the Government of the Dominion is held entitled to impose a tax for revenue purposes as a condition of the right to fish. It is desirable in the public interest to make further provision for the due administration by the province of the important rights and interests which are now definitely ascertained to belong to the province, and for the collection of the revenue to be derived therefrom. A bill upon the subject will be submitted to

upon the subject will be substituted by you.

The proposed legislation in respect to the two last mentioned questions is among the reasons for your being called together at this somewhat unusual season of the year, and I trust that you will deem them of sufficiently pressing importance to secure your approval of the course which has been taken. It is presumed that when you have disposed of matters which are immediately urgent you will prefer postponing consideration of other and general bustness until the early part of the next year.

I feel assured that your deliberations will be characterized by wisdom and patriotism, and that they will conduce to the happiness and prosperity of the His Honor retired and the Attorney-Gen-

Other notices were: On Friday next, bill to amend the Ontario elections law, also a bill relating to the provincial fisheries. Mr. Hardy's outline of his proposed conduct of business was presented in a notice of motion. It provided that after Friday the Government business shall have precedence over all other business on each day of the session during the month of August; and that in addition to the usual session commencing at 3 p.m., there shall, during the month of August, be a meeting of the House at 11 a.m. on each day of the session, Mr. Speaker to leave the chair at 1 p.m.

p.m.

Mr. Whitney scented in this last another of Mr. Hardy's little attempts at tyranny. He asked innocently what the Attorney-General's proposed procedure during the session would be.

Only Two Measures.

The Government, came the Premier's reply, did not contemplate submitting any measures this session other than the two meationed in the Speech from the Throne, namely those respecting the constable vote and the fisheries. He then explained the purpose of his notice of motion respecting the conduct of business.

Opposition Leader's Objection.

To Mr. Whitney this appeared arbitrary and exhausting physically. He did not think the Opposition wished to unduly prolong the session. It was being held in a torrid season and this should be an argument against burning the candle at both ends. He would offer no obstruction, but would insist that every opportunity be given for the full discussion of every question submitted. "If he'll only be reasonable," said he with a gesture, indicating the Attorney-General, "he'll be surprised at how nicely we shall get on. But to say that after Friday no member shall be at liberty to introduce a private bill, a thing he is sent here to do, savors more of the time of Oliver Cromwell than of Oliver Mowat." [Applause.]

The Attorney-General, in reply, declared the elasticity of his intentions, proclaiming that, although the Government had outlined this course of conduct, yet it was by no means their intention to prevent any member from introducing legislation if he so desired.
