THE VOICE OF THE GRASS.

Here I come creeping, creeping everywhere; By the dusty roadside, On the sunny hillside, Close by the noisy brook, In every shady nook, I come creeping, creeping everywhere.

Here I come creeping, smiling everywhere; All round the open door, Where sit the aged poor, Here where the children play, In the bright and merry May, I come creeping, creeping everywhere.

Here I come creeping, creeping everywhere; In the noisy city street, My pleasant face you'll see, Cheering the sick at heart, Toiling his busy part, Silently creeping, creeping everywhere.

Here I come creeping, creeping everywhere; You cannot see me coming, Nor hear my low sweet humming; For in the starry night, And the glad morning light, I come quietly creeping everywhere.

Here I come creeping, creeping everywhere; More welcome than the flowers, In summer's pleasant hours; The gentle cool is glad, And the merry bird not sad, To see me creeping, creeping everywhere.

Here I come creeping, creeping everywhere; When you're numbered with the dead, In your still and narrow bed, In the happy Spring I'll come, And cheer the silent home, Creeping, silently creeping everywhere.

Here I come creeping, creeping everywhere; My humble song of praise Most gratefully I raise To Him at whose command I beautify the land, Creeping, silently creeping everywhere.

A Thought to be Thought of.

It is the suggestion of philosophy, according to some, that any ideas that ever get into a man's mind, become, as it were, a part of it, and he will never lose them. What a thing it is, to think that there are minds in hell that will carry with them throughout all eternity a complete, accurate knowledge of the system of mercy and the way of redemption; that there are immortal spirits there that have in them all the ideas necessary to a full, correct comprehension of the way of salvation; that there are minds in hell that have far more knowledge of the word of God and the way of mercy, and far more accurate acquaintance with the whole theory of theology, than what served numbers in getting to heaven; that there are minds that have got to heaven with less knowledge, than what many carry with them to hell! Now do not let that startle you. I think the ideas necessary for a man to get to heaven are very few and simple—a knowledge of his danger, a knowledge of the Redeemer. And many a learned man, and many a man with the learning of folios in his memory, and with an accurate knowledge of all the principles and all the doctrines of the gospel—yet because his heart has not been touched and his mind has not been given up to Christ; all his knowledge will not avail him; he will go to hell—he will go to hell and his knowledge will go with him throughout all eternity. But it is a fearful thing to think that the human spirit should be thus suffering under the condemnation of impotence, guilt, disobedience, and yet within it, in the mind and the memory, the knowledge of the way by which it might have been saved.—[T. Binney.]

What will our Children think of us when we are old. A venerable widow, now eighty-five, has but a dim recollection even of her own children, but a scene in the life of her father is still vividly before her. He was an officer in the army of the Revolution, and believing it necessary to be inoculated for the small-pox before subjecting himself to the disease, he visited his home. He gathered his family around the domestic altar and solemnly commanded them to God, and then took leave of them—not knowing but it would be, as it proved to be, his last earthly meeting with those dear ones. As he was leaving the house, this daughter, his youngest child, followed him out upon the porch. He turned back, took her in his arms, kissed and fervently blessed her, and departed. She never saw him again, but that kiss and that blessing are now as fresh as though of yesterday. This scene she often recounts with the tears streaming down her cheeks. Next to the memory of her Saviour, she delights in the memory of her father. The burdens of age are lightened by such recollections.

Parents, what are we tracing of ourselves upon the memory of our children? What will our children think of us when they are old?—American Messenger.

KINDNESS.

Now the influence which women exert is silent and still, felt rather than seen, not chaining the hands, but restraining our reactions by gliding into the heart. If a mother, she governs by love; if a wife she conquers by submission; if a sister, her words will be attended to, by being uniformly kind and affectionate; there is no oratory so powerful as words of kindness, no power half so great as that which is acquired by a return of benefits for injuries inflicted or designed; and nothing so touching as solicitude for indifference. A kind word will often tell more than the severest reproof, and a sigh of sorrow makes a far deeper impression than an open censure. We are so constituted that hope has far more influence upon than fear; and the desire of winning commendation, will cause the abstaining from actions which would otherwise be committed with unconcern, though certain to raise a gust of anger. Kindness, like the gentle breath of spring, melts the icy heart.

Important Requisites in a Wife. A knowledge of domestic duties is beyond all price to a woman. Every one of the sex ought to know how to sew, and knit, and mend, and cook, and superintend a household. In every situation of life, high or low, this sort of knowledge is of great advantage. There is no necessity that the gaining of such information should interfere with intellectual acquirement or even elegant accomplishment. A well regulated mind can find time to attend to all. When a girl is nine or ten years old, she should be accustomed to take some regular share in household duties, and to feel responsible for the manner in which her part is performed—such as her own mending, washing the caps and putting them in place, cleaning silver, or dusting and arranging the parlour. This should not be done occasionally, and neglected whenever she finds it convenient—she should consider it her department. When older than twelve, girls should begin to take turns in superintending the household—making puddings, pies, cakes, &c. To learn effectually, they should actually do these things themselves, and not stand by and see others do them. Many a husband has been ruined for want of these domestic qualities in a wife—and many a husband has been saved from ruin by his wife being able to manage well the household concerns.

A Beautiful Sentence. Nothing can be more eloquent—nothing more true: "Call not a man wretched or pleasure denied—has a child on whom he hopes and on whom he looks. Poverty may grind him to the dust, obscurity may cast its dark mantle over him, his voice may be unheeded by those among whom he dwells, and his face may be unknown by his neighbours; even pain may rack his joints, and sleep flee from his pillow, but he has a gem with which he would not part for wealth defying computation, for fame filling a world's ear, for the highest power, for the sweetest sleep that ever fell on mortal eye."—Culvering.

LONDON. London extends over an area of 78,029 acres, or 122 square miles, and the number of its inhabitants rapidly increasing, was 2,362,246 on the day of the last census. A conception of this vast mass of people may be formed by the fact, that if the metropolis was surrounded by a wall, and a west gate, and a south gate, an east gate, and a west gate, and each of the four gates was of sufficient width to allow a column of persons to pass out freely four abreast, and a pre-emptory necessity required the immediate evacuation of the city it could not be accomplished under four-and-twenty hours, by the expiration of which time had advanced a no less distance than seventy five miles from their respective gates, and the people being in close file four deep.—Cheshire's Results of the Census.

A Fine Old Irish Gentleman. "One of the ruddy old Irish" Dublin poet says—Owen Duffy of Monaghan county is 132 years old. When 116 he lost his second wife, and subsequently married a third, by whom he had a son and daughter. His youngest son is two years old, his eldest daughter is a fine young lady, and his son-in-law and his grandchild, in much vigor his mental and corporeal faculties, and frequently walks to the county town, a distance of eight miles."

Careful use of Horses. An acquaintance lost his horse a few days ago, in a manner that would suggest an habitual caution in driving. The horse, a valuable one, well kept, in good spirits, and in perfect health, was taken from the stable and driven. He had ascended a long and hard hill within the first mile of driving, and as soon as the summit was reached, the driver, as is the habit of many, touched him with the whip; he sprang, stopped, staggered and fell, and by the time the driver could alight from the carriage, he was dead. An examination showed that a large blood-vessel near the heart had been ruptured.—Farmer & Planter.

It is not perhaps generally known that one of the best articles that can be given to swine while in preparation for the tub, is common charcoal. The nutritive properties are so great that they have subsisted on it without other food for weeks together. Geese confined so as to deprive them of motion and fattened on three grains of corn per day, and as much coal as they can devour, have become fat in eight days. The hog eats voraciously after a little time, and is never sick while he has a good supply. It should always be kept in the sty and be fed to the inmates regularly like any other food.

PROFESSOR MOTT'S Celebrated Female Regulating Pills. These wonderful Pills are compounded entirely from the vegetable kingdom, and they are now recommended to the Female sex as an invaluable remedy for many complaints to which they are subject. In obstruction—either total or partial, they have been found of inestimable benefit for healthy action. The aperient stimulant and tonic properties are so admirably combined in the composition of these Pills, that they clear the Bowels from all corrupt and vitiated matter—rouse up the sluggish action of the Heart, Blood, and other fluids from all Humours—strengthen the nerves and muscles, and give tone and energy to the whole system.

These Pills will most effectually put to flight all complaints which may arise from Female Irregularities, such as Headache, Backache, Giddiness, and Dimness of Sight, Kinging in the Ears, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Pain in the Side and Chest, and general Lassitude and Debility. Thousands of Females who are fast approaching the verge of the grave, may be relieved by giving these Pills a thorough trial. They have never been known to fail in effectually removing the complaints above enumerated, and want only to be known and tried to satisfy the most incredulous of their intrinsic value.

DR. MARCHISI'S UTERINE CATHOLICON.

THE DISCOVERY OF THE ABOVE PREPARATION HAS ESTABLISHED A NEW ERA IN THE HISTORY OF THE HEALING ART, IN AS MUCH AS IT IS IN THE POSSESSION OF THE GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERERS OF THE AGE, because it will cure more numerous and more dangerous diseases incidentally to females in every stage of life, and which have heretofore resisted the best efforts of the Medical profession in all countries, to a degree beyond that of almost every other remedy to which any portion of the human family is heir. The diseases to which we refer are usually known by the term

FEMALE COMPLAINTS, and comprise all the derangements to which females are liable by the peculiarities of their organization. Among these are: PROLAPSE UTERI, or Falling of the Womb; CHRONIC INFLAMMATION and ULCERATION OF THE WOMB; DYSMENSTRUAL HÆMORRHOGE, or PAINFUL FLOW; ALBIDUS, or Whites; CHLOROSIS; PAINFUL SUPPRESSION and IRREGULAR MENSTRUATION, &c., with all their accompanying evils. (Careful attention to what is written in this pamphlet, and to the accompanying directions, will be of great service to all who are afflicted with any of the above complaints.) ALL THESE COMPLAINTS can be pleasantly, safely, and certainly remedied by this preparation.

THE CLAIMS OF THIS MEDICINE to the confidence of the public are strengthened by the fact of its having received the approbation of the highest authorities. MANY PROMINENT MEMBERS OF THE MEDICAL FACULTY in the United States, some of whom have voluntarily offered their names for publication in this pamphlet, sustaining all that is claimed for the Catholicon as a curative agent.

DEVINE'S Compound Pitch Lozenge. An appeal to matter of fact, and common sense. It is that which has so long been sought for, and is in full faith offered to the public as a CERTAIN CURE for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Costiveness, and Consumption, and will, in any case where lung sufficient are left to sustain life, check the ulceration, and raise the patient to health. This is not an idle boast, nor is this remedy sent into the market without a thorough trial; but has proved beyond a doubt that what has been asserted can be done. We do not ask you, readers, to take our word, but those who, but a few weeks ago had given up in despair and are now in the enjoyment of health, and without asking have given us their certificates in favor of this great remedy. Let all, then, who are afflicted, TRY IT, and if the assertion in each box is not proved after an impartial trial, the price will be returned; when the article is not perfectly satisfactory. If the Lozenge on being exposed to the air in hot weather should become soft, it is no objection, but rather goes to prove that they are in good condition.

Panariston Rolls are put up in a neat portable style suited to the most convenient use.

The following are a few from the many testimonials received:—Richard Pierpont says of the Shaving Soap, "it is unequalled as a preparation for the razor; by using it I have found" Dr. A. Hayes, State Assayer, says of the Cypherean Cream, "I have never met with any Soap Compound, which is so cleansing, so most delicate skin would, like this, leave it perfectly soft and healthy." Dr. Walter Channing says, "I have no memory of so good an article." Dr. Luther V. Bell, Superintendent of the Melrose Asylum, says, "It is superior to any other soap compound I have known." Hon. Horace Greely, of the N. Y. Trib. says, "we have tried it and found it perfect; no other soap is worthy of being mentioned the same." Dr. Bailey, editor of the National Era, says, "it is all I require, and I use it daily." Mr. S. W. Swasey, editor of the Pittsburgh Saturday Visitor, says, "it is superior to anything in the soap line, either for the face or hair." Mr. J. H. Abbott says, "the Cypherean Cream of Soap is probably the best for preserving the purity of the skin which has yet appeared in the New York Lottery." Dr. R. H. The Road to Health. A MOST MIRACULOUS CURE OF BAD LEGS. Extract of a Letter from Mr. William Galpin, of 70, St. Mary's Street, Weymouth, dated May 15th, 1851. To Professor HOLLOWAY, Sir—At the age of 18 my wife (who is now 61) caught a violent cold, which settled in her legs, and ever since that time they have been more or less sore, and greatly inflamed. Her agonies were distracting, and for months together she was deprived entirely of rest and sleep. Every remedy that medical men advised was tried, but without effect; her health suffered severely, and the state of her legs was terrible. Had I not read your Advertisement, and advised her to try your Pills and Ointment, and, as a last resource, after every other remedy had proved useless, she consented to do so. She commenced six weeks ago, and, strange to relate, is now in good health. Her legs are painless, without sores or scabs, and her sleep sound and undisturbed. Could you have witnessed the sufferings of my wife during the last 33 years, you would have been struck with the efficacy of your Pills and Ointment, and she informs me that after the first, and each succeeding dose, she had great relief. She continued to use them, and although she used only three Boxes, she is now in the enjoyment of perfect health. I could have sent you many more cases, but the above, from the severity of the attack, and the speed with which it was cured, is in favor of your astonishing Pills. (Signed) R. W. KIRKUS AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF RHEUMATIC FEVER, IN VAN DIEMEN'S LAND. Copy of a Letter inserted in the Hobart-Town Courier, of the 1st March, 1851, by Major J. Walsh.

Margaret M. Conning, nineteen years of age, residing in New Town, had been suffering from a violent rheumatic fever for upwards of two months, which had entirely deprived her of the use of her limbs; during this period she was under the care of the most eminent medical men in Hobart Town, and by them her case was considered hopeless. A friend prevailed upon her to try Holloway's celebrated Pills, which she consented to do, and in an incredible short space of time they effected a perfect cure. (Signed) HENRY COE. AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF THE GRAVEL, AND A MOST DANGEROUS FEVER COMPLAINT. Copy of a Letter addressed to J. K. Hooper, Esq., Sp. Med., New South Wales, dated Feb. 25th, 1851.

—Mr. Thomas Clark, a Sealer at Lake George was for a considerable time seriously afflicted with a Complaint of the Liver, together with the Gravel. His medical attendants, after trying all their skill, readily told him that his case was hopeless, and any further efforts would be in vain. In this situation, and when expecting every day would terminate his existence, a friend recommended him to try Holloway's Pills, and as a further hope he did so, the first gave him considerable relief, he therefore persevered in their use according to the directions, and is now cured of his illness. He will feel great pleasure in confirming this statement, or even make an affidavit to the same effect, should it be required. (Signed) WILLIAM JONES, Proprietor of the Goulburn Herald, New South Wales.

Persons suffering from Dropsy, either about the turn of life, or at other times, should immediately have recourse to these Pills, as hundreds of persons are annually cured by their use of this distressing complaint in its different stages, when all other means had failed.
