St. Petersburg, March 2.-The position of Gen. Kuropatkin's army is critical. The real turning movement which Gen. Kuroki is operating in the mountains, forty miles eastward of Mukden, seems to be making progress, and at the same time Field Marshal Oyama is also rolling back the Russian deft, while ounding away at the Russian centre with heavy high power guns. Putiloff and Novgorod Hills have been subjected to a continuous threeday bombardment, followed by an infantry attack, the main Russian lines being forced to retire two miles to their shelter trenches. An attempt to take the hills by storm will be made,

Gen. Kuropatkin is making desperate efforts to check Kuroki, one of whose columns has succeeded in working around the extreme Russian left, and reinforcements have been despatched in a northeasterly direction. Gen. Ren nenkampff is slowly retiring, contesting every change of ground.

While the Japanese are evidently making progress, there is nothing yet to indicate that Field Marshal Oyama will succeed in inflicting a decisive blow, even if he FORCES KUROPATKIN TO ABANDON MUKDEN, which seems likely now. According to the reports the industrial situation of Russia. The current, which are not confirmed by strike at Moscow has resumed on a the war office, the withdrawals of stores large scale, anarchy reigns in the Carand supplies northward from Mukden, casus and at St. Petersburg the med office insists that no matter what the result of the remainder of the action the Japanese have again been too slow and that Kuropatkin has made sure of his line of retreat.

Except the more of the action relations between masters and men appear to have failed, with the probability of causing the storm to break anew.

A special despatch received to-night ends with this significant sentence:
"WITHIN TWO WEEKS YOU MAY EXPECT GREAT EVENTS." FORCE A DECISIVE FIGHT.

London, March 3.—A despatch from Tokio to The Daily Telegraph states that the Japanese are endeavoring to force a decisive battle in Manchuria, but that it is feared General Kuropatkin will retreat, fighting a rear guard action. Reports from the Shakhe River indicate, says the same correspondent, that the Russian morale is seriously impaired, and that there are numerous voluntary surrenders, not only of Poles and Jews, but of recently arrived European troops. They relate that rumors are current in the army that General Kuropatkin has been recalled, and no knowledge of the internal troubles of Russia causes a deep depression in the army. Reports are current at Tokio, but not confirmed officially that the Japanese have occupied Sakhalien. London, March 3.-A despatch from Mukden, March 1 .- (Delayed in trans- (Canadian Associated Press Cable.) mission.)—To day was marked by attacks along the whole front. The fighting in the centre is becoming serious. After an all-night Japanese bombardment of Poutiloff Hill and Novgorod Hill, involving a literal rain of heavy projectiles, the Japanese infantry this morning advanced against the Russian lines from the hills and drove back the advance posts two miles. The advance was unchecked until the Japanese came within 200 yards of the main line of trenches, when they were beaten of by the fire of machine guns and volleys of rifle fire. When they retired the Japanese left many dead and wounded. Gen. Kuropatkin adds that several Japanese attacks on Nanshanpu on the Shakhe River on the morning of March 1 were repulsed, and says the bombardment of Poutiloff and Novgorod Hills and the Russian position at Sandepas was continued thru March 1. The losses were insignificant.

Except the moral effect of another retirement the war office officials declare that the abandonment of the present winter quarters eliminates a great danger to the health of the army so soon as the warm weather sets in.

A despatch from Mukden says the thunder of cannon is heard on all positions. Putiloff and Novgorod Hills are hidden by the smoke from the guns. The bombardment was resumed after the repulse of an infantry attack by Japanese. A heavy bombardment is also in progress in the neighborhood of the Shakhe bridge, apparently in preparation for an attack in that quarter.

The Chinese report that previous to their entry into Sinmintin the Japanese dispersed a small body of Russian scouts, capturing fifteen of them. On the completion of their examination of Sinmintin, the Japanese withdrew to Pauchiatun. An engagement is expected, as it is known that Cossacks are not far distant. Ten thousand Japanese troops are reported to be three miles south of Pauchiatun and numbers of Japanese in Chinese clothes are along the Koupantse line.

It is possible that the Japanese may selze Sinmintin, as it has long been deneutralized owing to Russian traffic there. There are large accumulations of stores at Chencow and Koupantse. Sinmintin is now quiet. The Japanese hold all the roads. It is reported here that Gen. Kuropatkin's left has advanced six miles.

ludge Winchester Can Find No Excuse for Hiring U.S. Men for the Transcontinental Survey.

Ottawa, March 2 .- (Special.) -The laor department has published the report of Judge Winchester, the commissioner appointed to enquire into the alleged employment of aliens in connection with the surveys of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

Referring to the capability and availability of Canadian engineers, Judge Winchester says: Mr. Hays and Mr. Stephens, having stated that they were unable to obtain capable Canadian engineers to do the necessary work in connection with this railway. I made enquiry with reference to the capability and availability of engineers, bona fide residents in Canada, and examined a number of eminent engineers on that question. The consensus of their evidence is that there was a sufficient number of capable engineers to perform the work as well as, if not better than, the American engineers appointed, and that had reasonable efforts been made by Mr. Hays or Mr. Stephens they would have had no difficulty whatever in obtaining the necessary talent for the work to be performed."

Ottawa, March 2 .- (Special.) -There is no doubt now about Sir Wilfrid Laurier having made a surrender of the separate school feature of the Northwest autonomy bill. But it is still a question whether his capitulation has following of 14 members demanded such a complete surrender on the separate school clause that Sir Wilfrid without an absolute renunciation of his position could not agree to it. But whatever be the facts of this feature of the situation the case, as it stands to-night, is that the recalcitrant elements are yet to be reckoned with. The editor of The Globe arrived on the scene during the afternoon, and until a very late hour was in conference with the Ontario Liberals in Room 16. There are stories of such a complete surrender on Sir Wilfrid's part that Mr. Sifton may re-enter the cabinet as minister of the interior, but these not only lack confirmation, but are at complete variance with the position of the ex-minister as stated by him to personal friends.

What Free Press Says. What Free Press Says.

The position taken by Mr. Fielding is thus set forth in the chief Liberal organ at the capital, The Free Press; "Sir Wilfrid Laurier, it is understood, has consented to modify the education clause in the Northwest autonomy bill. This announcement was made today on good authority, and it is generally conceded that Sir Wilfrid's decision to change this particular clause is due to that fact that Hon. Mr. Fielding, minister of finance, notified the cision to change this particular cause is due to that fact that Hon. Mr. Fielding, minister of finance, notified the prime minister that unless the education clause of the bill was changed and more clearly defined he would tender his resignation as a member of the cabinet. The prime minister, it is said, this afternoon, told Mr. Fielding that the would consent to a modification of the clause. What is believed to be the concession is the dropping of the second clause of the separate school section of the bill, which reads: In the appropriation of public memory by the legislation of public minery by the legislation of the said province arising from the minery by the legislation of the said province arising from the minery by the legislation o
