CAMBRIDGE BESTS FAST HARVARD EIGHT; CROSSES LINE TWO LENGTHS TO THE GOOD

The English University Crew Win Handily from American Rivals in Great Report at City Hall That Council Will Come to Terms International Race on Classic Thames Course.

Putney, Sept. 8 .- Cambridge University's eight today won against the fast Harvard crew, crossing the finishing line with a lead of two lengths. Cambridge's time was 19 minutes 18 seconds. The record for the course is 18 minutes and 47 seconds, made by Oxford in 1893.

By the decisive distance of two lengths Cambridge won the great international boat race today, stalling off by a steady, powerful stroke, all Harvard's desperate spurts. The Light Blues got away at the start and had the advantage of the choice of stations, which gave them at least length to the good, in consequence of the wind-sheltered water on the Surrey side of the river. They were enabled to maintain their lead and increase it as soon as they reached the wind driven water at Chiswick Eyot. It was a pretty race throughout.

There was a moment of intense expectancy as the two crews backed their eraft to the stakeboats and then leaned far forward, awaiting the supreme signal. The pistol shot broke the spell and both crews got away from the mark boat cleanly, amid a deafening roar from the multitude. The start was perfect, both crews taking the water at the same instant. Neither splashed, but with swift steady precision the Cambridge men drove the bow of their boat half length ahead within the first two boat lengths. As the English boat shot ahead a wild yell went up from the patriotic masses.

Cambridge went at a tremendous pace, 42 strokes to the minutes at the start, gradually reducing this rate, while the Harvard men hardly rowed above 35. The Light Blues gained stroke by stroke until by the time Craven Steps were reached daylight showed between the shells. Then the crowds went mad, and it was 100 to that Cambridge would be the winner.

London's Rapid Growth

The city of London will show an increase in population this year of about 1,500, and in assessment of between $1,000,000 and $1,100,000 for 1906. This statement was made to The Advertiser this morning by Assessment Commissioner Grant.

"Every ward in the city now has a population sufficient to warrant it being incorporated separately as a city, if it so desired," Mr. Grant continued. "Each ward is now able to boast of more than 10,000 population, and this is all the law requires to "Ward four is the banner ward of the city. In assessing the ward we came across a deluge of new houses. They are nearly all good houses, too.

"The population of this ward will show an increase of between 400 and 500 this year.

"The growth of the city, as a whole, is very creditable," the commissioner concluded. "In making the assessment, we have been very conservative as to population figures, and I am fully convinced that there are within the precincts of London today not less than 45,000.

"Of course, as our books will only show an increase of about 1,500 this year, the population will not likely be placed at over 44,500. But as I have said before, I believe there are fully 45,-000 people in the city now."

"It seems to me that the steady annual increase in assessment will enable incoming councils to strike the tax rate at not more than 19 mills, and then we shall have a pull with industries looking to locate in Canada.

"The low tax rate attracts the manufacturers and the workingman, and these are the men we want."

Beware of Pickpockets

Pickpockets, the precursors of the fairs, have already begun their work, and several cases of purse-snatching are reported. Last night, a woman was waiting for No. 5 express at the Grand Trunk depot. She was holding a baby at the time, and had her chatelaine over her arm. Two young men were noticed nearby, and when the lady went to get on the train there was a little crowding. When in the car she went through her chatelaine, and found it had been opened and her purse removed. There was only about three dollars in it at the time. The young men got away before the police could get them.

A woman had her pocketbook stolen at the Michigan Central depot this morning. "Beware of the pickpocket," is
