

BOVRIL

IS LIQUID LIFE

Bovril is beef, highly concentrated and prepared in such a form that it is quickly digested and assimilated immediately.

It contains the whole of the valuable qualities of the beef and it is guaranteed to be pure.

That is why a cup of hot Bovril gives a feeling of warmth and comfort and why it imparts immediate strength to the athlete, invalid, house wife or busy man.

A Million a Minute

A Romance of Modern New York and Paris
By Hudson Douglas

"I saw that before I clambered on board, but it made no difference to me just then except that it might save my having to kill him myself. I picked up the paddle and made a bee-line for the far bank without paying any attention to him. I was in such a mortal sweat that it didn't strike me to tumble him overboard right away, and I was a good deal more thankful for that in a minute. I was doing some pretty quick thinking on my own account all the time, and looking back of my head, which was not so dis-comforting to me as the front-I had an idea, an inspiration. It turns the canoe sharply round, drove back to the place I had started from, and dumped him ashore there. I reckoned that I had still half an hour to the good, and what d'ye think I did?"

Arrendsen adopted a bored expression and shook his head.

"I dropped the stone dead there, Arrendsen. I became a corpse. I said the long good-bye to poor old Dominic Seager, and I was in a hurry. That was the idea that took me back to the danger zone. It was the only way to prevent the Frenchman from following me to a finish."

"It had to be a quick change, of course, and I hadn't leisure to sort out my belongings, so I stuffed them about the body wholesale as soon as I'd emptied the pockets. I left it completely equipped for identification, and my appearance I had been so mused about by the negroes that it might have passed for anyone in the wide world."

"Then I tramped about in the mud a bit, first in my own boots and then with bare feet, snapp'd twigs and branches, and left all the marks of a life-and-death struggle. Then I drove the canoe at the bank in a dozen places to show that there were savages here and there, and I came on again after driving the white man up, and as I was drawing back from the last bump I heard a cry from the thicket behind me. My God! that gave me a bad start. Arrendsen. I dug out for the nearest cover, and clung to a leafy bough scarcely daring to breathe."

"I had over-estimated my time allowance, and it was too late then to break for the open. In half a minute the first of the Frenchmen's black-boys were yelling about the body, and their yaps brought up the rest of the expedition as a dog trot—a dozen whites and maybe twenty natives all told."

"There was a great palaver over their find, and they seemed disappointed to think that they hadn't been there in time to shoot me themselves. They never searched the body and held a sort of an inquest and the first thing they came across was my papers. Their chiefs... I made them nod to get from these what a big trade I had been driving in guns and cartridges, and that was quite natural, since I was precisely what they were always trying to prevent. However, they were well enough pleased to think they had heard the last of me, and so had their fingers dig a nest hole in the mud and tucked poor old Dominic tidily into it. I looked on and listened to the damned crew all crunching their claws. For the funeral was within a few yards of me, and it wasn't mine to have to attend a dress rehearsal of what might happen to me yet at any moment."

"But in the end the Frenchmen turned tail and made off, in a desperate hurry to get back beyond the German border. And I was saved. I was saved!"

"D'ye know that I felt pretty good? I've often faced a close call, but that one was just a trifle too near the edge."

"Well, after I'd quieted down again, I began to wonder who I was now, and what I'd better do next. This is where you begin to come in, Arrendsen, and you'll see that I haven't been telling you silly stories for nothing, as you seem to think. I've brought you up to the moment when I first opened the papers I had inherited from the dead man. There was a heap of them in the canoe, besides what I'd found in his pockets, and he had a number of them in his hands. He held a royal flush of the finest at the identical instant when he was put out of action. It's mine now, and here are the cards—diamonds all and ace high—with which you and I are going to sweep the board clear."

He was speaking excitedly now, as he recalled the prospect which had been tempting enough to bring him back within reach of Black Dirck, and the individual also would seem to have been infected by his obvious faith in his grand. At any rate he did not take any advantage

Fashion Hint for Times Readers

ONE OF THE QUIANT SPRING STYLES.

This one-piece dress of shepherd check serge is a very smart spring model, and many of these quaint little dresses will be seen when the weather grows warm enough to lay aside wraps. The lines of this model are extremely simple and straight, the high "Cheruit" back being shown, and a sash of black satin sloping from this back to the front. Black satin cuffs and turn-down collar complete the frock, which buttons from neck to hem down one side of the front with black satin buttons. The hat is of white chip trimmed with a black velvet band and bunches of cherries at the sides.

WHAT CANDIDATE POTTS HAS TO SAY

Frank Leslie Potts, Candidate for Alderman at Large.

F. L. Potts, addressing the citizens in brief, said:

Ladies and Gentlemen: The time is close at hand when you will be once more called upon to cast your ballot for the election of seventeen aldermen to carry on the affairs of your city for the coming year. Let not the side issues, which unfortunately will be brought into this contest, get the better of your good sound judgment. Remember your first duty is to your home and country. Let those who have been successful through the efforts of their fathers before them (who left to them a tax of $1.20 per $100) join hands with those who find the burden of taxation too high.

In safeguarding our city this year with a vote for the candidates who will place if the harbor is sold the money received will be used to pay the outstanding bonds against the city, which means $3,000,000 of mortgage removed from our real estate and a saving of $100,000 of interest to the taxpayers.

I might say more, but as the hour is late would ask you on Tuesday, the 20th day of April, to vote for F. L. Potts for alderman-at-large, who will do his utmost to serve the citizens in the best interest of all classes.

ERA OF MINING DEVELOPMENT

Toronto World Paints a Rosy Picture of Progress in Canada.

(Toronto World)
The pulse of natural expansion is beating stronger today than at any period since 1896, and the current year should pass into history as one of the most notable in the industrial life of this country.

It is not surprising that the growth of the agricultural areas of the Dominion, a great deal of the kind of work that has been done being made in the campaign for the coast, and the westward progress of the country. Things are "stepping along." The westward city, which has been going on since the first of the Dominion, and tells a story of wonderful building activity along the coast, and in the whole of the Dominion. From coast to coast the country vibrates with the note of renewed confidence and developing prosperity. That Canada will experience this year a new national impulse, which is great and growing better. What is important, it is gaining international recognition. It has done this since the republic was held in a famous camp.

The silver fields of the north are being opened up, and with these will be made much of the mining history of 1909.

It is safe to say that six months from today Canada should know with reasonable certainty the possibilities of the new fields. The plan of machinery has gone into the Montreal river country and to downlands. In those parts of the country where the progress will tell its story of success or failure.

It looks now as if the great silver belt that has not yet been heard of it should be opened up in the coming summer.

The rush into the north this spring, will be of great value to mining history, which is phenomenal and unprecedented rush of speculation into the gold fields of the Yukon. Singularity the greatest of mining movements was in a famous camp.

The silver fields of the north will be tested in the coming year. The quiet gold development has been going on for some time, and there will soon be a big strike there. New York capital is about to open the Olive gold mines near Mine Centre, near Villa Rica, Colorado deposits are coming to the front. At the same time, the great silver belt which is being opened up with machinery of great capacity. As the men from Fort Frances and recently "the eastern part of the province" has been developing in the north. They are sure that we have our Silver River and Rainy River fields. It is a matter of time, and development, will make a name for the western part of New Ontario.

BANISH PIMPLES AND ERUPTIONS

Everyone Needs a Tonic in the Spring to Build Up the Blood

If you want new health and strength in the spring you must build up your blood with a tonic medicine. After the long indoor winter months are past most people feel depressed and easily tired. This means that the blood is impure and watery. That is what causes pimples and unsightly eruptions. To this same condition is due attacks of rheumatism, the sharp stabbing pains of neuralgia, poor appetite, frequent headaches and a desire to avoid exertion. These troubles can all be banished by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every dose of this medicine makes new, rich blood which drives out impurities, stimulates every organ, strengthens every nerve and brings a feeling of new health and energy to weak, tired out, ailing men and women.

Mrs. Frank Murphy, Carl's Harbor, N. S., says: "A year ago I was completely run down and my work became a burden to me. I felt tired all the time and could drag myself about. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after taking three or four boxes was again in the best of health. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will prove a friend in need to all who are weak and ailing."

Sold by all medicine dealers or on mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50. From The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ANNUAL MEETING OF SEAMEN'S MISSION

Reports for the Year Show Work Has Been Very Successful—Officers Elected

The annual meeting of the Seamen's Mission Society was held last night in the Institute and was well attended. The reports presented were encouraging and showed extensive work during the year.

Manager Gorbell's report was especially interesting. It was reported that the first contract on the new building had been all paid for and a new one of $300 started. The sum of $2,000 more was required to furnish the building.

Practically all the officers were re-elected. H. C. Tilley was again chosen president and R. Morton Smith, who was in the chair, first vice-president. The other vice-presidents are: Thomas Graham, F. W. Daniel and Alex. Watson; J. W. Cassidy, treasurer; J. N. Rogers, secretary, and S. L. Gorbell, manager.

The board of management consists of Mayor Bullock, Capt. J. Walsh, H. C. Schofield, W. E. Earle, George A. Henderson, William Downie, C. A. McDonald, R. T. Hayes, G. Willford Campbell, Rev. G. A. Kilbring, Rev. David Lang and Capt. Lindsay.

The treasurer reported that the maintenance fund was in better shape than had been the case for some years.

Before the meeting closed a vote of appreciation of the services of the president, H. C. Tilley, was passed. Votes of thanks were also tendered to the ladies' auxiliary, the owners, agents, captains and officers of the steamships and to the press of the city. The building committee, of which F. W. Daniel is chairman, was re-elected. The consideration of the auditors' report will be taken up at the next meeting.

VITOL CURED HER

For years I have been a great sufferer. Life to me was a burden, my limbs ached, I always felt tired and worn out, had no ambition. People could not sympathize with me. In fact at times they imagined I was put on a matter of fancy with me, but one who suffered the same as I did know exactly what it means. I would work when I should be in bed. I was weak, seemed to be void of strength; life seemed to have left me to a certain extent. I have often felt as if I would give the world if I could feel buoyant and cheerful, really so. I often had to force what little cheerfulness I did have. I was urged to try Vitol, and my what a change; today I am the woman I used to try and picture. I am happy, cheerful and strong; it seems as if I had new nerves, in fact new life. Mrs. R. Simms, Newcastle, Ont. You may be strong and healthy, and buoyant if you will take Vitol. For sale everywhere. Price 50c. box or six for $2.50. For sale by all drug stores. E. Clinton Brown, corner Water and Front Street, wholesale agent.
