last night can hardly be said to have The Advertiser the men would have number of the missiles struck the car, realized the expectations of its promoters. The intention was to have passed from the right or wrong of the matter, immediately brought to a standstill, resolutions condemning the men on why should anyone wish to see good strike, and urging "the public" to jump citizens who formerly manned the right on to the cars and ride. A preliminary meeting had been held in one good citizens and subjects. They did of the banks on Dominion Day; notices | their work properly. They spent freely were sent to all the members; there was an industrious drum-up of the ought to be reinstated. members; and yet, though there are several hundred business men in London, the attendance was comparatively a mere handful. No attempt was made at the last to carry out the original intention of the meeting, which adjourned at the call of the president.

As was explained by the President the meeting was called by the bankers of the city, of whom some half-dozen were present, including the banker of the Company, and one of the directors of the Company, who is also a banker.

There was a good deal of talk about that somewhat mythical quantity, "the public," who, it is said, would like to ride, were they not "terrorized" by public opinion. Our estimate, after careful consideration, is that fully 80 per cent of the citizens of London are in full sympathy with the men; though, no doubt, more or less annoyed and irritated that they cannot conscientiously ride. But their annoyance is not directed against the men.

There was some attempt, pro and con, at estimating the precise relative proportions of blame. Is it worth while at this stage? It is a condition, not a theory, with which we are confronted. What is wanted is a remedy. The Company seem to think the wise thing to do is to attempt to row up against a Niagara of public opinion. They will need strong paddles.

Several of the speakers were quite sure the thousands of men connected with organized labor in London were mere cat's-paws in the hands of a few designing leaders. This is not exactly a complimentary estimate of the artiin their own and various societies and organizations, are not less capable of deciding things for themselves than the gentlemen in Board of Trade 'as-

One or two of the speakers thought they detected catering for votes in Tactics of the Special Detectives some of those who stand up for the men's view. We cannot say that we have detected much that looks like catering for votes, either municipally or politically. There is no such line of cleavage in this controversy. Indeed, The Advertiser has strong expectation that henceforth in London there will be much less, rather than more, politics in municipal affairs. The need of all our municipal bodies is capable, upright, reliable men, irrespective of partisanship. The day is coming.

We need not answer those who argued, either directly or indirectly, against the workmen's right to organization. Such arguments come too late in the century.

One of the speakers spoke of The Advertiser as reprehensibly standing up for what it conceived to be the rights of the men; much in line with

Even-Handed Justice. Some persons who profess a holy regard for law and order are doing little for law and order by aspersing the police magistrate at this particular period. That gentleman should be upheld in dispensing even-handed justice -at a time when a biased or arbitrary use of his powers would sting public feeling with a new sense of resentment. The police magistrate's handling of the strike cases which have come before him ha been judicial and judicious. Reading the report of the so-called board of trade meeting last night a stranger would infer from one or two speeches that the city had been the scene of riot and disorder, whereas every citizen knows there has been no organized rowdyism and very few breaches of the peace of any kind. The people of London have cause to be proud of the record of the last six

We challenge any legal mind to analyze the police court proceedings and point out where the magistrate has not been governed by the plain rules of evidence. Wherever an overt act of violence was proved punishment was inflicted, but in nearly all cases the testimony of private detectives was flatly contradicted by that of reputable citizens. The only serious accusations -those of placing explosives on the track-were utterly disproved, and the wonder is that they were ever made. The magistrate purposely sent one of these charges to a higher court where it was peremptorily thrown out by the igrand jury. Mr. Parke has acted throughout with prudence and dignity in refusing to make a fuss over every idle word, which the Company's detectives professed to hear on the highways and byways.

TROUBLE BREWING FOR THE COMPANY

Arouse Hostility.

Detective Accused of Threatening to Shoot Boys Seeking Shelter From the Rain-Several Disturbances.

One of the special detectives employed by the street railway company acted strangely last night. He was doing duty on a belt line car, and is said to have threatened to shoot a man at the Grand Trunk arch on Thames street. Near the arch is some vacant property belonging to the company, and some time ago Superintendent Potter gave several boys and young men permission to play ball on the company's property. The boys formed a club knows as the Independents, and have a very fair diamond. Last evening property. they were playing as usual, and when the rain came on went under the arch for shelter. The players say they have never molested the cars, and did not bother them last night. They appreciated the kindness of the company in giving them the grounds too much to damage their property. They were, therefore, surprised to see a man whom they took to be a detective pull a revolver out of his pocket and hold ic in his hand threateningly as the car passed. "On the return trip," says Frank McGeary, of 260 Thames street, who was standing in the arch, "the detective again, with the revolver in his hand, got off the car and ordered us out. We went out all right, and I was last. He wanted to search me, but I wouldn't let him. He raised the gun and told me to 'clear out, or I'll blow your -- head off, and take no chances.' I told him to put up the gun—that he was more scared of it than I was, and went on. The third time the car passed there were six detectives in it, but they said nothing. We asked the man with the gun his name, as some of us thought of laying a complaint against him, and he said was McLaughlin." Mr. McGeary is a cigarmaker, employed at the Fraser Company's fac-SAID HE WAS A SPOTTER.

A man named Taggart went to work for the Stevens Brass Manufacturing Company yesterday, but the men did not take kindly to him, as they believed him to be a "spotter" in the employ of the street railway company. He was watched, and seen talking to employes of the company, and was found riding on a street car later on. This morning when he put in an appearance he was treated to a shower of stale eggs and told to make himself scarce, or his troubles would be many. Taggart, when asked, did not deny being a spotter, but put on his coat and made a hurried exit from the building. He presented a sorry sight, being covered with eggs. TROUBLE IN SOUTH LONDON. Shortly after 6 o'clock last night there was an exciting time on the Wortley road, South London, just in front of the Baptist Church. A large erowd of boys, about 12 and 14 years of Endeavor delegates have arrived, aside gers and five detectives on board, they and one of the passengers was struck and the five "specials" made an effort to catch some of the boys, but were unsuccessful. Two of the detectives ran through the yard of No. 3 fire station, one with a drawn billy and the other with a stone, about 5 inches square and 3 inches thick. In getting over a fence the man with the stone dropped it, and it was picked by one in the stores all they received. They of the firemen.

Between 5 and 6 o'clock last evening a car ran off the track on Thames street, and before it could be stopped nearly ran into James Malins' resi-

A non-union conductor living in South London pulled a revolver on a number of youths on Tuesday night. He was handled pretty roughly.

THE HOLIDAY CARS

The Company Offered Police Protection -The Real Reason Why They

Did Not Run. The following is from today's Free Press: "In conversation with Manager Carr yesterday, that gentleman mentioned to a Free Press reporter that The Advertiser's editorial writer pretended to be anxious to know why the cars were not run during Monday afternoon last. "It could have secured the reason at first hand, if it had so desired, from Mayor Wilson, who asked me,' said Mr. Carr, 'as a favor, not to run them. That is the answer to their apologetic editorial."

Mayor Wilson was seen today, and said that Mr. Carr's remarks place him (the mayor) in an unfair light. Carr wrote him on July 1, saying that the Street Railway Company had rea-son to believe there would be disturbance on the holiday, and wishing to know if there would be adequate police protection. The mayor replied, in his private capacity, that if the company really feared trouble they had better not run their cars. He did not, as Mr. Carr says, ask them as a favor not to run them. Mr. Carr also consulted the chief of police, who offered full police protection, but ridiculed the idea that there would be any disorder whatever. The company were only too glad to use the mayor's letter as an excuse for tying up the system, so as to avoid showing the crowd that they were running empty cars. To say that they expected trouble is an uncalled for reflection on the citizens of London.

Get Down to Business at Detroit.

President Clark and the Other Mem bers of the Official Staff Re-Elected. Detroit, July 6.-After devotional exercises, the business of the great Christian Endeavor convention began shortly after noon yesterday.

Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, in his annual address said: "The past year of Christian Endeavor work has been a year of remarkable prosperity, a year marked by the favor of God, Christian Endeavor has now so largely occupied the field that the phenomenal growth recorded in the early years of the movement cannot be exceeded. Nevertheless the growth has been very considerable, and the accession of a hundred thousand to our ranks within the last twelve months is no small Speaking of the growth of the order President Clark said: "In Spain, in spite of the distraction of the war and the natural antipathy to things American, the societies have all held their own and have even increased in number. Russia, which a year ago was the only country without Christian Endeavor, has now been invaded by the movement, and we hear of our society almost within the czar's household. Our efforts in behalf of universal peace and international arbitration have been a great success.

"The spirit of brotherhood, of national and interdenominational fellowship, of seeking after God and not the things that pertain to office and station will, I believe, characterize this eighteenth year national convention." Treasurer Shaw's report showed exreport of George B. Graff, of Boston, agent of the publishing department, under whose direction the Christian Endeavor World is published, showed cash on hand at the beginning of the fiscal year, June 1, 1898, $1,110; receipts, during the year, $67,956; expenditures, $66,628; cash on hand, $2,439. The western office of the publishing department. located at Chicago, reported an expenditure of $12,563, and $664 now in its treasury.

The following were elected trustees for four years: Rev. C. I. Brown, Mountjoy, Pa.; Prof. H. L. Willett, Chicago; Rev. Samuel McNaugher, Boston; Rev. A. C. Crews, Toronto; Rev. Hugh Walker, D.D., Los Angeles, Cal.; Rev. J. Wilber Chap-man, D.D., New York; Rev. George McManihan, Steubenville, Ohio. The foregoing were elected trustees for one year upon the reorganization of the united society a year ago. Robert E. Speer, of New York, was elected a trustee to succeed the Rev. J. Clement French, D.D., of Newark, N. J., and Rev. N. B. Grubb, D.D., of Philadelphia, was made an additional trustee, to represent the Mennonites, which denomination has heretofore been unrepresented on the board.

The present officers of the united society were unanimously re-elected, up-on recommendation of the nominating committee, as follows: Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark; secretary, John Willis Baer; treasurer, William Shaw, all of Boston. Representatives on the board of trustees of the united society were elected from each state, territory, and the provinces of Canada. 20,000 DELEGATES HAVE ARRIVED. Detroit, Mich., July 6.-It was estimated this morning that upwards of 29 000 accredited international Christian

REDISTRIBUTION!

The Bill Passed Its Second Reading This Morning

By a Vote of 77 to 41-A Majority of 36 for the Government.

[Special to Advertiser per C. P. R.] Ottawa, July 6 .- At 3:25 a.m. a vote was reached on the second reading of the redistribution bill, which was carried by 77 for to 41 against; majority

Mr. Bertram, of Toronto, closed the debate. He said the bill was eminently fair. It did justice to Toronto by giving that city an extra member. Conservative members talked as if they owned Toronto, but it would be seen that at the next general election the Liberals would give a good account of themselves in Messrs. Osler and Clarke, of Toronto, had previously spoken. The former said that it was one of the anti-election pledges that the Liberals were evidently going to stand by. Mr. Clarke argued that the municipal boundaries were only adhered to where it would be of political advantage for the government to do so. Mr. Powell dealt with the constitutional aspect of the question, and Col. Tyrwhitt said that the bill was unfair to Simcoe, his own county. The vote was a party one with the exception that Messrs. McCarthy and Stubbs (Independents) voted for the, government. THE YUKON DEBATE.

The Yukon was again the principal subject of debate in the house yester-Mr. Davin moved the adjournment of the house for the purpose of calling attention to the article in the London Times in reference to the refusal of the government to appoint a judicial commission for the investigation of Sir Hibbert Tupper's charges: The premier protested against this abuse of the privilege of the house, and reiterated his declaration that if the report of Mr. Ogilvie is unsatisfactory another investigation will be ordered, so that complaints will be probed to the bottom, and delinquencies, if any there be in the Yukon, punished. Sir Charles Tupper followed in a denuncipenditures during the fiscal year of $9,678 and $352 now in the treasury.
