LONG LOST DAUGHTER IS FOUND BY LONDON PARENTS; IDENTIFIED BY VACCINATION MARK ON KNEE

Pretty 18-Year-Old Vernon Boxall Joins the Family Circle After Absence of Ten Years—Dimly Remembered Living Here and Thought She Would Like to See London.

Not in the most highly colored fiction has fate ever wrought stranger coincidents than those through which pretty Vernon Boxall, lately of New York City was recently re-united to her parents who live at 578 Ottaway avenue, from whom she had been separated for more than ten years. Never have the fertile imaginations of melodramatic writers ever conceived greater miracles or more peculiar circumstances than those which brought back to Mr. and Mrs. Jonn Boxall, their daughter whom they had long thought lost.

Recently a young woman came to visit at the home of John Bowker, who lives next door to the Boxalls. She was a stranger in town, who had been impelled to come to London from Detroit, where she was spending her holidays, because she faintly remembered having lived here at one time. Soon after her to stay at her home.

Meets Father.

One day she met Mr. Boxall face to becular circumstances than those when brought back to Mr. and Mrs. John Boxall, their daughter whom they had long thought lost.

For many years dramatic critics have laughed to scorn those authors who make use of peculiar birthmarks or scars to establish the identity of long tost heirs or of children who had been lost in babyhood. Yet, fortune, caring nothing for critics made full use of a scar through which to establish beyond a doubt the identity of Vernon, who had been torn from her tather's homewhen she was but eight years old.

When sut Eight Years old.

When sur Eight Years old the girl, chiefly because she was a mischlevous child, was put into a children's shelter much against the will of her at the properties of the properties of the properties of the properties of the man and his son, and she often paid them little visits, and took worders, a little curry-headed girl, so three times she escaped from the institution, returning to her home.

Such actions did not please the late taspector Sanders, who was then at the head of the Children's Ald Society, so when she had returned after her third escape he said that she could be adopted out to some family. Despite protestations from her parents, Mr. Sanders remained firm. The child was eventually adopted by a French family, who, cut off all her pretty curls, and took her with them to Niagara Falls, N. Y. Frantic Search.

A frantic search was immediately in stituted by Mrs. Boxall. She traced her child as far as Niagara Falls, but because the family took up residence on the American side she failed to find her little girl.

Not long after, the family of her adopted move the left who me and her little girl.

Not long after, the family of her adopted on the course of time Vernon was put into a convent so that her education might be completed.

SMALL BOYS ON RAMPAGE: ROB TWO STORES IN Long Arm of Law Plus Angry MADE AEROPLANES IS Parents Finally Gather In Culprits.

Within two hours after a call had been received at the local police station at 1:30 o'clock this morning that three small boys had gone on a rampage in South London, robbing two stores and the Wortley Road School, Police Sergt. T. Noonon and Constable G. Monahan put the young culprits under arrest. One of the boys was found in a barn gound asleep in a wagon. He was entirely covered by a huge buffalo robe. The other two boys were found at one of their homes. The oldest lad was buffalo robe but 13.

They had stolen two rifles, three which alleges a violation of the Vertically announced. of their homes. The oldest lad was but 13.

They had stolen two rifles, three cadet hats, two leather belts, and enough ammunition to supply a small army from the school. From Pattison's butcher store, at Briscoe and Catheart, they stole nearly $25.00 from the till. They also broke into The Modern Shoe Store at Bruce and Wortley road, robbing the till besides stealing shoe laces and other supplies.

A clue leading to the identity of the boys was given to the police, and they went directly to their homes, where they enlisted the aid of the fathers to help find the lads. Then followed a muddy tramp over fields and roads.

When the boys were found they led the police to the spots where they had buried the stolen treasure. In a field the money and the smaller articles were carefully wrapped and buried. The other goods were hidden.

The boys were arraigned before Magistrate Graydon today. They were other goods were hidden.

Today's program comprised committee meetings and a meeting of the council of the league, at which it was expected action would be taken on the assembly's request for negotiations with Mustapha Kemal, leader of the Turkish Nationsists, through one of the powers.

There is some uncertainty relative to the admission of Luxembourg and Finland to the league, but it is said that it is probable they may be invited to join by a majority of the delegates. Montenegro's eleventh-hour application has not as yet been discussed, and sentiment would appear to indicate that Albania may not be admitted.

PASSENGERS TO FLY BETWEEN

TORONTO, MONTREAL AND N.Y.

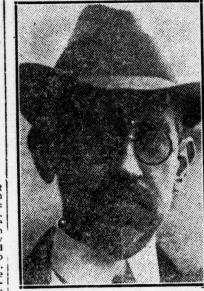

Montreal, Nov. 24.—A passenger service by air between Montreal, Toronto and New York will be inaugurated early next summer, says J. W. Norcross, president of the Canada Steamship Lines, Limited, who has returned from a trip of several months to England and the continent. While in England Mr Norcross contracted for two Vickers-Vimy seaplanes, which will have a capacity for carrying twelve passengers each in addition to the pilots. The 'planes are to be capable of developing a maximum speed of 127 miles an hour, and are of the type that is operated practically without noise. Delivery of the two machines is expected by next spring.

the type that is operated practically without noise. Delivery of the two machines is expected by next spring.

The New York, Toronto and Montreal service will follow the watercourses between the three centres, thus securing a maximum of safety to the passengers of the aircraft.

"The new service will be largely in the way of an experiment," he said, "but I am convinced that aerial navigation is the one of the future, and is possessed of unbounded possibilities in a commercial way. The Canada Steamship Lines is the largest inland transportation system in the world, and there is no reason why the company should not become the premier aerial one as well."

he had lost $1,500 while gathering wainuts in West Nissouri, and subsequently had it returned to him. The wallet, with a small amount of money, was returned to him by George Atwell of St. Marys, who found it on the farm of James Fraser, but there wasn't anything like $1,500 in the wallet either when it was lost or when it was found. Of course it would have been a good story, he admitted, if, as the Toronto paper stated, he had lost $1,500 without being aware of it until the money was returned to him. As a matter of fact, he did not know of the loss until the wallet was returned, but the fact of his unawareness rested largely on the other unawareness rested largely on the other

Dr. Arnott was visiting a patient in West Nissouri, and, returning home, stopped to pick some walnuts. The wallet bore his name and address, and was returned. How the $1,500 materialized long enough to make the story, then vanished, only the Globe's correspondent at St. Marys knows.

SINN FEIN OUTRAGES LIKELY TO BE EXTENDED TO ENGLAND; PLOT DISCOVERED BY SECRET SERVICE

Prominent Persons and Property in Large English Cities Are Marked for Attack, Claim's the London Graphic-Irish Women May Be Employed to Carry Out Plans of Radical

London, Nov. 24.—Suggestions that it was probable Sinn Fein agents would attack prominent persons and property in London and other large cities of England have been current during the last few days, but nothing substantial has been found to lend color to them. The Graphic claimed today that a "high authority" had said the British secret service had discovered a Sinn Fein plot aimed at the citizens of London. The newspaper adds: "The secret service recently discovered a Sinn Fein plot to destroy property elsewhere, mentioning the Manchester ship canal and the Liverpool docks the chosen scenes of Sinn Fein outrages. Elaborate precautions, it is said, have been taken at both places.'

The Sinn Fein official publication, The Irish Bulletin, prints what purports to be a circular from the Royal Irish Constabulary headquarters to police inspectors, warning the latter of the Sinn Fein's intention to employ Irish women in committing outrages, and instructing them to remember this when conducting investiga-
